2016 SEASON IN REVIEW

PANTHERS FINISH 2016 WITH 6-10 RECORD

2016 PANTHERS NOTABLES

- Linebackers Thomas Davis and Luke Kuechly, tight end Greg Olsen and fullback Mike Tolbert – were selected to the 2017 Pro Bowl. A fifth player – guard Trai Turner – was named to the squad as an injury replacement. Kuechly and Olsen added second-team All-Pro honors.
- Greg Olsen was one of three finalists for the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year Award. Olsen is the Panthers second finalist for the award, joining linebacker Thomas Davis who was a finalist in 2013 and 2014, winning the award in 2014.
- Carolina finished second in the NFL with 47 sacks, including an NFL-leading 35 in the season's final 10 weeks.
- Defensive end Mario Addison led the Panthers with a career-high 9.5 sacks in 2016.
- Carolina finished the season with an NFC-leading 17 interceptions.
- Safety Kurt Coleman led the team with four interceptions and has 11 since the start of 2015, third-most in the NFL during that time.
- Carolina finished 2016 with 95 points off takeaways, the fourth-highest point total in the NFL.
- Carolina ranked second in the NFL in red zone defense (43.6 percent).
- Cornerback James Bradberry led the Panthers with 11 passes defensed becoming the first rookie to lead the team in passes defensed since Josh Norman (8) in 2012.
- Carolina finished 10th in the NFL in rushing offense as Jonathan Stewart ran for 824 yards pushing his career total to 6,638. He joins DeAngelo Williams as the only running backs in Panthers history with at least 6,000 rushing yards.
- Jonathan Stewart recorded a team-leading nine rushing touchdowns, his most since recording 10 rushing touchdowns in 2008 and 2009.
- With a team-leading 1,073 receiving yards in 2016, Greg Olsen became the first tight end in NFL history to record 1,000 yards in three consecutive seasons.
- Receiver Kelvin Benjamin returned from a knee injury that cost him the 2015 season to lead the Panthers with seven touchdown receptions.
- Wide receiver Ted Ginn, Jr. scored four touchdowns in 2016, all of at least 30 yards. Ginn recorded a touchdown of at least 40 yards in three consecutive games from Weeks Eleven to Thirteen.
- Quarterback Cam Newton has 184 total touchdowns and 25,338 combined passing and rushing yards in his career, the second-highest marks in NFL history through a player's first six seasons.
- Cam Newton reached 20,000 career passing yards in 2016, becoming the fifth youngest quarterback in NFL history to achieve the milestone (27 years, 186 days).
- The Panthers blocked an NFL-best three field goals in 2016, tying the franchise record set in 2003. Rookie defensive tackle Vernon Butler blocked two of the kicks and joins Julius Peppers as the only Panthers to block multiple kicks in a single season.
- Kicker Graham Gano scored 121 points in 2016 and has 549 for his Panthers career, passing wide receiver Steve Smith (454 from 2001-13) for the second-most in team history.

2017 DRAFT ORDER

The 82nd NFL Draft will be held April 27-29, 2017 along the Benjamin Franklin Parkway in Philadelphia.

The Draft, which was held in Chicago the previous two years, will once again be set in primetime for Rounds 1-3. Round 1 will take place on Thursday, April 27 while Rounds 2-3 will be held on Friday, April 28. The Draft will conclude on Saturday, April 29 with Rounds 4-7.

The Panthers (6-10) have the eighth overall pick in the Draft. This will be the third time Carolina has picked eighth overall. In 1996, the franchise drafted running back Tshimanga Biakabutuka. In 2003, the Panthers selected offensive tackle Jordan Gross.

The last time Carolina had a top-10 pick was 2012, when the team drafted linebacker Luke Kuechly at No. 9. The year before, Carolina selected quarterback Cam Newton with the No. 1 overall pick.

PAST 10 No. 8 OVERALL SELECTIONS

2016 Tennessee OT Jack Conklin Michigan State
Conklin started all 16 games in his rookie campaign earning first-team AP All-Pro honors, one of three rookies to make the team. His blocking efforts helped running back DeMarco Murray lead the AFC in rushing yards and the Titans allow just 28 sacks on the season.

2015 Atlanta LB Vic Beasley Clemson
A Pro Bowl selection after leading the NFL in sacks with 15.5 in 2016, Beasley has played in 32 career games with 28 starts. He led Atlanta with four sacks in 2015.

2014 Cleveland CB Justin Gilbert Oklahoma State
Has played 35 games in three seasons with Cleveland (2014-15) and Pittsburgh (2016). Tallied 36 tackles, nine passes defended and one interception return for a touchdown.

2013 St. Louis WR Tavon Austin West Virginia
Has played in 59 games with 41 starts, tallying 181 receptions for 1,642 yards and 12 touchdowns, and adding nine rushing touchdowns on 125 carries for 968 yards. Has three career punt return touchdowns and in his rookie season, he became the first player in NFL history with a 95-yard punt return for touchdown, 80-yard touchdown reception and 65-yard rushing score in the same season.

2012 Miami QB Ryan Tannehill Texas A&M
Has started all 77 career games played, completing 1,653-of-2,637 passes (62.7 percent) for 18,455 yards and 106 touchdowns. Holds the record for most consecutive pass completions in NFL history with 25.

2011 Tennessee QB Jake Locker Washington
Played in 30 career games with 23 starts in four seasons with Tennessee (2011-14) before retiring. Finished career completing 408-of-709 passes (57.5 percent) for 4,967 yards and 27 touchdowns and 22 interceptions.

2010 Oakland LB Rolando McClain Alabama
Started 61 of 65 career games in five seasons split with Oakland (2010-12) and Dallas (2014-15). Tallied 479 career tackles, 9.5 sacks and four interceptions, including one returned for a touchdown. Has not played since being suspended for violating the league's policy on substances of abuse in June 2016.

2009 Jacksonville OT Eugene Monroe Virginia
Played in 93 career games with 90 starts in his seven seasons with Jacksonville (2009-13) and Baltimore (2013-15).

2008 Jacksonville DE Derrick Harvey Florida
In four seasons with Jacksonville (2008-10) and Denver (2011), Harvey played in 52 games with 32 starts. Finished his career with 72 tackles, eight sacks, five passes defended and one interception.

2007 Atlanta DE Jamaal Anderson Arkansas
In six seasons with Atlanta (2007-10), Indianapolis (2011) and Cincinnati (2012), Anderson played in 77 career games with 48 starts and tallied 96 tackles, 7.5 sacks, 10 passes defended and a fumble recovery returned for a touchdown.

2017 OPPONENTS DETERMINED

The Panthers' opponents for the 2017 season have been finalized based on the regular season standings for 2016.

In addition to home and away games against NFC South foes Atlanta, New Orleans and Tampa Bay, Carolina will play all four teams from both the NFC North and the AFC East. The Panthers' remaining two intra-conference opponents are based on the 2016 standings. Carolina will host Philadelphia and play at San Francisco with all three teams finishing last in their respective divisions.

Dates and times will be announced by the NFL in the spring.

2017 OPPONENTS

HOME	AWAY
Atlanta Falcons (11-5)	Atlanta Falcons (11-5)
New Orleans Saints (7-9)	New Orleans Saints (7-9)
Tampa Bay Buccaneers (9-7)	Tampa Bay Buccaneers (9-7)

Buffalo Bills (7-9)	New England Patriots (14-2)
Miami Dolphins (10-6)	New York Jets (5-11)
Philadelphia Eagles (7-9)	San Francisco 49ers (2-14)

A few notes on Carolina's 2017 opponents:

- The Panthers are 10-14 all time against the AFC East and 19-25 against the NFC North.
- Carolina is 4-6 all time against the Eagles and 12-8 against the 49ers.
- Carolina is visiting the Patriots and the Jets for the first time since 2009. This is the first time the Panthers are hosting the Bills and Dolphins since 2009.
- Miami, Buffalo and Tennessee are the only teams the Panthers have never beaten at Bank of America Stadium. Carolina has previously hosted each twice.
- After making a team-record four West Coast trips in 2016, the Panthers travel to the West Coast just once (San Francisco).
- This is the first time the Seahawks aren't on the schedule since 2011.

FIVE PANTHERS NAMED TO PRO BOWL

Four Panthers players – tight end Greg Olsen, linebackers Luke Kuechly and Thomas Davis, and fullback Mike Tolbert – were selected to the 2017 Pro Bowl. A fifth player – guard Trai Turner – was named to the roster after Washington's Brandon Scherff was unable to participate due to injury.

All five players were selected to the Pro Bowl previously. This is the fourth consecutive selection for Kuechly (2013-16), the third consecutive selection for Olsen (2014-16) and the second consecutive selection for Davis (2015-16), Tolbert (2015-16) and Turner (2015-16). Tolbert was also named to the Pro Bowl squad in 2013.

Olsen, in his 10th NFL season and sixth with the Panthers, finished 2016 with a team-leading 80 receptions and 1,073 receiving yards to become the first tight end in NFL history with three consecutive 1,000-yard seasons. Olsen has registered at least 500 yards in eight of the past nine seasons (2008-09, 2011-16), and has at least 800 yards in each of the past five seasons. Olsen also notched the seventh 50-catch season of his career and his fourth consecutive 70-catch season.

Kuechly was credited with 112 tackles by Panthers coaches in just 10 games in 2016. He recorded eight double-digit tackle performances in those 10 games, including six consecutive to start the season. Kuechly added two sacks, six quarterback pressures, an interception and six passes defended for a defensive unit that finished the season tied for fourth in the NFL with 17 interceptions and ranked second in the League with 47 sacks. In five NFL seasons, all with the Panthers, Kuechly has been credited with 796 tackles, the third-most in team history.

Davis, who has spent his entire 12-year career with the Panthers, finished 2016 with a team-leading 132 tackles, his fifth consecutive with at least 100 tackles. Davis was also credited with 2.5 sacks, eight quarterback pressures, three interceptions, two passes defended, a forced fumble and two fumble recoveries, including one he returned for a touchdown. Davis is the team's all-time leading tackler with 1,086 stops.

A nine-year NFL veteran, Tolbert is in his fifth season with the Panthers. He has made the Pro Bowl in three of the past four seasons. Tolbert has contributed 19 total touchdowns in his time with the Panthers. His blocking efforts helped running back Jonathan Stewart score nine rushing touchdowns in 2016, Stewart's most since he tallied 10 touchdowns in back-to-back seasons in 2008 and 2009.

