ARIZONA CARDINALS VS. OAKLAND RAIDERS

O.co Coliseum | August 30, 2015 | 5:00 PM

THIS WEEK'S GAME

The Cardinals embark on their first road trip of the 2015 season this week when they travel to Oakland to face the Raiders in a primetime matchup on NBC's Sunday Night Football. It marks the second consecutive season the Cardinals will play on Sunday Night Football during the preseason.

Just like in last year's preseason primetime matchup vs. Cincinnati, Cardinals QB Carson Palmer will face a former team when the Cardinals square off against the Raiders on Sunday.

Last week the Cardinals fell short when a Chargers FG as time expired gave San Diego a 22-19 victory. For the second consecutive week, Arizona got off to a fast start behind its first team offense. QB Carson Palmer connected with his two young WRs - a 57-yard completion to rookie J.J. Nelson and a 17-yard TD pass to second-year pro John Brown - for an early TD as the Cardinals built a 9-0 lead.

Arizona's starting defense was also solid for a second straight week as the unit forced four straight San Diego punts to open the game.

Rookie RB David Johnson was another bright spot for the Arizona offense. The 2015 third-round draft pick made his first appearance of the preseason and gained 66 yards on 13 carries.

San Diego scored 19 straight points and was up 19-9 early in the fourth quarter before Cardinals rookie QB Phillip Sims led Arizona on a pair of scoring drives to tie the game with just under three minutes remaining. Locked in a battle for the third QB spot, Sims completed 8 of 13 pass attempts for 82 yards in helping the Cardinals tie the game.

Following this week's game Arizona wraps up the preseason by traveling to Denver to play the Broncos in the preseason finale for the 10th time in the past 12 seasons. The Cardinals will then open the 2015 regular season by hosting the New Orleans Saints at University of Phoenix Stadium on September 13.

CARDS-RAIDERS IN PRIMETIME

The Cardinals and Raiders meet this week in front of a national audience on NBC's Sunday Night Football. This week's game is the first of four primetime matchups for Arizona during the 2015 season. The Cards will be back on Sunday Night Football in Week 10 when they play the defending NFC Champion Seattle Seahawks at CenturyLink Field.

This is the second consecutive year that the Cardinals are on Sunday Night Football in the preseason. In 2014, Arizona hosted Cincinnati at University of Phoenix Stadium in its third preseason game.

Calling the action this week will be the team of Al Michaels (play-by-play), Cris Collinsworth (analyst) and Michele Tafoya (sideline).

Sunday Night Football has ranked as primetime television's No. 1 show for the last five fall TV seasons and was ranked as the No. 1 show for the entire primetime television season for the fourth consecutive year. No other sports program has achieved either milestone.

CARDS-RAIDERS CONNECTIONS

Raiders Connections

Cardinals QB Carson Palmer played for the Raiders from 2011-12. He was traded to Oakland from Cincinnati in 2011 and went on to play in 25 games (24 starts) with the Raiders, and he became just the second QB in team history to top 4,000 yards in a season when he threw for 4,018 yards in 2012.

Cardinals T Jared Veldheer played with Oakland from 2010-13. He was a third-round pick of the Raiders in the 2010 draft and played in 53 games (48 starts) in four seasons.

Cardinals DE Matt Shaughnessy spent four seasons with the Raiders from 2009-12. A third-round pick in 2009, he played in 51 games and totaled 15.5 sacks with Oakland, including a career-best 7.0 sacks in 2010.

Cardinals LB LaMarr Woodley played with Oakland in 2014, appearing in six games before suffering a season-ending injury.

Cardinals G Antoine McClain spent part of the 2013 season with the Raiders but did not see game action.

Cardinals CBs coach Kevin Ross coached safeties for the Raiders from 2010-11.

Cardinals LBs coach Bob Sanders served in the same position with Oakland from 2013-14.

Cardinals Connections

Raiders DT Dan Williams played for the Cardinals from 2010-14. Arizona's first-round pick (26th overall) in 2010, Williams played in 70 games (40 starts) in five seasons and totaled 179 tackles, 2.0 sacks, one INT, two forced fumbles and a fumble recovery with the Cardinals.

Raiders DT Ricky Lumpkin spent parts of 2011-13 with the Cardinals, mostly on the practice squad before making his NFL debut late in the 2012 season. Lumpkin and Cardinals DT Corey Peters were college teammates at Kentucky from 2006-09.

Raiders WRs coach Rob Moore played with the Cardinals from 1995-2001, recording 322 receptions for 5,110 yards and 27 TDs with Arizona. In 1997, he led the NFL with 1,584 yards (the second-highest single-season total in franchise history) on a career-best 97 catches.

Raiders GM Reggie McKenzie played for the Cardinals from 1989-90, but was placed on injured reserve both seasons.

Raiders S Tevin McDonald is the son of former Cardinal S Tim McDonald, who played for the team from 1987-92 and was selected to three Pro Bowls as a Cardinal (1989, 1991-92) before playing his final seven years in the NFL with the 49ers.