Turner, a third-round draft choice in 2014, was one three Panthers offensive linemen to start all 16 games in 2016, including three at right tackle after injuries to tackles Michael Oher and Daryl Williams caused a shakeup at the position. Turner helped open running lanes for the League's 10th-ranked rushing offense this season.

The AFC defeated the NFC, 20-13, in the 2017 Pro Bowl at Camping World Stadium in Orlando, Fla., on Jan. 29. Olsen, Tolbert and Davis started the game for the NFC while Turner entered the game later in the first quarter. Kuechly did not attend the game. Olsen finished the game with two receptions for 26 yards while Tolbert rushed once for three yards and recorded two catches for five yards. Defensively, Davis, who was named a team captain for the NFC, recorded six tackles, the second-most by an NFC player.

The Pro Bowl featured a return to the traditional AFC vs. NFC game format following three years using a revised, "unconferenced" format. The 88 players – 44 from the AFC and 44 from the NFC – were determined by the consensus votes of fans, players and coaches.

OLSEN NAMED NFL MAN OF THE YEAR FINALIST

Greg Olsen

Carolina Panthers tight end Greg Olsen was one of three players selected as finalists for the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year, joining Larry Fitzgerald and Eli Manning. The Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year Award presented by Nationwide recognizes an NFL player for his excellence on and off the field. Olsen was named a finalist for the award after being the Panthers nominee for a second consecutive year.

The award, which was established in 1970 and renamed in 1999 after the late Hall of Fame Chicago Bears running back, Walter Payton, is considered the league's most prestigious honor. Each team nominates one player who has had a significant positive impact on his community to be considered for the national award.

Olsen, Fitzgerald and Manning were selected as finalists from a pool of 32 nominees, one from each NFL team, and Fitzgerald and Manning were announced as the co-winners of the award in Houston at NFL Honors the night before Super Bowl LI.

In 2009, after watching his mother tackle and survive breast cancer, Olsen founded Receptions for Research: The Greg Olsen Foundation. Greg's mission through the foundation is to ensure that everyone has a "second chance at life," like his mother. The foundation's Receiving Hope program focuses on cancer research, support and education programming. The program has distributed over $520,000 to six hospitals and foundations since 2009.

In early 2013, Olsen and his wife Kara founded the HEARTest Yard Fund after a routine examination of their unborn son, T.J., revealed the infant had Hypoplastic Left Heart Syndrome (HLHS), a congenital defect marked by an underdeveloped left ventricle and aorta. The HEARTest Yard Fund is a family service program administered in conjunction with Levine Children's Hospital in Charlotte. Since its inception, the fund has distributed nearly $1.25 million to support families' of babies affected by congenital heart disease.

On the field, Greg Olsen is one of the Carolina Panthers' best players. A four-time team captain and three-time Pro Bowler, Olsen ranks in the top 10 all-time among NFL tight ends in receptions (622) and receiving yards (7,365) and is approaching the top 10 in receiving touchdowns (52).

COLEMAN WINS GOOD GUY AWARD

Kurt Coleman

Carolina Panthers safety Kurt Coleman is the 2016 winner of the Tom Berry Good Guy Award, which annually honors the Panthers player who was most helpful to the media.

The Good Guy award, presented by the Carolinas chapter of the Pro Football Writers of America, is named for a long-time columnist and Panthers beat writer for the High Point (N.C.) Enterprise who died at the start of the 2009 season.

TOM BERRY GOOD GUY AWARD WINNERS

2016 – Kurt Coleman

2015 – Josh Norman

2014 – Mike Tolbert

2013 – Greg Olsen

2012 – James Anderson

2011 – Captain Munnerylyn

2010 – Jordan Gross

2009 – Brad Hoover

KUECHLY WINS ED BLOCK COURAGE AWARD

Luke Kuechly

Linebacker Luke Kuechly is the Carolina Panthers 2016 Ed Block Courage Award winner. Kuechly was given the award for the resolve shown playing through a 2015 shoulder injury that required offseason surgery. Kuechly continued to practice and play through the injury, and was a leader for the Panthers on the team's run to Super Bowl 50.

In the regular season, Kuechly led the team with 137 tackles, his fourth consecutive season with more than 100 tackles, and tied his career high with four interceptions, including one returned for a touchdown. Kuechly was a key member of a unit that finished in the top 10 in the NFL in total defense for the fourth consecutive year, and his play helped Carolina lead the NFL in interceptions (24), take-aways (39), points off turnovers (148) and turnover differential (+20).

In the playoffs, Kuechly recorded a team-leading 27 tackles and became the first linebacker in the Super Bowl era with multiple interception return touchdowns in a single postseason.

Following offseason shoulder surgery, Kuechly returned to the field in 2016 and earned his fourth consecutive Pro Bowl selection after producing his fifth consecutive season of at least 100 tackles.

Off the field, Kuechly is an ambassador for Project Life, a national nonprofit that registers college students for bone marrow and tissue donation, and has made appearances at events benefiting St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. He is also active in supporting many of the charitable foundations operated by his Carolina Panthers teammates.

2016 ROOKIE REVIEW

Six rookies took the field for the Carolina Panthers in 2016. Here is a look at how each player performed.

CB James Bradberry (Second Round, 62nd overall; Samford) – Started each of his 13 games played, finishing with 60 tackles, 11 passes defended and two interceptions. He was the first rookie to lead Carolina in passes defended since Josh Norman (8) in 2012. Bradberry recorded his first career interception in Week Two vs. San Francisco (9/18/16) and then added a second interception in the regular season finale at Tampa Bay (1/1/17).

DT Vernon Butler (First Round, 30th overall; Louisiana Tech) – Played in 10 games during his rookie campaign. He finished the season with 11 tackles, 1.5 sacks, four quarterback pressures, two passes defended, two blocked field goals and one fumble recovery. Butler notched his first career sack in the first quarter of the season opener at Denver (9/8/16). He joined Julius Peppers the only players in Panthers history to record multiple blocked field goals in the same season after blocking kicks in Week Eleven vs. New Orleans (11/17/16) and Week Sixteen vs. Atlanta (12/24/16).

LB Jeremy Cash (Undrafted; Duke) – Played in eight games on special teams. He recorded six special teams tackles on the year, tying for the third-most on the team.

LB Jared Norris (Undrafted; Utah) – Played in 13 games as a special teams contributor. He finished tied for third on the team with six special teams tackles.

CB Zack Sanchez (Fifth Round, 141st overall; Oklahoma) – Played in five games with one start. He finished 2016 with seven tackles and one special teams tackle before being placed on injured reserve with a groin injury (11/25/16). Sanchez made his first career start in Week Six at New Orleans (10/16/16).

CB Daryl Worley (Third Round, 77th overall; West Virginia) – Played in all 16 games in 2016, starting 11 contests. Finished the year with 81 tackles, 10 passes defended, one interception and one sack. His 10 passes defended were the second-most on the team behind fellow rookie James Bradberry. He notched his first-career interception in Week Fourteen vs. San Diego (12/11/16), picking off Philip Rivers and then returning the ball 22 yards. Worley also recorded a sack in Week Eight vs. Arizona (10/30/16).

FOR STARTERS

In Week Six at New Orleans (10/16/16), center Ryan Kalil and linebacker Thomas Davis earned the 121st starts of their careers, breaking a tie with Julius Peppers (120) for the fifth-most starts in franchise history.

Davis, a first-round draft choice in 2005, started all 16 games in 2016, finishing with 131 career starts. Kalil, a second-round draft choice in 2007, started eight games in 2016 before a shoulder injury ended his season, finishing with 123 career starts.

Davis and Kalil trail only Jordan Gross (167), Steve Smith (161), Muhsin Muhammad (141) and Mike Minter (141) in career regular season starts as Panthers.

OFFENSIVE EXPLOSION IN WEEK TWO

In Week Two vs. San Francisco (9/18/16), Carolina gained 529 total net yards and scored 46 points, both the third-highest regular season marks for a single game in team history.

For the first time in franchise history, the Panthers finished a game with 100 yards receiving by two players (Greg Olsen – 122 and Kelvin Benjamin – 108), 100 yards rushing by a player (Fozzy Whittaker – 100) and 300 yards passing by a player (Cam Newton – 353).

Olsen and Benjamin were the first pair of 100-yard receivers since the duo accomplished the feat in 2014 vs. Tampa Bay (12/14/14).

Tight end Greg Olsen was one of two 100-yard receivers for the Panthers against San Francisco (9/18/16).

LONG DRIVES

The Panthers offense produced a 20-play drive in the third quarter of the Week Ten game vs. Kansas City (11/13/16). The 20 plays are the most in a drive in team history. The 20-play, 10:29 drive of 56 yards ended with a punt.

In the second quarter of Week One at Denver (9/8/16), Carolina produced an 18-play, 87-yard touchdown drive. The 18-play drive equals the third-longest drive in team history, previously accomplished three times, most recently versus Tampa Bay (9/26/10). The second-most plays in a single drive is 19 at New Orleans (11/8/09).

GROUND AND POUND

Carolina's streak of 30 consecutive regular season games with at least 100 rushing yards ended in Week Four at Atlanta (10/2/16) as the Panthers were held to 49 yards on the ground. The streak was previously the longest active in the NFL, dating to Week Six of 2014 at Cincinnati (10/12/14) and is the longest in team history, surpassing the 14 game stretch from Week Three of 2011 vs. Jacksonville (9/25/11) to Week Seventeen of 2011 at New Orleans (1/1/12).

Prior to Carolina, the last team with 100 or more yards rushing in 30 or more consecutive regular season games was the Pittsburgh Steelers (43 from 1974-77 seasons).

Carolina finished 2016, rushing for at least 100 yards in 11 of 16 games. Since the start of the 2013 season, Carolina has rushed for 100 or more yards in 53 of its 64 regular season games.

LINE SHUFFLE

In 2016, Carolina had to do a good amount of shuffling on the offensive line as only one lineman – left guard Andrew Norwell – started all 16 games at the position in which he opened the season.

Left tackle Michael Oher started the first three games of the season before a concussion forced right tackle Mike Remmers to shift to left tackle for the final 13 games of the season.

The center position was also juggled as a shoulder injury limited former All-Pro and Pro Bowl center Ryan Kalil to eight games and Kalil's primary backup Gino Gradkowski filled in for three games before a knee injury ended his season. The Panthers turned to first-year center Tyler Larsen who started the final five games of the season.

Right guard was affected when Trai Turner was forced to move to right tackle in Weeks Thirteen to Fifteen in place of an injured Daryl Williams who was the team's right tackle after Remmers moved to the left side.

In all, Carolina started five different offensive line groups in 2016, and the offensive linemen who started Week One missed 21 games. All told, the five starting spots on the line were filled 37 times (out of a possible 80) by players not forecast to start in those spots.

STEWART REACHES 6,000

In Week Eight vs. Arizona (10/30/16), running back Jonathan Stewart surpassed the 6,000 career rushing yards mark.

Stewart (6,638) joins DeAngelo Williams (6,846 from 2006-14) as the only backs in team history with at least 6,000 rushing yards.

Stewart missed three games in 2016 due to a hamstring injury, but rushed for 824 yards and finished the season just 208 yards behind Williams for the team's all-time mark.

With 95 rushing yards in Week Eight vs. Arizona (10/30/16), running back Jonathan Stewart surpassed the 6,000 career rushing yards mark.

ARTIS-PAYNE POSTS MULTI-TD GAME

Second-year running back Cameron Artis-Payne rushed for two touchdowns in Week Five vs. Tampa Bay (10/10/16). It was the first multi-touchdown game of his career.

Artis-Payne joins Cam Newton and Jonathan Stewart as the only Panthers since the start of 2013 to produce at least one game with multiple rushing touchdowns.

CENTURY MARK FOR STEWART

In Week Fifteen at Washington (12/19/16), running back Jonathan Stewart rushed for a season-high 132 yards, the 14th career 100-yard rushing game in the regular season for Stewart. Stewart's 14 100-yard rushing games are the second-most in team history behind DeAngelo Williams' 18 from 2006-14.

The 132 yards against Washington are the fifth-most of Stewart's career and his most since he rushed for 155 at New Orleans (12/7/14).

BENJAMIN RETURNS TO ACTION

Following a knee injury in 2015 that cost him the entire season, wide receiver Kelvin Benjamin returned to the field in 2016 and played in all 16 games with 13 starts. He totaled a team-leading seven touchdown catches on 63 receptions for 941 yards.

In 2014, Benjamin ranked third among NFL rookies with 1,008 receiving yards, 73 receptions and nine receiving touchdowns. Fifty of Benjamin's 73 catches resulted in first downs, second among rookies to only New York Giants receiver Odell Beckham, Jr. (57).

That season Benjamin and tight end Greg Olsen finished the year tied for the team lead with 1,008 receiving yards, becoming the first pair of Panthers to each gain 1,000 receiving yards in a single season since Muhsin Muhammad and Patrick Jeffers in 1999.

Benjamin's numbers are the best by a rookie in Panthers history, surpassing Keary Colbert's numbers in 2004 (47 for 754 and five).

Kelvin Benjamin hauls in one of his seven touchdowns of the 2016 season vs. Atlanta (12/24/16).

CENTURY MARK FOR BENJAMIN

In Week Two vs. San Francisco (9/18/16), wide receiver Kelvin Benjamin reached the 100-yard mark for the fourth time in his career. Benjamin totaled 108 yards on seven receptions and scored two touchdowns. The 108 yards are the third-most of his career.

It was the third two-touchdown game (including the playoffs) of Benjamin's career. He previously scored multiple touchdowns at Philadelphia (11/10/14) and at Seattle (1/10/15).

GINN GOES DEEP

Wide receiver Ted Ginn, Jr. scored four touchdowns in 2016, all of at least 30 yards. Ginn recorded a touchdown of at least 40 yards in three consecutive games from Weeks Eleven to Thirteen.

In Week Thirteen at Seattle (12/4/16), Ginn hauled in a 55-yard touchdown reception in the second quarter. Previously, Ginn recorded a 40-yard touchdown vs. New Orleans (11/17/16), and a career-long 88-yard touchdown (tied for the third-longest in team history) at Oakland (11/27/16). The 88-yard reception was the third-longest in the NFL in 2016.

Ginn, who has an 87-yard punt-return touchdown and three kickoff-return touchdowns of at least 100 yards in his career, is the fourth player in NFL history to have a receiving touchdown, punt-return touchdown and kickoff-return touchdown of at least 85 yards each in his career, joining Robert Brooks, Steve Odom and Eddie Royal.

Twelve of Ginn's 19 touchdown catches in three seasons (2013, 2014-15) with Carolina have gone for 25 or more yards, including eight of 40 or more yards.

In 47 career games with Carolina, Ginn has 19 touchdown catches. In 104 career games with other teams, Ginn totaled six touchdown catches.

OLSEN AMONG ALL-TIME TE LEADERS

With 622 receptions, 7,365 receiving yards and 52 touchdown receptions in his career, tight end Greg Olsen ranks in the top 10 all-time among NFL tight ends in receptions and receiving yards and is approaching the top 10 in receiving touchdowns.

In Week One at Denver (9/8/16), Olsen passed Steve Jordan (6,307 from 1982-94) for 10th place in NFL history for receiving yards among tight ends and passed Heath Miller (6,569 from 2005-15) for ninth in Week Four at Atlanta (10/2/16). In Week Five vs. Tampa Bay (10/10/16), Olsen passed Kellen Winslow (6,741 from 1979-87) for eighth.

Also in Week One at Denver, Olsen passed Jeremy Shockey (547 from 2002-11) for seventh place all-time in NFL history for receptions among tight ends. In Week Eleven vs. New Orleans (11/17/16), Olsen broke a tie with Miller (592) for sixth all-time.

Olsen is tied for 11th among NFL tight ends with 52 career touchdown receptions. Olsen needs one more touchdown catch to tie Dallas Clark (53 from 2003-13) for 10th all-time.

Tight end Greg Olsen's 181 yards in Week Five vs. Tampa Bay (10/10/16) helped him pass Kellen Winslow (1979-87) for eighth all-time in receiving yards among NFL tight ends.

GINN GOES FOR 100

In Week Twelve at Oakland, wide receiver Ted Ginn, Jr. tallied 115 receiving yards, the fourth regular season game of his career with 100-plus receiving yards. Ginn also recorded a 100-yard game in the 2013 postseason.

Against Oakland, Ginn hauled in a career-long 88-yard touchdown reception, surpassing his previous career-long of 74 yards vs. Atlanta (12/13/15).

OLSEN AT 1,000 FOR THIRD STRAIGHT YEAR

With a team-leading 1,073 receiving yards in 2016, tight end Greg Olsen is the first tight end in NFL history to record 1,000 yards in three consecutive seasons.

Olsen has registered at least 500 yards in eight of the past nine seasons (2008-09, 2011-16), and has at least 800 yards in each of the past five seasons. The last tight end with five or more consecutive seasons with at least 800 yards was Jason Witten, who recorded seven straight from 2007 to 2013.

Olsen has also notched the seventh 50-catch season of his career and his fourth consecutive 70-catch season. The last tight end with at least 70 catches in four consecutive seasons was Jimmy Graham from 2011-2014.

Olsen owns the top five single-season reception totals and four of the top five single-season receiving yards totals by a tight end in team history.

OLSEN A CONSISTENT PRESENCE

Greg Olsen

Tight end Greg Olsen has been a consistent presence in NFL lineups since his rookie year in 2007. Olsen has played in 158 consecutive regular season games, the second-longest streak among active tight ends behind Dallas' Jason Witten (219).

A first-round choice (31st overall) by Chicago in 2007, Olsen missed the first two games of that season with a knee injury sustained in the preseason. He made his NFL debut vs. Dallas (9/23/07) and has not missed a game since.

OLSEN GOES FOR CAREER-HIGH 181 VS. BUCS

In Week Five vs. Tampa Bay (10/10/16), tight end Greg Olsen totaled a career-high 181 receiving yards.

The 181 surpassed his previous career high of 134 established vs. New Orleans (9/27/15) and is the highest yardage total by a tight end in Panthers history, and tied for the sixth-highest among all players (including the postseason). Olsen is just the third player in franchise history to total 180 or more receiving yards in a single game, joining Steve Smith and Muhsin Muhammad.

Newton is the only player to lead a current NFL franchise in both career touchdown passes (136) and career rushing touchdowns (48).

In Week One at Denver (9/8/16), Newton produced his 32nd game with both a passing and rushing touchdown, breaking a tie with Pro Football Hall of Famer Steve Young for the most in NFL history. He produced his 33rd such game in Week Six at New Orleans (10/16/16), his 34th in Week Ten vs. Kansas City (11/13/16) and his 35th in Week Twelve at Oakland (11/27/16).

Newton has 21,772 passing yards and 3,566 rushing yards in his career and is the only player in NFL history to have at least 20,000 passing yards and 3,000 rushing yards in his first six seasons.

Newton ranks second in NFL history in combined rushing and passing yards through a player's first six seasons, passing Matthew Stafford (22,199) and Drew Bledsoe (22,257) in Week Three vs. Minnesota (9/25/16), Dan Marino (23,845) in Week Eleven vs. New Orleans (11/17/16) and Matt Ryan (24,027) in Week Twelve at Oakland (11/27/16).

Newton is one of just three players in NFL history, along with Peyton Manning of the Indianapolis Colts from 1998-2003 and Andy Dalton of the Cincinnati Bengals from 2011-16, to have at least 3,000 passing yards in each of their first six seasons.

Newton has rushed for at least 500 yards in five of his six NFL seasons and joins Randall Cunningham and Michael Vick (six each) as the only quarterbacks with five or more 500-yard rushing seasons in a career. He is the only player in NFL history to have five seasons with 3,000 or more passing yards and 500 or more rushing yards at any point in a career.

NEWTON AMONG YOUNGEST TO REACH 20,000

With 261 passing yards in Week Ten vs. Kansas City (11/13/16), quarterback Cam Newton reached the 20,000 career passing yards milestone.

Newton is the fifth youngest quarterback to reach 20,000 passing yards (27 years, 186 days) in NFL history.

He led the NFL in rushing first down percentage in each of his first five seasons (2011-15), including a career-high mark of 43.69 percent (45-of-103) in 2014.

NEWTON AMONG PANTHERS ALL-TIME LEADERS

Quarterback Cam Newton has continued to move up the Panthers all-time passing lists. In Week Two vs. San Francisco (9/18/16), Newton established new team records for passing touchdowns and 300-yard passing games, previously held by Jake Delhomme (2003-09).

In Week Six at New Orleans (10/16/16), Newton established a new franchise record for career passing yards, surpassing Delhomme's old record of 19,258.