Oakland/California Connections

Cardinals LB Lorenzo Alexander is from Berkeley, CA and was a two-time honorable mention All-Pac-10 choice at the University of California.

Cardinals S Deone Bucannon is a Fairfield, CA native and attended Vanden High School.

Cardinals NT Alameda Ta'amu was born in Alameda, CA which is the reason he is so named.

Cardinals RB Stepfan Taylor (2009-12) and DE Josh Mauro (2009-13) both played at Stanford.

The following Cardinals are also from California: TE Darren Fells (Fullerton), LB Alani Fua (San Fernando Valley), WR Travis Harvey (Inglewood), S Tony Jefferson (Chula Vista), TE Troy Niklas (Fullerton), QB Carson Palmer (Rancho Santa Margarita), CB Shaquille Richardson (Carson) and DT Froste Rucker (Tustin).

Family Connections

Cardinals Football Operations Coordinator Matt Caracciolo is the brother of Peter Caracciolo, who works in football operations for the Raiders.

College/Pro Connections

Raiders S Charles Woodson played for Michigan from 1995-97 while Cardinals Offensive Coordinator Harold Goodwin was a student assistant coach and then a graduate assistant coach. Woodson then played under Cardinals LBs coach Bob Sanders from 2006-08 when Sanders was the Packers defensive coordinator.

From 1987-88, Cardinals CBs coach Kevin Ross and Raiders Head Coach Jack Del Rio were teammates with the Kansas City Chiefs.

Cardinals D-Line coach Brentson Buckner was a teammate of Raiders Assistant DBs coach Rod Woodson with the Steelers from 1994-96 and then played with Raiders Defensive Coordinator Ken Norton, Jr. with the 49ers from 1998-2000.

Cardinals QB Drew Stanton (2007-11) played for the Lions while Raiders QBs coach Todd Downing (2009-13) served as an assistant in Detroit.

Cardinals TE Jermaine Gresham and Raiders LB Curtis Lofton were college teammates at Oklahoma from 2006-07.

Cardinals T D.J. Humphries played at Florida with Raiders LB Neiron Ball and DT Leon Orr from 2012-14.

CARDS vs. RAIDERS - THE SERIES

This week's matchup between the Cardinals and Raiders marks the 14th time the two teams have met in the preseason. The preseason series between the Cards and Raiders dates back to 1976, a game that was played in Tempe, AZ while the Cards were still based in St. Louis. This week's game marks the seventh meeting between the teams dating back to 2004.

The Raiders hold a 7-6 advantage in preseason action between the two teams but the Cardinals have won four of the last five, including each of the last three games. This week marks the fifth time in the last six preseason meetings that the teams will square off in Oakland.

The Cardinals and Raiders last met in the Week 7 of the 2014 regular season when Arizona traveled to O.co Coliseum and came away with a 24-13 win. Including regular season, this week's matchup marks the seventh meeting between the two teams in the last nine years.

Jack Del Rio

*Does not include Arians' 9-3 record as interim head coach with the Colts in 2012, for which he earned NFL Coach of the Year honors.

The reigning NFL Coach of the Year, Bruce Arians is in his third season in Arizona and 23rd season coaching in the NFL. Arians became an NFL head coach for the first time when the Cardinals hired him on January 17, 2013. Arizona has posted a 21-11 record under Arians, who became the first coach in franchise history to post back-to-back 10+ win seasons in his first two years with the team. Including his tenure as interim head coach with Indy in 2012, Arians has posted a 30-14 record as head coach. Only John Fox (35), Bill Belichick (34) and Pete Carroll (34) have more wins in their last 44 games.

Named the 19th head coach in franchise history on January 15, 2015, Jack Del Rio is in his first season with Oakland and his 10th as a head coach in the NFL. Del Rio joined the Raiders after three seasons (2012-14) as the defensive coordinator in Denver, which included a trip to Super Bowl XLVIII. Now in his 30th season in the NFL (including 11 seasons as a player and 19 seasons as a coach), Del Rio served as head coach in Jacksonville for nine seasons (2003-11).

SCORING WITH SMOKE AND FIRE

In 2014 the Cardinals selected WR John Brown in the third round (91st overall) out of Pittsburg State. Known as “Smoke” to family and friends growing up, the nickname followed him to the NFL and Brown posted a record-breaking season as a rookie. His explosive speed helped him establish an NFL rookie record with four game-winning TD receptions on the year.

The Cardinals tested that draft formula again in 2015 when they selected another small school receiver with speed in WR J.J. Nelson. Arizona selected Nelson in the fifth round (159th overall) of the NFL Draft out of Alabama-Birmingham. A state champion sprinter in high school, Nelson was the fastest player at the 2015 NFL Combine, running the 40-yard dash in 4.28 seconds.

The similarities between Brown and Nelson did not escape their Cardinals teammates and Nelson was given the nickname “Fire” to accompany Brown’s moniker “Smoke.”

The hand injury suffered by WR Michael Floyd early in training camp gave Nelson a chance to get extra reps in front of the coaching staff and he impressed enough to earn the start alongside Brown and Larry Fitzgerald last week vs. San Diego.

Nelson didn’t disappoint. He hauled in a 57-yard reception from QB Carson Palmer down the left sideline that set up the Cardinals first quarter TD, which came on a 17-yard reception by Brown.

“I was so nervous,” Nelson said of getting the start. “But nervous is a good thing. It was a confidence-booster, and there’s hopefully more to come.”

When he let go of the pass, Palmer thought he had overthrown Nelson on the long strike, but Nelson actually had to slow down to complete the play. “I can’t wait to watch it on film,” Palmer said following the game. “He must have hit the nitrous button because he took off.”

Nelson (57-yard reception) and Brown (2 receptions for 31 yards, 17-yard TD) accounted for all 88 yards on the Cardinals first quarter TD drive. “Smoke” and “Fire” provided a glimpse of the added dimension in the Arizona offense in 2015. “I don’t know how we could add any more speed to the offense,” head coach Bruce Arians said after the game.

ROOKIES SHINE ON OFFENSE

RB David Johnson and QB Phillip Sims joined WR J.J. Nelson as the Cardinals rookies who made an impression on the offensive side of the ball in last week’s matchup vs. San Diego.

RB David Johnson

Arizona’s third round selection (86th overall) in the 2015 NFL Draft, Johnson made his first appearance of the preseason after missing part of training camp and the preseason opener with a hamstring injury. He returned to practice last week and made up for lost time on Saturday, carrying the ball 13 times for 66 yards (5.1-yard avg.) and catching two passes for 15 yards.

Johnson started slowly, gaining six yards on his first three carries. Head coach Bruce Arians thought he was dancing too much in the backfield early on. “We had a nice talk,” Arians said of his rookie RB. “We had a nice talk about dancing. He can go on ‘Dancing With the Stars’ if he wants to dance. As big and fast as he is, take your foot on the ground and give me four yards or more. I thought he ran really, really well after that.”

Once he got going, Johnson was hard to bring down. He had runs of 13, 6, 9, 10 and 6 yards over his final 10 carries.

QB Phillip Sims

The Cardinals trailed 19-9 when Sims - an undrafted rookie out of Winston-Salem State - entered the game in the fourth quarter. Just over 11 minutes later the Cardinals had tied the game at 19. Sims led the Cardinals on scoring drives of 15 plays (77 yards) and 7 plays (47 yards) in his two series and completed 8 of 13 pass attempts for 82 yards while also running for eight yards on two carries.

Sims has completed 11 of 25 pass attempts for 131 yards and a TD in his two appearances this preseason.

“It slowed down a tad bit,” Sims said of the difference between his first game and last week. “You still have bullets flying all over the place. You have to find a way to settle in and get smart with the football, that’s the most important part.”

CARDS ADD A RECORD BREAKER

Last Monday (8/17) the Cardinals signed RB Chris Johnson to a one-year contract. A three-time Pro Bowler, Johnson was a first-team All-Pro selection in 2009 when he was also named NFL Offensive Player of the Year with Tennessee after leading the league with 2,006 rushing yards.

He became just the sixth player in league history to top 2,000 rushing yards in a season and remains one of just seven players in NFL history to ever accomplish the feat.

NFL’s All-Time 2,000-Yard Rushers (Season)

Rnk	Player (Team)	Yards	Year
1	Eric Dickerson (L.A. Rams)	2,105	1984
2	Adrian Peterson (Min)	2,097	2012
3	Jamal Lewis (Bal)	2,066	2003
4	Barry Sanders (Det)	2,053	1997

6	Chris Johnson (Ten)	2,006	2009
7	O.J. Simpson (Buf)	2,003	1973

Johnson entered the league as a first-round pick (24th overall) with the Titans in 2008 out of East Carolina and he earned Pro Bowl honors in each of his first three seasons in the NFL (2008-10). He posted six consecutive 1,000-yard rushing seasons to begin his career and his 8,628 rushing yards since entering the league rank as the second-highest total in the NFL during that span.

3	Matt Forte (Chi)	7,704
4	Frank Gore (Ind)	7,668
5	Marshawn Lynch (Sea)	7,580

Johnson’s Career Highlights

- In seven NFL seasons with the Titans (2008-13) and Jets (2014) has played in 111 career games (99 starts) and run for 8,628 yards and 51 TDs on 1,897 carries. Also has 296 receptions for 2,154 yards and nine TDs.
- In addition to his 2,006 rushing yards in 2009, added a career-best 503 receiving yards on 50 catches to set an NFL single-season record with 2,509 yards from scrimmage, breaking Marshall Faulk’s record of 2,429 yards in 1999.
- Ran for more than 1,000 yards in each of his first six seasons, becoming just the sixth player in league history to do so, joining Barry Sanders, Corey Dillon, Curtis Martin, Eric Dickerson and LaDainian Tomlinson.
- Has run for an NFL-record six TDs of at least 80 yards in his career.