In Week Ten vs. Kansas City (11/13/16), Newton established new franchise marks for attempts and completions surpassing Delhomme's marks of 2,669 attempts and 1,580 completions.

Newton is the Panthers' all-time record holder in passing yards (21,772), passing touchdowns (136), pass attempts (2,928), pass completions (1,710) and 300-yard passing games (14).

ROOKIE CORNERS STEP UP

In the 2016 NFL Draft, Carolina selected cornerbacks James Bradberry and Daryl Worley in the second and third rounds. The rookie duo started eight games in 2016 and their presence in the lineup made a difference.

Opponents passing statistics dropped in major categories when Bradberry and Worley were in the starting lineup together versus games they did not start together.

In his past 76 games, all starts, beginning in Week Five of 2012 vs. Seattle (10/7/12), Davis has averaged 8.49 tackles (645 tackles). He has 26 double-digit tackle games in that span, including five in 2016.

Davis has averaged 130 tackles per season over the last five seasons (653 from 2012-16), including a career-high 151 in 2013.

In addition to leading the team in tackles in 2016, Davis added 2.5 sacks, two passes defensed, three interceptions, one forced fumble and two fumble recoveries, including one he returned 46 yards for his first career touchdown vs. Arizona (10/30/16).

Linebacker Thomas Davis has averaged 130 tackles per season in the last five years and is the Panthers all-time leader with 1,086 tackles.

KUECHLY IS A TACKLING MACHINE

Since entering the NFL in 2012, press box crews have credited linebacker Luke Kuechly with 693 tackles, the most in the NFL.

In 2016, Kuechly missed six games, but was credited with 102 tackles according to press box statistics. Despite missing three games in 2015, Kuechly finished 12th in the NFL with 118 tackles. He led the NFL in tackles in 2012 and 2014. In 2012, he became the first rookie since San Francisco's Patrick Willis in 2007 to lead the NFL in tackles. He finished fourth in 2013 with 156.

After film review, Panthers' coaches have credited Kuechly with 796 career tackles, the third-most in team history.

Kuechly has racked up his tackle totals by owning three of the top five single-season tackle totals in team history, including a team-record 205 stops as a rookie in 2012. Kuechly led the team in tackles in each of his first four seasons (2012-15).

THOMPSON PRODUCES IN 2ND SEASON

In 2016, second-year linebacker Shaq Thompson notched career highs in starts (12), tackles (70) and fumble recoveries (2), including one returned for a touchdown, and notched the first interception of his career.

Despite missing two games due to a knee injury, Thompson's 70 tackles ranked fifth on the team. Thompson established a single-game career high with 11 tackles in Week Six at New Orleans (10/16/16), and matched the number in Week Sixteen vs. Atlanta (12/24/16).

Thompson's impact was felt with two splash plays as he scored his first-career touchdown in the Panthers 46-27 victory Week Two vs. San Francisco (9/18/16), returning a Carlos Hyde fumble nine yards to the end zone. Later in the season, in Week Fourteen vs. San Diego (12/11/16), Thompson recorded his first career interception, picking off a Philip Rivers pass in the fourth quarter that helped the Panthers maintain a 10-point lead in a game the team won 28-16.

Defensive tackle Star Lotulelei earned his first career NFC Defensive Player of the Week Award for his performance in Week Eight vs. Arizona (11/6/16).

Against the Cardinals, Lotulelei recorded a career-high 3.0 sacks. The 3.0 sacks matched Lotulelei's previous career high for a single season set in 2013, his rookie season.

Lotulelei's first sack of the game came on Arizona's first drive and was a strip-sack that resulted in a 46-yard touchdown return by linebacker Thomas Davis.

Lotulelei's three sacks were part of an eight-sack performance by Carolina. The eight sacks are the second-most in a regular season game in Panthers history.

Lotulelei also contributed to a defense that limited Arizona running back David Johnson to 24 rushing yards. Johnson entered the game with three consecutive 100-yard rushing games.

Lotulelei is the second defensive tackle in franchise history to win a Defensive Player of the Week Award, joining Kawann Short in 2015.

Charles Johnson	67.5	2007-16
Mike Rucker	55.5	1999-2007
Kevin Greene	41.5	1996, 1998-99

Defensive end Charles Johnson ranks second in Panthers history with 67.5 career sacks, trailing only Julius Peppers (81.0, 2002-09).

DEFENSIVE LINE AT ITS BEST UNDER WASHINGTON

Defensive line coach Eric Washington has gotten the most out of his charges in his six seasons with the Carolina Panthers. In the past five seasons (2012-16), Washington, with the help of assistant defensive line coach Sam Mills III, have overseen one of the most productive defensive lines in the NFL.

Since 2012, no group of defensive linemen have produced more sacks than Carolina's 176.0.

NFL TEAM LEADERS / SACKS BY DEFENSIVE LINEMEN / 2012-16

Team	Sacks
Carolina	176.0
Los Angeles	173.0
Minnesota	164.0
Cincinnati	154.5
Miami	149.0

The defensive line's 176.0 sacks are part of an NFL-leading 230 total sacks by Carolina since 2012.

NFL TEAM LEADERS / SACKS / 2012-16

Team	Sacks
Carolina	230.0
Denver	228.0
Los Angeles	217.0
Green Bay	215.0
Minnesota	210.0

Carolina has ranked in the top 10 in sacks in four of the past five seasons, including a No. 1 ranking in 2013 and a No. 2 ranking in 2016.

CAROLINA'S SACK TOTALS / 2012-16

Season	Sacks (NFL Rank)
2012	39.0 (9th)
2013	60.0 (1st)
2014	40.0 (13th)
2015	44.0 (6th)
2016	47.0 (2nd)

The 60 sacks in 2013 tied the Panthers franchise record set in 1996 and were the most by a team in a single season since San Diego had 61 in 2006.

Washington's defensive line has not only been productive in getting to the quarterback, but also at stopping the run. Carolina's run defense, has ranked in the top six in the NFL in three of the past five seasons.

CAROLINA'S RUN DEFENSE RANKINGS / 2012-16

Season	Yards/Game Allowed (NFL Rank)
2012	110.1 (14th)
2013	86.9 (2nd)
2014	112.0 (16th)
2015	88.4 (4th)
2016	91.6 (6th)

The consistent ranking among the NFL leaders each year has resulted in Carolina allowing 128.1 rushing yards per game in the past five seasons, fourth in the NFL.

Washington's teaching has been recognized in the form of in-season and postseason honors for his pupils.

In 2013, defensive end Greg Hardy earned All-Pro and Pro Bowl honors while defensive tackles Star Lotulelei and Kawann Short earned PFWA All-Rookie honors. Defensive end Kony Ealy was a PFWA All-Rookie choice in 2014, and in 2015, Short earned All-Pro and Pro Bowl honors.

Since 2013, a Panthers defensive lineman has earned NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors four times. Hardy was recognized twice in 2013 (Week Three and Week Seventeen). Short and Lotulelei are the only defensive tackles in Panthers history to earn NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors as Short was recognized in Week Six of 2015 and Lotulelei received recognition in Week Eight of 2016.

Short also has two NFC Defensive Player of the Month awards on his resume, earning the recognition in October and December of 2015. Short is the first player in franchise history to win multiple Player of the Month Awards in a single season and the first defensive tackle in the NFL to win multiple Player of the Month Awards in a single season.

GANO MOVES UP PANTHERS SCORING LIST

In Week Three vs. Minnesota (9/25/16), kicker Graham Gano scored four points to pass wide receiver Steve Smith (454 from 2001-13) for second on the franchise's all-time points scored list. Gano has 545 points in his Panthers career (2012-present). John Kasay (1,482 from 1995-2010) is the franchise's all-time leader.

CAROLINA PANTHERS CAREER LEADERS, POINTS SCORED

Player	Points	Seasons
John Kasay, K	1,482	1995-2010
Graham Gano, K	549	2012-16
Steve Smith, WR	454	2001-13
DeAngelo Williams, RB	322	2006-14
Jonathan Stewart, RB	306	2008-16

Gano finished the season with 121 points (30 FG, 31 PAT), his fourth consecutive season with at least 100 points (including a team-record 146 in 2015).

In Week Two vs. San Francisco (9/18/16), Gano set a career high with 16 points by converting all four field goal attempts and four of five PATs (one was blocked).

He produced a streak of 13 consecutive made field goals beginning in Week Nine at Los Angeles (11/6/16) before missing a 38-yard attempt in Week Fifteen at Washington (12/19/16).

Kicker Graham Gano set a career high with 16 points in Week Two vs. San Francisco (9/18/16).

GANO IS A FIELD POSITION WEAPON

In addition to his field goal abilities, kicker Graham Gano has been important in the field position game. Since the start of 2013, Gano leads the NFL with a 74.2 touchback percentage.

2013-16 NFL LEADERS, TOUCHBACK PERCENTAGE

Player	TB%	KO	TB
Graham Gano, Car.	74.2	345	256
Brandon McManus, Den.	69.3	244	169
Justin Tucker, Bal.	68.0	319	217

In 2016, Gano ranked third in the NFL with 74.1 percent of his kickoffs (63-of-85) resulting in touchbacks.

In 2014, Gano placed 61 of his 79 kickoffs resulted in touchbacks. The 77.2 percent touchback rate was best in the League and his 61 kickoffs were the most in the NFC.

In 2013, 63 of Gano's 79 kickoffs resulted in touchbacks. His 79.7 touchback percentage was the top mark in the NFL and the highest percentage in a season since Brad Daluiso in 1992 (81.3 percent).

LEE IMPRESSIVE IN LIMITED ACTION

On Aug. 30, Carolina acquired punter Andy Lee in a trade with the Cleveland Browns, and in his first game as a Panther in Week One at Denver (9/8/16), Lee established a Panthers single-game record with a 63.0-yard gross average and also recorded the longest punt in team history, a 76-yarder.

PANTHERS SINGLE-GAME GROSS PUNTING AVERAGE LEADERS

Avg.	Player	Game
63.00	Andy Lee	@ Den. 9/8/16 (4-252)
56.71	Brad Nortman	@ Mia. 11/24/13 (7-397)

72	Brad Nortman	@ Mia. 11/24/13
72	Todd Sauerbrun	@ Was. 10/21/01

A four-time All-Pro (2007, 2009, 2011, 2012) and a three-time Pro Bowler (2007, 2009, 2011), Lee was effective for the Panthers before his season was cut short after suffering a hamstring injury in Week Ten vs. Kansas City (11/13/16).