GUNTER GETS INCREASED ROLE

Last week, the Cardinals placed DT Corey Peters on injured reserve following an achilles injury suffered in practice on Wednesday (8/19). Peters was one of Arizona’s free agent signings in the offseason. He signed a three-year contract with the Cards after spending his first five NFL seasons with the Atlanta Falcons.

After announcing that Peters would miss the 2015 season, head coach Bruce Arians said that rookie Rodney Gunter would take his spot in the starting lineup.

The Cardinals fourth round pick (116th overall) in the 2015 NFL Draft out of Delaware State, Gunter has made a big impression in both training camp and in preseason action. Making his NFL debut in the Cardinals preseason opener vs. Kansas City, Gunter made one of the game’s most memorable plays with a highlight-worthy sack of Chiefs QB Aaron Murray for a safety in the fourth quarter.

IUPATI TO MISS TIME

On the same day the Cardinals announced that DT Corey Peters would miss the 2015 season it was also announced that Pro Bowl G Mike Iupati would undergo surgery to repair a torn meniscus in his knee.

Head coach Bruce Arians said that Iupati - the Cardinals marquee free agent signing in the offseason - will be out anywhere between three and eight weeks.

LEADERSHIP AT THE TOP

The Cardinals have been in the Bidwill family since Pro Football Hall of Famer Charles Bidwill purchased the team in 1933. Charles' son Bill handled day-to-day operations for decades before passing the torch to his son Michael.

Since Michael Bidwill took over as team President in 2007, the Cardinals have gone .500 or better in six of eight seasons (just twice in previous 20 years) and posted three double-digit win seasons (none in previous 20).

The 2014 season marked the third time the Cardinals earned a spot in the postseason since Bidwill took over in '07. Between 1933 (when the NFL first instituted a postseason) and 2006 the Cardinals made the playoffs just six times. Arizona's Wild Card matchup in Carolina was the seventh postseason game since Bidwill took over. Between 1933 (when the NFL instituted a postseason) and 2006 the Cardinals played just seven total postseason games.

Michael spearheaded the effort that led to the creation of University of Phoenix Stadium, which preceded that aforementioned run of on-field success. The Cardinals have sold out all 95 games played (preseason and postseason included) and the stadium since it opened in 2006; in 18 years at Sun Devil Stadium, just 12 games were sold out.

The team's current popularity is best-reflected by unprecedented levels of local TV ratings for game broadcasts, which set a variety of club records in 2014.

Michael was pivotal not only in helping Arizona land Super Bowl XLIX - the second in eight seasons at University of Phoenix Stadium - but he also secured the 2015 Pro Bowl. Played a week apart earlier this year, the game delivered a record economic impact of $720 million to the region.

A MAN WITH VISION

In May, Bidwill was honored with the Vision Award from the Greater Phoenix Convention & Visitors Bureau. He became just the fourth individual to receive the rarely-presented Vision Award, which recognizes exceptional leadership. The three previous recipients were Phoenix mayors Skip Rimsza and Phil Gordon and former Suns and Diamonbacks owner Jerry Colangelo.

NINE DAYS - TWO GREAT HIRES

In a nine-day span in January of 2013, Cardinals President Michael Bidwill hired GM Steve Keim (Jan. 8) and head coach Bruce Arians (Jan. 17).

In the two seasons since the Cardinals have gone 10-6 and 11-5; those 21 wins tied the franchise record for most in consecutive seasons. Keim has been named NFL Executive of the Year by multiple outlets each of his first two seasons as GM and in 2014 Arians earned Associated Press NFL Coach of the Year honors for the second time in three years.

Both Keim and Arians had multiple years remaining on their contracts but were rewarded by Bidwill with extensions in March.

In January of 2013 there were eight head coach openings. None was hired later than Arians and he was the only one of the eight to make the postseason in 2014. Three of the eight no longer hold those jobs.

PRODUCING WINNING RESULTS

GM Steve Keim is a homegrown talent of sorts for the Cardinals. He spent 15 seasons in the team's personnel department before being elevated to GM in January of 2013.

The results the team has produced during his first two seasons have made him one of the league's most respected GMs. He was named Pro Football Talk's Executive of the Year in both 2013 and 2014, adding Sporting News Executive of the Year honors following the 2014 season.

The Cardinals are coming off back-to-back 10+ win seasons in Keim's first two years as GM and he worked tirelessly in that time. As soon as he was elevated to GM in 2013, Keim began re-shaping the roster. The overhaul was dramatic - and resulted in a 21-11 record. During his first 24 months at the helm, Keim made a total of 410 roster moves, including 217 moves in 2014 as the Cardinals tied the franchise record for wins in a season (11) and earned a spot in the postseason.

MAKING HIS MARK ON THE ROSTER

- Of the 53 players on the Cardinals final 2014 roster, 40 were acquired by Keim during his time as GM.
- Of the 41 players who started a game for Arizona last season, 30 were brought in by Keim.
- Arizona's final 53-man roster last season featured 17 players who were either drafted by Keim or signed as rookie free agents (12 draft picks, 5 rookie free agents).
- Of the 16 draft picks for the Cardinals between 2013-14, 13 remain with the team. Of the Cardinals 7 draft picks in 2014, 6 appeared in multiple games.
- In addition to the contributions made by 2014 free agent signings such as LT Jared Veldheer, G/C Ted Larsen, Keim added young talent in S Deone Bucannon and WR John Brown (NFL Draft) and K Chandler Catanzaro (rookie free agent). Bucannon earned PFWA All-Rookie honors at safety while Brown (four game-winning TD catches) and Catanzaro (17 consecutive FGs to start his career) went on to establish NFL rookie scoring records.

•Keim was busy again during the 2015 offseason. In free agency, the team landed prized Pro Bowl G Mike Iupati, LBs Sean Weatherspoon and LaMarr Woodley, and defensive linemen Cory Redding and Corey Peters. Just prior to training camp, Keim landed Pro Bowl TE Jermaine Gresham and last week added another Pro Bowler in RB Chris Johnson. In total, 35 of the 90 players on the current roster were not with the team at any point last season.

HONORING THE CARDINALS

After tying the franchise record for wins in a season last year, a number of individuals from the Cardinals organization were recognized for their work both on the field and off. GM Steve Keim, head coach Bruce Arians and WR Larry Fitzgerald all received prominent awards following the season.

ARIANS MAKES IT TWO OF THREE

Bruce Arians was named the Associated Press 2014 NFL Coach of the Year after leading the Cardinals to an 11-5 record and a berth in the postseason. It marked the second time in three years Arians was awarded NFL Coach of the Year honors (Indy, 2012) and he became the first coach in NFL history to be named Coach of the Year multiple times in a three-year span with multiple teams.

Arians became the 11th coach in NFL history to win the award multiple times and the sixth to be honored with multiple teams. He also became one of just five coaches in NFL history to earn AP COY honors twice in a three-year span.

NEW LEADER ON DEFENSE

James Bettcher was named the Cardinals defensive coordinator on 2/4/15 after spending the last two seasons coaching outside linebackers. Entering his fourth season as an NFL coach, Bettcher is among 26 new coordinators in the NFL in 2015.

As OLBs coach the last two years, Bettcher helped guide Alex Okafor to a team-high 8.0 sacks in 2014 and coached John Abraham to his fifth career Pro Bowl in 2013 when he led the team with 11.5 sacks, the most by a LB in a season in team history. Prior to joining the Cardinals, Bettcher was with the Colts in 2012 as Special Asst. to the Head Coach/Outside Linebackers coach after spending nine years as a college coach.

The 37-year old Bettcher is the third-youngest defensive coordinator in the NFL and the seventh-youngest coordinator overall.

The Cardinals also brought in two new assistant coaches on the defensive side of the ball this season in linebackers coach Bob Sanders and inside linebackers coach Larry Foote.

Sanders is entering his 37th year of coaching and his 15th year as an NFL assistant, most recently serving as linebackers coach in Oakland from 2013-14. He has also coached with the Dolphins, Packers and Bills, including a stint as Green Bay's defensive coordinator from 2006-08.

Foote is making the transition to coaching after playing the last 13 years in the NFL, winning two Super Bowls as a Steeler and spending the 2014 season with the Cardinals when he led the team with 105 tackles.

WINNING RESULTS

Bruce Arians accumulated a 21-11 record in his first two seasons in Arizona. His 21 wins are more than any head coach in franchise history through his first 32 games.

Franchise History - Record Thru 1st 32 Games

WELTER MAKES HISTORY IN AZ

The preseason opener between the Cardinals and Chiefs made NFL history as Arizona coaching intern Jen Welter became the first woman to coach in an NFL game and line judge Sarah Thomas began her job as the league's first full-time female official.

Every year the Cardinals hire a group of coaches to serve as training camp interns. Among the seven individuals brought aboard by head coach Bruce Arians in 2015 was Welter. The first woman to hold a coaching position in the NFL, Welter is working with the team's inside linebackers during camp.

Welter brings with her an extensive football resume. In February of 2014, she played running back and special teams for the Indoor Football League's Texas Revolution. This past February she became the first female to coach in a men's pro football league when hired by the Revolution to coach linebackers and special teams. A rugby player at Boston College, Welter has more than 14 years of professional football experience as a linebacker, mostly with the Dallas Diamonds of the Women's Football Alliance, helping them win four championships. She also earned two gold medals with Team USA at the International Federation of American Football (IFAF) Women's World Championship. Welter holds a master's degree in sport psychology and a PhD in psychology.