At the time of his injury, Lee was among the NFL leaders, ranking fourth with a 49.1-yard gross average and tied for seventh with 18 punts inside the 20.

Lee ranks ninth all-time in gross punting average (46.3), 12th all-time in net average (39.5) and tied for eighth all-time in punts inside the 20 (343) in NFL history.

Punter Andy Lee established a Panthers single-game record for gross punting average (63.0) in Week One at Denver (9/8/16), his first game with the team.

COVERING KICKOFFS

Carolina limited opponents to an 18.1-yard average kickoff return in 2016, the top mark in the NFL.

2016 NFL LEADERS, OPPONENT KICKOFF RETURN AVERAGE

PALARDY PUNTS IN FINAL 7 GAMES

First-year punter Michael Palardy joined the Panthers on Nov. 14 after Andy Lee was placed on injured reserve with a hamstring injury.

At the time of his injury, Lee was among the NFL leaders, ranking fourth with a 49.1-yard gross average and tied for seventh with 18 punts inside the 20.

Palardy was a capable replacement, making his debut in Week Eleven vs. New Orleans (11/17/16). He produced a career-high 46.7-yard gross average in each of his first two games vs. New Orleans and in Week Twelve at Oakland (11/27/16).

In the final seven weeks of the season, Palardy recorded a 42.5-yard gross average and tied for 12th in the NFL with 13 punts inside the 20. In Week Fourteen vs. San Diego (12/11/16), Palardy recorded a career-high 42.6-yard net average and placed two punts inside the 20-yard line, including one in the fourth quarter that was downed at the 3-yard line.

Palardy, 5-11 and 190 pounds, spent a portion of the offseason with the Panthers, originally signing with the team on April 5. He was waived on June 8. During the regular season, Palardy was a member of the Cleveland and Atlanta practice squads before rejoining the Panthers.

Palardy attended training camp with the Oakland Raiders in 2014 and spent the final regular season game on the Raiders practice squad. He was in training camp with the St. Louis Rams in 2015.

Michael Palardy served as the Panthers punter for the final seven weeks of the season, producing a 42.5-yard gross average and placing 13 punts inside the 20.

GANO FILLS IN AT PUNTER

When Carolina punter Andy Lee suffered a hamstring injury in Week Ten vs. Kansas City (11/13/16), kicker Graham Gano stepped in at punter. He averaged 45.0 yards on four punts with a long of 54 yards.

It was Gano's second appearance as a punter during his NFL career. He previously punted in Week Three of 2010 as a member of the Washington Redskins at St. Louis (9/26/10).

In college at Florida State, Gano served as a place-kicker and punter. He finished his career at Florida State with 148 punts for a 42.1-yard average and a long of 64 yards.

Kicker Graham Gano was called upon to punt in Week Ten vs. Kansas City (11/13/16) after punter Andy Lee suffered a hamstring injury.

BLOCK PARTY FOR BUTLER

Vernon Butler

First-round draft choice Vernon Butler blocked two field goals in 2016 becoming just the second player in Panthers history to record multiple blocked field goals in the same season. Butler joins Julius Peppers who blocked two kicks in both the 2006 and 2007 seasons.

With the two blocks in 2016, Butler already ranks third in team history in career blocked field goals. Butler's blocks came in Week Eleven vs. New Orleans (11/17/16) and in Week Sixteen contest vs. Atlanta (12/24/16).

In Week Seventeen at Tampa Bay (1/1/17), fellow defensive tackle Kawann Short blocked the first field goal of his career, increasing the Panthers season total to three, the most in the NFL in 2016 and tying the franchise record set in 2003.

CAROLINA ON MY MIND

The Carolina Panthers roster and coaching staff has a distinctive local feel. Four coaches and five players either hail from North Carolina or South Carolina or played collegiately in the Carolinas.

GAME 1 DENVER 21– CAROLINA 20

September 8, 2016
Sports Authority Field • Denver, CO

Kicker Graham Gano's 50-yard try with nine seconds remaining hooked wide left, as Carolina suffered a 21-20 defeat to the Denver Broncos. Carolina was in position to pull out the victory against the reigning Super Bowl champions. After Denver took a 21-17 lead, the Panthers cut the deficit to one thanks to a 36-yard conversion from Gano with 4:21 on the clock. The defense then forced a three-and-out and getting the ball back to the offense at its own 40-yard line with 3:06 remaining. On the ensuing possession quarterback Cam Newton was sacked on two of the first three plays. But on fourth-and-21, Broncos cornerback Chris Harris, Jr. was penalized for illegal use of hands, turning an incompletion into a fresh set of downs for Carolina. After using their final timeout, the Panthers crossed into Denver territory with a 16-yard completion to wide receiver Kelvin Benjamin, and Newton spiked the ball with 14 seconds left. Wide receiver Ted Ginn, Jr. followed that with a 5-yard grab against the sideline, setting up Gano's field goal try that was not to be. Carolina began the scoring in the game as Benjamin's 14-yard touchdown catch gave the Panthers a 7-0 lead early, and after the Broncos tied it with a 28-yard touchdown run by fullback Andy Janovich, Carolina marched 89 yards in 18 plays, eventually reaching the end zone with a 2-yard run by Newton in the second quarter. On the drive, Newton completed all four of his third-down passes, and his touchdown run broke a pair of NFL records held by Hall of Fame quarterback Steve Young. Newton tallied his 44th career rushing touchdowns - most ever by a quarterback - and produced an all-time best 32 games with both a passing and a rushing touchdown. An efficient two-minute drill allowed the Panthers to extend the lead to 17-7, as Gano drilled a 44-yard field goal three seconds before halftime. The Panthers created their third takeaway early in the third quarter. Safety Kurt Coleman blitzed and pressured quarterback Trevor Siemian into a hurried throw that was picked off by cornerback Bene Benwikere. But Carolina's offense stalled in the third quarter, and on the first play of the fourth quarter, Denver running back C.J. Anderson turned a screen pass into a 25-yard touchdown. Two plays later, the Panthers committed their lone turnover. Newton's pass for Benjamin was deflected and intercepted by Harris, and an unnecessary roughness penalty on guard Andrew Norwell spotted the ball at Carolina's 23-yard line. Anderson later rushed for a 1-yard score to give the Broncos their first lead, which proved to be enough.

GAME 2 CAROLINA 46 – SAN FRANCISCO 27

September 25, 2016
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

Carolina absorbed early resistance from San Francisco by scoring 24 unanswered points to build a three-touchdown lead, then held on after San Francisco pulled within a single score to emerge with a 46-27 win. Quarterback Cam Newton bounced back from an interception on his first pass of the game to throw for 353 yards and four touchdowns, helping the Panthers to 529 total net yards and 46 points, both the third-highest single-game marks in team history. For the first time in franchise history, the Panthers finished a game with two 100-yard receivers (Greg Olsen – 122 and Kelvin Benjamin – 108), a 100-yard rusher (Fozzy Whittaker – 100) and a 300-yard passer (Newton). It looked like the Panthers would close out the 49ers after Benjamin opened the second half with tough touchdown receptions of 10 and 9 yards from Newton, the second one giving Carolina a 31-10 edge and giving Newton the Panthers' all-time record for career touchdown tosses with 121. But after the defense forced a 49ers punt for the sixth consecutive drive going back to the first half – including four three-and-outs – Newton lost a fumble on a scramble. Carolina's defense turned the 49ers away and held them to a field goal. But on the ensuing kickoff, Ted Ginn, Jr. couldn't corral the ball, setting San Francisco up for a 1-yard touchdown. After Ginn bounced back with a 59-yard kickoff return to set up a Graham Gano field goal, the 49ers struck with a 75-yard touchdown pass from Blaine Gabbert to tight end Vance McDonald. Just like that, with 7:51 still to play, the Panthers' lead was down to 34-27. The 49ers forced a pair of incomplections on Carolina's next drive, but that's when the Panthers bounced back. On third-and-10, Newton rocketed a pass over the middle for Benjamin, who held on for a 25-yard gain between two defenders that crunched him and knocked his helmet off in the process. That kept the ball with the Panthers and kept the clock going, eventually setting up Gano for a 49-yard field goal with 4:08 left and a 37-27 lead. The defense then put the finishing touches on the victory, with linebacker Luke Kuechly and rookie cornerback James Bradberry picking off passes on the 49ers' next two possessions. The offense cashed in on both, with Newton hitting wide receiver Devin Funchess for a 16-yard score after Kuechly's pick and Gano drilling his fourth field goal to cap it. Olsen got the Panthers heading in the right direction in the first place, starting the key stretch in the game in which both sides of the ball played well. The defense provided the first spark, when linebacker Shaq Thompson picked up a fumble by running back Carlos Hyde – who was held to 34 total yards – and fought his way into the end zone for a 9-yard touchdown and a 7-3 lead for the Panthers. The 49ers, however, answered right back with a 28-yard touchdown strike from Gabbert to Torrey Smith to reclaim the lead and, heading to the final 10 minutes of the first half, the San Francisco defense still had not allowed a point all season. On the next play, Olsen started the Panthers on their path to 24 unanswered points. Olsen sped across the middle, caught a Newton pass in stride and raced from the San Francisco 43 all the way to the end zone for a 78-yard score and a 14-10 lead.

GAME 3 MINNESOTA 22 – CAROLINA 10

September 25, 2016
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

Carolina's 14-game home winning streak was snapped by the Minnesota Vikings who used a strong defensive effort, which included eight sacks and three interceptions, to defeat the Panthers, 22-10, at Bank of America Stadium. A 48-yard field goal from Graham Gano and a 3-yard touchdown run from quarterback Cam Newton allowed Carolina to build a 10-0 lead after its first two possessions. But the strong start was stopped in its tracks when Newton was sacked by defensive end Danielle Hunter in the end zone for a safety. Penalties were a recurring issue for the Panthers as they totaled 10 penalties for 65 yards, including a block in the back that wiped out running back Fozzy Whittaker's 56-yard catch-and-run touchdown early in the second quarter. Special teams became a major factor later in the first half. Minutes after Gano missed a 54-yard field goal attempt, Andy Lee was forced to punt from his own end zone and Minnesota returner Marcus Sherels raced down the left sideline for a 54-yard touchdown with 3:21 remaining in the second quarter. Kicker Blair Walsh missed the point after attempt. The Panthers' attempt at extending their lead in the closing moments of the half was turned away when Newton was sacked on second down and picked off on third-and-15. At halftime, Carolina compiled 205 total yards compared to Minnesota's 34, but only led 10-8. The Vikings took the lead for the first time on the opening possession of the second half. Quarterback Sam Bradford lofted a 15-yard touchdown pass to tight end Kyle Rudolph in the corner of the end zone and running back Jerick McKinnon converted the two-point attempt to make it 16-10. Minnesota cornerback Terrance Newman intercepted Newton's pass for wide receiver Ted Ginn, Jr. late in the third quarter, setting up the Vikings at Carolina's 43-yard line. That led to a 28-yard field goal from Blair Walsh, extending the deficit to nine early in the fourth quarter. Walsh added a 31-yard field goal with 5:07 remaining, leaving Carolina little time to erase the two-score deficit. In the closing minutes, Newton was swarmed under the Minnesota pressure and tossed a pass in desperation that was picked off by defensive tackle Tom Johnson.