BIDWILL COACHING FELLOWSHIP

A former Pro Bowl LB, Levon Kirkland is the inaugural participant in the Bill Bidwill Coaching Fellowship, a program established by the Cardinals to provide recently-retired NFL players with the opportunity to gain coaching experience at the highest level. For the next two seasons, Kirkland will work with the outside linebackers in Arizona.

Selected by the Pittsburgh Steelers in the second round (38th overall) of the 1992 NFL Draft out of Clemson, the 46-year old Kirkland played 11 NFL seasons with the Steelers (1992-2000), Seahawks (2001) and Eagles (2002). A two-time Pro Bowler (1996-97) and first-team All-Pro in 1997, he appeared in 176 games (155 starts) and registered 1,110 tackles, 19.5 sacks, 11 interceptions, 16 forced fumbles and nine recoveries.

TEN YEARS IN THE NEST

The Cardinals opened their 10th season at University of Phoenix Stadium when they hosted the Kansas City Chiefs in the preseason opener.

The Cardinals finished the 2014 season with a 7-1 record at University of Phoenix Stadium. Arizona's seven home wins last season represented the highest single season total since 1925, when the team won 11 of its 13 home games.

Franchise Record – Most Home Wins

Year	W-L	Year	W-L
1925	11-2	2008	6-2
1923	8-3	2007	6-2
1922	8-2	1976	6-2
2014	7-1	1975	6-1
2013	6-2	1970	6-1
2011	6-2

The Cardinals have posted at least six home wins in a season 11 times in franchise history and five of those have come in just nine seasons at University of Phoenix Stadium. Arizona never won six home games in a season during its 18 years playing at Sun Devil Stadium (1988-2005).

Arizona has a 13-3 home record in the last two seasons and the team's .813 win percentage in that span represents the fifth-best mark in the NFL.

2	Denver	.938	15	1	0
3	Seattle	.875	14	2	0
4	Cincinnati	.844	13	2	1
5	Arizona	.813	13	3	0

Dating back to the inaugural season in '06, the Cardinals hold a 49-26 home record, including postseason, and the team has finished with a .500 record or better at home in seven of eight seasons.

UNIVERSITY OF PHOENIX STADIUM - NUMBERS, FACTS & FIGURES

95 - Consecutive sellouts (including preseason and postseason) at University of Phoenix Stadium (compared to just 12 total in 18 seasons at Sun Devil Stadium).

2 - Super Bowls held at University of Phoenix Stadium - XLIII in 2008 (Giants over Patriots) and XLIX in 2015 (Patriots over Seahawks).

$719 million - Economic impact that resulted from Super Bowl XLIX and the 2015 Pro Bowl being played in University of Phoenix Stadium. That represents the largest economic impact of any special event held in the state of Arizona and the highest of any Super Bowl on record.

5,807,524 - Total number of fans who have attended a Cardinals game at University of Phoenix Stadium (including preseason and postseason).

1,218 - Days between the stadium groundbreaking (4/12/03) and the inaugural game at the stadium (8/12/06 vs. Pittsburgh, Preseason).

34-27 - Score of the Cardinals victory over the San Francisco 49ers in the first regular season game ever played at University of Phoenix Stadium on September 10, 2006.

454,785 - Votes in favor of Proposition 302 stadium legislation in 2000.

2.6 million - Total number of hours put in by workers during construction project.

65 - Minutes it takes for the retractable field to roll completely into the stadium, covering a distance of 740 feet.

8-2 - Cardinals record in overtime games at University of Phoenix Stadium, including postseason. Between 2007 and 2012, the Cardinals won an NFL-record seven consecutive OT home games in the regular season.

7-1 - Arizona's record at home in 2014. The Cardinals seven home wins last year were the most in a single season since 1925, when the team won 11 of its 13 home games.

4 - NFL teams that have never played a game at University of Phoenix Stadium. That number will be cut to three when the Cardinals host the Ravens on Monday Night Football in Week 7, leaving only the Jaguars, Jets and Titans as the only teams yet to play at the venue.

SELLOUTS PROVIDE ADVANTAGE

Having a sellout crowd on hand - and the ensuing noise it produces - at University of Phoenix Stadium every game has given the Cardinals one of the NFL's most distinct advantages.

Dating back to the inaugural year at the stadium in 2006, Cardinals opponents have accumulated 127 accepted false start penalties, the most for any home team in the NFL during that span.

NFL Leaders - Opponent False Start Penalties (2006-Present)

WILSON GOING INTO THE RING

During halftime of the Week 3 matchup vs. San Francisco at University of Phoenix Stadium, the Cardinals will induct former SS Adrian Wilson into the Ring of Honor.

Wilson spent 12 seasons (2001-12) with the Cardinals after joining the team as a third-round selection (64th overall) in the 2001 NFL Draft out of N.C. State. A five-time Pro Bowl selection (2006, 2008-11) and three time All-Pro selection (2006, 2008-09), he finished his NFL career with 987 tackles (716 solos), 25.5 sacks, 27 INTs, 106 passes defensed, 15 forced fumbles, eight fumble recoveries and four TDs in 181 regular season games (162 starts). Wilson and Hall of Famer Larry Wilson (1962-63, '65-70) are the only two safeties in team history selected to five or more Pro Bowls.

A five-time team captain (2007, 2009-12), the 35-year old Wilson is one of just six players in NFL history (Ronde Barber, Brian Dawkins, Rodney Harrison, Ray Lewis, William Thomas) with at least 25 sacks and 25 interceptions. His 181 games played rank as the sixth-highest total in team history and the second most among Cardinals defenders behind only Hall of Fame defensive back Roger Wehrli (193). Wilson's 27 INT's rank sixth in team history, his 25.5 sacks rank 12th on the Cardinals all-time list, his 508 INT return yards rank fifth and his four NFC Defensive Player of the Week selections are the most in team history.

Wilson signed a one-day contract to return to the team on April 20, 2015 and officially retired the next day, exactly 14 years to the day after he was drafted by the Cardinals.

Wilson becomes the 15th member of the Cardinals Ring of Honor, the creation of which coincided with the opening of University of Phoenix Stadium in 2006. He is the third safety in the group whose 14 other members are: Charles W. Bidwill, Sr. (Owner), Jimmy Conzelman (Coach), T Dan Dierdorf, HB John "Paddy" Driscoll, HB/DB Marshall Goldberg, CB Dick "Night Train" Lane, HB Ollie Matson, HB Ernie Nevers, S Pat Tillman, HB Charley Trippi, QB Kurt Warner, CB Roger Wehrli, CB Aeneas Williams and S Larry Wilson.

Eleven of the 14 members of the Cardinals Ring of Honor are also enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

BY THE NUMBERS

95

Sellouts at University of Phoenix Stadium (preseason and postseason included) following the first two preseason games of 2015. The Cardinals have sold out every game played at the stadium since it opened in 2006.

11-5

Cardinals record in 2014. Arizona's 11 wins tied for the most in franchise history in a single season (1974, 1948 and 1925).

21

Wins for the Cardinals in the last two seasons (11-5 in '14 and 10-6 in '13). That ties the franchise record for most wins in back-to-back seasons (21, 1974-75 and 1975-76). Only Denver (25), Seattle (25), New England (24) and Indianapolis (22) had more wins over the last two seasons.

109

Total games lost to injury by a combined 21 different Cardinals players in 2014.

217

Total roster moves made by General Manager Steve Keim during the 2014 calendar year.

3

Playoff berths for the Cardinals since Michael Bidwill took over as team President in 2007. Between 1933 (when the NFL first instituted a postseason) and 2006 the Cardinals made the postseason just six times. The Wild Card matchup in Carolina marked Arizona's seventh playoff game in a span of seven seasons. The Cardinals had just seven total playoff games in franchise history prior to that.

6

Individuals to win Coach of the Year with multiple teams. Bruce Arians joined that list after being name COY in 2014, joining George Allen, Chuck Knox, Bill Parcells, Dan Reeves and Don Shula. Arians is the only coach in NFL history to be named Coach of the Year twice in three years with different teams.

80

Players on the current Cardinals 88-man roster that were brought in by GM Steve Keim since his promotion on January 8, 2013. Keim was named Sporting News NFL Executive of the Year in 2014 and has earned back-to-back Executive of the Year honors from the editors of Pro Football Talk.

7-1

Arizona's record at home in 2014. The Cardinals seven home wins were the most in a single season since 1925 (11).

13

Games in which the Cardinals held opponents to 20 points or fewer last season, the highest total in the NFL. That total also tied the franchise record for a 16-game season (1994).

18.7

Average points allowed per game for Arizona in '14, the fifth-best mark in the NFL.

+8

Cardinals turnover margin in 2014 (25 takeaways, 17 giveaways). That represents the team's best turnover margin in a season since 1974 (+8) and is tied for the fourth-best total in franchise history.

9

Wins for the Cardinals last season in games in which they trailed at some point. That represents a franchise record for a single season and it tied Pittsburgh for the highest total in the NFL in 2014.

16-6

Carson Palmer's record as a starting QB with the Cardinals from 2013-14, including a 6-0 mark last season, which represents the best record for a Cardinals QB in his first 22 games in the modern era.

4

Number of players to be chosen to four Pro Bowls prior to their 25th birthday, with Patrick Peterson becoming the fourth last year and joining Hall of Fame running backs Jim Brown, Emmitt Smith and Barry Sanders.

170

Career games played in a Cardinal uniform for Larry Fitzgerald, the ninth-most in franchise history. The 12-year veteran could pass Ernie McMillan (178), Larry Stallings (180) and Adrian Wilson (181) and move as high as sixth in 2015.