GAME 4 ATLANTA 48 – CAROLINA 33

October 2, 2016
Georgia Dome • Atlanta, GA

Despite a late fourth-quarter comeback, Carolina fell 48-33 to the Atlanta Falcons in the Georgia Dome. The Panthers trailed Atlanta 34-10 with 12 minutes left, but twice in the waning minutes – with backup quarterback Derek Anderson under center – Carolina closed within a single score. The Panthers were up against a historic effort from wide receiver Julio Jones, whose 300-yard receiving day was the fourth-biggest in NFL history and keyed quarterback Matt Ryan's 503-yard passing day. The offense, held to a single field goal by through three quarters, suddenly caught fire in the fourth quarter. With Carolina down 34-10 – the lone touchdown provided by a defense that otherwise struggled – Cam Newton led the offense 63 yards in just 97 seconds, capping it with a 6-yard touchdown strike to Kelvin Benjamin. The Panthers had to go for two in an attempt to make it a two-score game and succeeded, but at a price. Newton kept the ball around the left side and appeared in position to walk in, but linebacker Deion Jones came out of nowhere from Newton's perspective and put a hit on Newton that resulted in his departure from the game and placement in the concussion protocol. The defense quickly got the ball back to the offense, which traveled 94 yards and made it a one-score game with 3:58 left when Anderson found Olsen for an acrobatic 14-yard touchdown grab with one hand and then secured another two-point conversion. On the first play after the ensuing kickoff, Jones caught a pass in stride at his own 36 and then turned it upfield, streaking down the right sideline for a 75-yard score that seemed to squelch the rally in an instant. Using half the time left and none of the Panthers' three timeouts, Anderson directed the offense back into the end zone, making it 41-33 with 1:53 on a 16-yard strike to Corey Brown on fourth-and-2. The defense forced another three-and-out, and Carolina took possession at its own 24 with 1:25 to go. But on the first play Anderson floated a pass over Olsen's head that was intercepted by cornerback Robert Alford, who returned it 30 yards for the clinching touchdown.

GAME 5 TAMPA BAY 17 – CAROLINA 14

October 10, 2016
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

Tampa Bay Kicker Robert Aguayo converted a 38-yard field goal attempt as time expired to hand the Panthers their fourth loss of the season, 17-14, on Monday Night Football. Despite four turnovers and just one third down conversion, the Panthers found themselves in prime position to win the game. With the game tied 14-14 late in the fourth quarter, Aguayo missed his second field goal – a 46-yarder wide left – handing Carolina possession at its own 36-yard line with 3:33 remaining. But three straight rushes amounted to seven yards and a three-and-out. And after the Buccaneers got the ball back with 1:49 left, they converted two third downs and drove 66 yards to give Aguayo another chance. Aguayo delivered to give Tampa Bay its first against the Panthers since 2012. On Tampa Bay's final drive, Tampa Bay converted on two third downs, first wide receiver Mike Evans made an 11-yard catch on third-and-7. Three plays later, on third-and-4, quarterback Jameis Winston tossed a short pass to running back Jacquizz Rodgers, who turned upfield for eight yards. Later, Rodgers ran up the middle for no gain, but defensive end Kody Ealy was penalized for a facemask. The 15-yard penalty moved the ball to the Carolina 17-yard line with 17 seconds left. From there, the Bucs positioned the ball for the decisive field goal. The Panthers were one yard away from breaking the 14-14 tie midway through the fourth quarter, but quarterback Derek Anderson – starting in place of Cam Newton, who missed the game while in the concussion protocol –tossed a pass to tight end Greg Olsen in the corner of the end zone that was intercepted by cornerback Brent Grimes. Tampa Bay controlled the first half thanks to a ball control offense that gave them a big edge in time of possession (21:45 to 8:15). Aguayo hit a pair of 35-yard field goals, and Carolina turned the ball over twice – an Anderson interception and a muffed punt by Ted Ginn, Jr. The Panthers rallied late in the second quarter to have an opportunity for points, but Graham Gano's 43-yard field goal missed wide left. Carolina's offense put two touchdown drives together to start the second half. Running back Cameron Artis-Payne went over the pile on fourth-and-goal from the 1 and he scored again on a 12-yard run around the left side. But it took Tampa Bay only four plays to answer back, as Winston connected with Evans for a 26-yard touchdown. Rookie cornerback Daryl Worley, making his first career start, got caught on a double move. The Buccaneers then tied the game when Winston connected with wide receiver Adam Humphries over the middle on the two-point conversion. Carolina had its opportunities in the fourth quarter, but the turnovers were too much to overcome.

GAME 6 NEW ORLEANS 41 – CAROLINA 38

October 16, 2016
Mercedes-Benz Superdome • New Orleans, LA

Carolina overcome a 21-0 deficit, but was unable to secure the victory as the New Orleans Saints defeated the Panthers, 41-38, at the Mercedes-Benz Superdome. New Orleans quarterback Drew Brees threw for 465 yards and four touchdowns, helping the Saints build a 21-0 lead. The Panthers stormed back to tie the score in the waning minutes, but Will Lutz's 52-yard field goal with 11 seconds left allowed New Orleans to escape with a 41-38 victory. With starting cornerbacks James Bradberry and Robert McClain out with injuries, the Panthers started rookies Daryl Worley and Zack Sanchez. Worley didn't finish, going out with a concussion. He was replaced by Teddy Williams, who has seen the large majority of his time on special teams. Williams recorded his first career interception early in the fourth quarter to put the Panthers in position to continue carving into their deficit, but the defense was unable to stop New Orleans at the end. After Cam Newton's 2-yard touchdown run and his two-point connection with Devin Funchess with 2:58 to go completed the comeback, the Saints took over aiming to avoid what would have been the biggest comeback in Carolina history. The defense put Brees and the Saints in a third-and-9 situation, but running back Travis Cadet turned his catch short of the line to make into the 9 yards needed with little to spare, then Brees got rolling again to set up Lutz's kick. To begin the game, Brees directed the Saints offense into the end zone on three of its first four possessions. The Saints scored on their first drive with a non-traditional call when tight end Coby Fleener ran it in on fourth-and-1 from the 2 on a sweep after he went in motion and flashed by Brees. The next drive, Brees connected with Brandin Cooks for an 87-yard score. The third score was set up by a 59-yard punt return, leaving Brees to direct the offense just 29 yards to make it 21-0 early in the second quarter. The Panthers offense advanced to the Saints 10 on its subsequent drive before quarterback Cam Newton was picked off. The rest of the way, the offense found its footing. Newton followed up a Graham Gano field goal with a 17-yard touchdown strike to Devin Funchess to make it 24-10 heading to halftime, then Newton hit tight end Ed Dickson for a 1-yard score to make it 24-17. New Orleans answered right back when Fleener got a 50-yard score on third-and-15. After taking possession with 53 seconds left in the third quarter, Carolina's final three drives produced touchdowns. Stewart scored the first two on his way to an 85-yard day, then Carolina answered another Brees touchdown toss when Newton dove for the pylon from 2 yards. Funchess' two-point reception – a call necessitated by Gano missing the mark on the previous PAT – tied the score before Lutz's winning field goal.

GAME 7 CAROLINA 30 – ARIZONA 20

October 30, 2016
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

The Panthers' defense produced a strong start and put the finishing touches on a 30-20 victory over the Arizona Cardinals at Bank of America Stadium to snap a four-game losing streak. On the sixth play of the game, defensive tackle Star Lotulelei sacked quarterback Carson Palmer – the first of what would be eight sacks on the day – and the ball came loose. Linebacker Thomas Davis scooped it up for a 46-yard touchdown and Carolina took a 7-0 lead after Davis' first career touchdown. With Carolina protecting a 10-point lead in the closing minutes, the defense helped seal the victory. Immediately after Arizona safety Tony Jefferson stripped the ball from running back Jonathan Stewart at the Carolina 40-yard line, Palmer tried to connect with running back David Johnson. But defensive end Kony Ealy halted his rush to tip the pass to himself for the interception with 3:13 left. Carolina built a 24-7 lead at halftime with two short touchdown runs from running back Jonathan Stewart and a 43-yard field goal from Graham Gano. The Cardinals got on the scoreboard in the final minute of the half when wide receiver J.J. Nelson hauled in a 5-yard touchdown. Arizona's offense was limited to just 109 total yards and 1-for-6 on third downs after two quarters. Gano converted field goals of 52 and 21 yards to extend the lead to 23 in the third quarter. Arizona started cutting into the lead late in the third quarter. Palmer connected with wide receiver John Brown for a 17-yard score, and Nelson recorded his second touchdown on a 4-yard catch with 5:05 remaining in the game. But the Panthers maintained a 10-point lead when Palmer's pass to Nelson for the two-point attempt fell incomplete. Stewart's fumble gave the Cardinals a glimmer of hope, but Ealy's interception allowed the Panthers to salt away the victory.

GAME 8 CAROLINA 13 – LOS ANGELES 10

November 6, 2016
Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum • Los Angeles, CA

The Carolina Panthers defeated the Los Angeles Rams, 13-10, at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum. The Panthers never trailed but the game remained close throughout as the Panthers were able to outlast the Rams to claim their first winning streak of the season. After a 1-5 start, the Panthers are now 3-5. Linebacker Thomas Davis provided a standout defensive performance for the Panthers, notching a strip-sack and securing an interception. Davis leapt high to pick off a Case Keenum pass on Carolina's side of the 50 in the final seconds of the third quarter. The play protected a 7-0 lead and the Panthers extended the lead on the ensuing possession. Jonathan Stewart, who had just 10 yards on nine carries against a stout defensive front entering the drive, broke free for a 17-yard run to set up Graham Gano for a 38-yard field goal and a 10-0 lead. The Rams answered right back with their first points of the game, a 25-yard field goal to again make it a one-score game with eight minutes left, but the Panthers took nearly five of the remaining minutes off the clock before Gano hit another field goal for a 13-3 edge. The Rams reached the end zone in the final seconds, but it was not enough as Ted Ginn, Jr. recovered L.A.'s onside kick to secure the victory. The Rams battled their way into range on their first drive to attempt a 55-yard field goal, but when it missed the mark, the Panthers had the ball at the 45. After the teams traded punts, the Panthers had the ball at the 43, and they responded to their second chance with their one touchdown drive of the game. Carolina mustered just 51 yards and three first downs on its other five first-half drives, but this one gained 53 yards, four first downs and seven points. Newton hit five different receivers on the methodical march, finishing it off with a 9-yard strike to tight end Greg Olsen on third-and-5 for a 7-0 edge. The Rams twice reached Carolina's 37-yard line for missed 55-yard field goals in the first half but didn't get any closer to the goal line until their two scoring drives in the final eight minutes of the game. Carolina's defense held Rams running back Todd Gurley to 48 yards on 12 carries.

GAME 9 KANSAS CITY 20 – CAROLINA 17

November 13, 2016
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

Kansas City kicker Cairo Santos converted a 37-yard field goal attempt as time expired to give the Chiefs a 20-17 victory over the Panthers at Bank of America Stadium. With 29 seconds left and the ball at their own 20-yard line, the Panthers offense took the field hoping to break a 17-17 tie, but a fumble by wide receiver Kelvin Benjamin put the Chiefs in position to break the tie. Kelvin Benjamin ran a slant and caught a 14-yard pass, but Kansas City cornerback Marcus Peters ripped the ball away from him as Benjamin attempted to go to the ground. Three plays later, Santos kicked the game-winning field goal. That wasn't the only turnover that proved costly for Carolina. Earlier in the fourth quarter, with the Panthers leading 17-6, quarterback Cam Newton was pressured into an errant throw on third-and-6. Safety Eric Berry picked off the pass for tight end Greg Olsen and cut back across the field for a 42-yard touchdown. That interception return and the 2-point conversion by tight end Travis Kelce made it 17-14. Kansas City took advantage of a short field moments later to tie the game with a 33-yard field goal. The Panthers were in total control of this game in the first half. The game's opening possession ended with a 42-yard field goal from Graham Gano, who became Carolina's punter after Andy Lee suffered a hamstring injury. Newton scored the game's first touchdown early in the second quarter, charging through defenders for a 4-yard score. The rushing touchdown was Newton's 47th, making him the franchise's all-time leader in that department. Newton connected with wideout Devin Funchess for a 38-yard touchdown on the first play following the two-minute warning to give the Panthers a 17-0 lead. Kansas City got on the scoreboard with 10 seconds left in the half, as Santos converted a 47-yard field goal. The third quarter was dominated by Carolina's 20-play drive that churned 10:08 off the clock. But they had no points to show for it. After advancing to the Kansas City 20, Newton rushed for a 1-yard loss and was sacked twice for a loss of 19 combined yards, forcing Gano to punt.

GAME 10 CAROLINA 23 – NEW ORLEANS 20

November 17, 2016
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

The Carolina Panthers withstood a fourth-quarter rally from the New Orleans Saints to earn a 23-20 victory at Bank of America Stadium on Thursday Night Football. It was the Panthers third win the past four games. The Panthers entered the fourth quarter with a 23-3 lead, having held New Orleans' offense – which entered the game ranked first in the NFL – to only 150 passing yards and a 20 percent conversion rate on third down. However, the Saints scored 17 points in the quarter before the Panthers emerged with the victory. The first half belonged to the Panthers. Defensive end Mario Addison sacked quarterback Drew Brees on the Saints' opening possession, knocking the ball out of his grasp and then falling on the ball for Carolina's first takeaway to set up the Panthers' first three points of the game. The Saints answered back on their ensuing drive with a field goal of their own to tie the score at 3-3. From there the game transitioned into a short battle of field position. Three straight possessions ended in punts, including the first two of newly signed Panthers punter Michael Palardy's career. The play after Palardy's second punt was an important one: the Panthers' second takeaway of the night. On first down from the 20-yard line, Brees spied open tight end Coby Fleener tearing down the right sideline with only safety Kurt Coleman to beat. However, Coleman secured the interception and returned the ball 12 yards to create a 34-yard field for the Panthers' offense, which they were able to convert into a touchdown. Returner Marcus Murphy muffed the ensuing kickoff, pinning the Saints deep in their own territory. A three-and-out forced a short field for the Carolina, and once again they capitalized for three points. New Orleans returned to the field looking to get points on the board before halftime, moving the ball 55 yards in eight plays. Another Addison sack stalled the Saints' drive at the 20-yard line, leaving Will Lutz to attempt a 38-yard field goal. However, rookie defensive tackle Vernon Butler blocked the kick which was returned by linebacker Luke Kuechly for a touchdown, but the score was called back because of a block in the back penalty. The Panthers took over at the New Orleans 40-yard line and the drive's first play, Newton found a streaking Ted Ginn, Jr. in the back of the end zone. While falling to the ground, the wide receiver dragged his foot before going out of bounds to set the halftime score at 20-3. Yet after the Panthers' domination of the first half, New Orleans had pulled within a field goal of tying the game with 2:52 remaining in regulation. Two Saints touchdowns in the fourth quarter paired with three straight Panthers three-and-outs seemed to spell trouble again for Carolina. The Saints exploded for 168 yards in the fourth quarter, including 54 yards on the ground by backup running back Tim Hightower. Two minutes and 39 seconds remained. The Panthers had failed to move the ball from the 15-yard line on their first two plays following the Saints' previous score. However, Newton connected with Benjamin on third-and-10 for 18 yards and a first down. While the Saints defense prevented Carolina from converting another first down, Benjamin's catch allowed the Panthers to burn almost two minutes off the clock, leaving the Saints with only 14 seconds after returning a Palardy punt to advance into scoring position.

GAME 11 OAKLAND 35 – CAROLINA 32

November 27, 2016
Oakland-Alameda County Stadium • Oakland, CA

The Carolina Panthers rallied from a 17-point halftime deficit to forge an eight-point lead, but the Oakland Raiders rallied to a 35-32 victory at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum. Carolina's first four second-half drives produced touchdowns to turn a 24-7 deficit into a 32-24 lead, but the Raiders drew even midway through the fourth quarter and retook the lead with a 23-yard field goal with 1:45 left. Oakland won its fourth game of the season by three or fewer points. Carolina lost its fifth game by three or fewer points. Just before halftime the Panthers were down 17-7 and stuck deep in their own territory. Carolina ran a throwback screen for running back Fozzy Whittaker that was intercepted by defensive end Khalil Mack and returned 6 yards for a touchdown. Carolina's lone scoring drive of the first half finished off with a 3-yard rush by quarterback Cam Newton who is the only player in the NFL to score five or more rushing touchdowns in every season since 2011. The game began to turn in the Panthers favor in the second half. On the second snap of the second half, Raiders quarterback Derek Carr dislocated the pinky finger on his throwing hand trying to take the snap and couldn't secure it, but Panthers linebacker Thomas Davis did. Six plays later, Stewart barreled in from one yard out. Matt McGloin, a fourth-year pro who was an invited tryout at Carolina's rookie minicamp in 2013, replaced Carr under center for the next drive, a short possession that ended with a punt. The Panthers were one play from giving the ball right back, but instead Newton hit wide receiver Ted Ginn, Jr. in stride just past midfield, and Ginn took off for a career-long 88-yard touchdown reception to make it 24-19. The Panthers went for two after Graham Gano's previous PAT had been blocked but couldn't convert. Carr came back for the next drive but Davis intercepted Carr's pass over the middle and returned it 31 yards to the Oakland 26. Five plays later, Stewart scored from 3 yards, and even with another failed two-point play, the Panthers led 25-24. The Panthers weren't done, even with more adversity to come. The defense forced another three-and-out, but the offense's ability to keep it going seemed to sustain a blow when, on the final snap of the third quarter, center Gino Gradkowski went down with a knee injury. The line, already featuring right guard Trai Turner after Daryl Williams exited late in the first half with an ankle injury, turned to inexperienced Tyler Larsen at center. Four plays into the fourth quarter, Newton launched one deep for wide receiver Kelvin Benjamin, who outbattled cornerback Sean Smith for a 44-yard touchdown and a 32-24 lead. The Raiders responded. Carr directed them on a 75-yard march to even the score, first with a 12-yard touchdown strike to tight end Clive Warford and then a two-point conversion to wide receiver Seth Roberts. Oakland got the ball back with 5:05 left after the Panthers came up a half-yard short of a crucial third-down conversion but soon faced a third-and-10 themselves. That's when Carr and wide receiver Michael Crabtree hooked up for a 49-yard connection. The reception set up Sebastian Janikowski for a 23-yard field goal with 1:45 left, and the Panthers' last-gasp effort fell short when Mack sacked and stripped Newton on fourth-and-10 around midfield.

GAME 12 SEATTLE 40 – CAROLINA 7

December 4, 2016
CenturyLink Field • Seattle, WA

The Carolina Panthers suffered a 40-7 loss against the Seattle Seahawks on Sunday Night Football at CenturyLink Field. The Seahawks amassed 534 total yards, 240 of which came on the ground against the Carolina defense that entered Week 13 boasting the NFL's second-best run defense. The Panthers threatened to make it a game when wide receiver Ted Ginn, Jr. hauled in a 55-yard touchdown pass early in the second quarter. That cut the Seattle lead to 10-7. But wide receiver Tyler Lockett returned the ensuing kickoff to the Seattle 43-yard line, and two plays later, running back Thomas Rawls ran for a 45-yard touchdown. Two field goals before halftime gave Seattle a 23-7 lead, and the Seahawks started the second half with another explosive run play. On the first play from scrimmage of the third quarter, Lockett took a speed sweep off the right side and ran away from everyone for a 75-yard touchdown. Seattle tacked on 10 more points in the fourth quarter with a 1-yard touchdown pass to tight end Jimmy Graham and a third Steven Hauschka field goal. The game started in unusual and unfortunate fashion for the Panthers. On the first play of the game's opening possession, quarterback Derek Anderson rolled right and tried to connect with fullback Mike Tolbert in the flat. The pass went off Tolbert's hands and linebacker Mike Morgan picked it off, setting up a 23-yard field goal to give Seattle a lead it would never relinquish. Head coach Ron Rivera said he did not start quarterback Cam Newton because of a violation of the team's travel dress code.

GAME 13 CAROLINA 28 – SAN DIEGO 16

December 11, 2016
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

The Carolina Panthers recorded five takeaways and sacked quarterback five times in a 28-16 victory over the San Diego Chargers at Bank of America Stadium. The Panthers defense was strong from the very first snap of the game, when Rivers had to dump the ball into the turf as safety Kurt Coleman – back from injury along with defensive end Mario Addison – closed in on him. Running back Melvin Gordon was stuffed for no gain on the next play, then defensive tackle Kawann Short recorded his first of two sacks on third down. When rookie cornerback Daryl Worley started the second quarter with an interception, eight of San Diego's first 15 snaps had resulted in either a turnover, no gain or a loss of yardage. When Rivers next returned to the field, the Panthers were up 17-0. The Chargers' three-and-out to start the game helped set up Graham Gano for his first of three first-half field goals, then San Diego's second drive ended with Short's second sack and the first of five Carolina takeaways – with Short stripping Rivers and fellow defensive tackle Paul Soliai pouncing on the ball. The offense couldn't turn field position into points this time, but an exchange of punts set Carolina up at San Diego's 35-yard line, and Jonathan Stewart paid it off with a 1-yard plunge. Then, after Worley's interception, the offense responded with its most complete drive of the day, a 58-yard march capped by a perfect pass in traffic from quarterback Cam Newton to wide receiver Devin Funchess on third-and-goal from the 6. San Diego mustered its fourth first down on its next drive and managed its third turnover on the drive after that, when linebacker A.J. Klein strip-sacked Rivers and defensive end Wes Horton recovered. The Panthers got field goals off both those defensive stands for a 23-0 lead, and Carolina hung on from there. Rivers finally found some success late in the first half, when he recognized the Panthers had jumped offsidelines and decided to take a deep shot that resulted in a 46-yard completion to Tyrell Williams inside the 10, setting up Rivers to hit tight end Hunter Henry for a 9-yard score with 1:03 left in the half. A field goal drive by each team ate up most of the third quarter, then the Chargers threatened to make it interesting. Down 26-10 late in the third, Rivers hit Dontrelle Inman for a 19-yard score, but Worley kept it a two-score game with a beauty of a breakup on a two-point attempt bound for tight end Antonio Gates. Linebacker Shaq Thompson's first career interception set up the offense to put it away for good, but on first-and-goal from the 4, Newton was picked off by cornerback Trovon Reed, who appeared to return it 100 yards for a touchdown. On replay review, however, Reed was ruled to have been touched down by wide receiver Kelvin Benjamin 97 yards from the end zone. The Chargers still had the ball at least, but Addison sacked Rivers in the back of the end zone for a safety that put the game away.

GAME 14 CAROLINA 26 – WASHINGTON 15

December 19, 2016
FedEx Field • Landover, MD

Carolina never trailed Washington on the way to a 26-15 victory at FedEx Field to improve to 6-8 on the year. After the teams exchanged field goals, the Panthers took a 10-3 lead when quarterback Cam Newton connected with wide receiver Ted Ginn, Jr. for a 30-yard touchdown. Ginn ran down the seam between safety Donte Whitner and cornerback Josh Norman and found himself wide open in the end zone for the easy score. Coleman intercepted Washington quarterback Kirk Cousins on the last play of the first quarter, setting up a 23-yard Graham Gano field goal to extend the lead. The Redskins cut the halftime deficit to four after running back Rob Kelley rushed for a 5-yard touchdown (the point after attempt was missed). That proved to be Kelley's longest run of the night. The Redskins finished with 29 rushing yards, and there were no explosive plays to be had for the league's second-ranked offense. On the first snap of the second half, defensive end Wes Horton made the biggest play of the game. Horton overpowered tight end Vernon Davis, pushing him into Cousins as he got ready to throw. The ball came loose, and Horton recovered it at the 1-yard line. Newton tossed a play-action pass to fullback Mike Tolbert for the 1-yard touchdown, and just like that Carolina had a 20-9 lead. Newton one of his best games of the season, throwing for 300 yards and completing 21-of-37 attempts. Gano added a 23-yard field goal later in the third quarter, and frustration began to set in for Washington. Redskins tight end Jordan Reed was disqualified for throwing a punch at Coleman – a penalty that helped force Washington settle for a short field goal early in the fourth quarter. A third Dustin Hopkins field goal cut the Carolina lead to eight with 3:44 remaining in the game. But running back Jonathan Stewart, who totaled a season-high 132 rushing yards, responded with his longest run – a 34-yard scamper which ultimately led to a 41-yard field goal from Gano to seal it.

GAME 15 ATLANTA 33 – CAROLINA 16

December 24, 2016
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

The Carolina Panthers playoff hopes were put to an end with a 33-16 loss to the Atlanta Falcons in the final 2016 home game at Bank of America Stadium. Atlanta was sharp out of the gate, taking the opening kickoff and marching 75 yards on eight plays to claim a 7-0 lead when quarterback Matt Ryan hooked up with tight end Joshua Perkins for a 26-yard score. The Panthers reached midfield on their opening drive after converting a fourth-and-short, but on the next play Newton tossed his first of two interceptions. That set the table for a 51-yard field goal by Matt Bryant, and a subsequent three-and-out by Carolina's offense was followed by a 48-yarder by Bryant. Just before the first quarter had expired, the Falcons had a 13-0 lead. Another touchdown reception by an Atlanta tight end, this one by Levine Toilolo from 1 yard out to cap another 75-yard drive, gave the Falcons a 20-3 halftime lead. The Panthers responded by scoring on their first two drives of the second half, highlighted by a 26-yard touchdown strike from quarterback Cam Newton to wide receiver Kelvin Benjamin to close Carolina within 23-13. Momentum appeared to be shifting, especially after rookie cornerback James Bradberry broke up a long pass for Julio Jones – held to 60 receiving yards after posting 300 in the teams' Week 4 matchup – and then team sack leader Mario Addison dropped Ryan for a 6-yard loss. But on what became third-and-21 after a false start, Ryan hit running back Tevin Coleman open in the flat for a 31-yard gain. Then on the next snap Coleman took a pitch and steamed 55 yards for a touchdown that made it 30-13 early in the fourth quarter and essentially ended Carolina's comeback hopes.

GAME 16 TAMPA BAY 17 – CAROLINA 16

January 1, 2017
Raymond James Stadium • Tampa, FL

Carolina was unable to convert a two-point conversion in the final seconds of the 2016 season finale at Tampa Bay and Carolina fell just short, losing to the Buccaneers 17-16 at Raymond James Stadium. A 10-yard touchdown catch by Tampa Bay wide receiver Mike Evans broke a 10-10 tie with 3:13 remaining in the game, but Carolina answered back with the Cam Newton-Kelvin Benjamin connection. Benjamin skied for a catch over the middle and ran down the sideline for a 47-yard gain to start the drive. Newton, who battled shoulder pain throughout but never left the game, went to him again over the middle for 13 yards on fourth-and-12. On the next play, Benjamin hauled in a 5-yard touchdown. With 17 seconds left in the game, head coach Ron Rivera went for the win. Newton tried a quick throw to tight end Greg Olsen, but it fell incomplete. At the start, it looked like a game that would be dictated by the offenses. Tampa Bay took a 3-0 lead with a 33-yard field goal on the opening possession, and Carolina responded by producing one of its best drives of the season. The Panthers marched 75 yards in six crisp plays, with running back Jonathan Stewart reaching the end zone on a 2-yard run. The second quarter was scoreless as the defenses asserted themselves. Defensive end Wes Horton erased a Tampa Bay threat by stripping the ball from quarterback Jameis Winston at the Carolina 30-yard line. Defensive tackle Vernon Butler made the recovery. Graham Gano attempted a 58-yard field goal in the closing seconds, but the kick was well wide, setting up a 76-yard return for wide receiver Adam Humphries that was finally stopped by tight end Ed Dickson as time expired. The Buccaneers took the lead back on the second play of the second half. Newton was looking for wide receiver Ted Ginn, Jr. but cornerback Brent Grimes stepped in front of the pass and returned it 31 yards for a touchdown. Gano tied the game at 10 with a 54-yard field goal later in the third quarter, and both teams missed field goal opportunities in the fourth. Roberto Aguayo's 48-yard attempt was blocked by defensive tackle Kawann Short, and Gano missed a 36-yard attempt wide right. Tampa Bay then scored its first offensive touchdown, driving 74 yards in eight plays. The Buccaneers didn't face a single third down, and on second-and-goal, Winston extended the play and found his Pro Bowl receiver Evans in the end zone.

Chase Blackburn

Assistant Special Teams

PLAYING

A former NFL linebacker and special teams standout, Chase Blackburn makes his coaching debut as assistant special teams coach with Carolina in 2016 after working with the Panthers as a coaching intern during the 2016 offseason.

In 10 seasons from 2005-14, Blackburn recorded 265 tackles, 4.5 sacks, four interceptions, 10 passes defended and four forced fumbles in 132 games with 45 starts. He also posted 123 tackles, two forced fumble and three fumble recoveries on special teams.

Originally signed as an undrafted rookie free agent by the New York Giants in 2005, Blackburn played eight seasons with the Giants and led the team in special teams tackles for six consecutive years from 2005-10. He earned two Super Bowl rings with the Giants, contributing to their victories in Super Bowls XLII and XLVI.

Blackburn played his final two seasons with the Panthers. In 2013, he was part of special teams units that improved to 13th in The Dallas Morning News special teams rankings one year after ranking last.

Long snapper J.J. Jansen, Blackburn's teammate with Carolina in 2013 and 2014, said, "Chase has always been a coach on the field, even when we played together."

COLLEGE AND PERSONAL

A three-year starter at linebacker and defensive end in college for Akron, Blackburn played in 45 games with 34 starts and totaled 293 tackles, 38.5 tackles for loss, 11 sacks and three interceptions. He earned second-team All-Mid-American Conference honors as a junior in 2003. Blackburn attended Marysville (Ohio) HS and graduated from Akron with a degree in mathematics.