AN EXTRA CHANGE IN 2015

At the spring owner's meetings in May, a new rule was approved that will change extra point attempts. The new rule is as follows:

EXTRA POINT: The extra point attempt will now be snapped from the 15-yard line. Two point-conversions will remain at the two-yard line. Additionally, the defense will be able to return a blocked kick, interception or fumble for two points.

Prior to the rule change, extra points were snapped from the two-yard line. Point-after kicks will now be a 33-yard attempt.

So far this preseason, Cardinals K Chandler Catanzaro has made all three PATs he has attempted from the new distance. In 2014 he went 7-for-7 on FGs between 30 and 33 yards. In the past 10 seasons, Cardinals kickers have made 45 of 46 FGs from that distance.

NOTES ON THE '15 SCHEDULE

- Arizona plays three prime time games for the second consecutive season and two of them are again at University of Phoenix Stadium. The Cards will host the Ravens on ESPN's Monday Night Football (Week 7) and the Vikings on NFL Network's Thursday Night Football (Week 14). They also play in Seattle on NBC's Sunday Night Football (Week 10).

- The 2015 season marks the second straight year the Cardinals will play on Sunday, Monday and Thursday nights, something that never happened prior to last season.

- The Cards will play a Week 1 home game for the fourth time in the last five seasons when they host the Saints on 9/13. The Cardinals will play three of their first four games at University of Phoenix Stadium as well as three of their final four at home.

- After facing the Rams in Week 4, Arizona will play just two home games (Week 7 vs. Bal; Week 11 vs. Cin) over the span of 62 days.

- Two teams (Ravens & Bengals) will make their first-ever regular season visits to University of Phoenix Stadium leaving the Jaguars, Jets and Titans as the only NFL teams never to play at the venue that opened in 2006.

CARDS KEEP DRAWING THEM IN

The TV broadcast of the Cardinals preseason opener against the Kansas City Chiefs drew a 12.1 overall household rating locally on ABC 15.

Among the coveted demographic of viewers between 25-54, the Cards-Chiefs game drew an 8.7 rating and was the #1 sports broadcast in the Phoenix market since the start of July (second-ranked was Women's World Cup Soccer on July 5 with an 8.2 rating).

Among all TV programs in that time frame, only the Republican debate on August 6 had a higher rating among viewers 25-54 (10.9).

The large broadcast audience was in addition to the sold out crowd that attended the game in person. Including preseason and postseason, the Cardinals have sold out all 95 games they have played at University of Phoenix Stadium, which opened in August of 2006.

HIGHLIGHTS FROM 2014

TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

- The Cardinals posted an 11-5 record in 2014, tying the franchise record for wins in a season (1975, '49 and '25). Combined with the team's 10-6 mark in 2013, Arizona's 21 wins in the last two seasons tied the franchise record for wins in back-to-back seasons (1974-75 & 1975-76).
- The Cardinals earned their ninth playoff berth in franchise history, and third in the last seven seasons, in 2014. Arizona's Wild Card matchup vs. Carolina was the team's seventh postseason game in the last seven seasons. The Cardinals played seven postseason games in their entire history prior to that.
- Arizona's success last season came despite 21 different players combining to miss 109 games. That total includes 14 games by QBs Carson Palmer and Drew Stanton.
- Arizona finished the season with a 7-1 record at home in '14. The Cardinals seven home wins were the most in a single season since 1925 (11).
- The Cardinals sold out every home game in '14 and the team has now sold out all 93 games (preseason and postseason included) in nine seasons at University of Phoenix Stadium.
- Arizona's nine come-from-behind wins in '14 were the most in a single season in franchise history (8, 2013) and they tied Pittsburgh for the highest total in the NFL last season.
- Arizona allowed 20 points or fewer in an NFL-high 13 games in 2014.
- The Cardinals +8 turnover margin in '14 tied for the fourth-best total in franchise history and it made the best total ever in a 16-game season.

INDIVIDUAL PLAYER HIGHLIGHTS

WR Larry Fitzgerald

In Week 15 at St. Louis reached 900 career receptions. At 31 years, 102 days old he became the youngest player in NFL history to reach the mark. In Week 11 became the second-youngest player in NFL history (31 years, 77 days) to reach 12,000 career receiving yards (Randy Moss - 30 years, 306 days).

QB Carson Palmer

Became the first Cardinals QB to win each of his first six starts in a season since Jim Hart (7) in 1974. Improved to 16-6 as the Cards QB, the best record for an Arizona QB in his first 22 games with the team in the modern era.

WR Michael Floyd

Hauled in a career-high six TD catches on the season and his 17.9 yards per reception average (47 for 841) was the second-best in the NFL in 2014 behind only Washington's DeSean Jackson (20.9).

RB Andre Ellington

Despite missing the final four games of the season, totaled 1,055 yards in 2014 (660 rushing yards; 395 receiving yards). He joined RB Ottis Anderson (1979-80) as the only players in franchise history to record 1,000+ yards from scrimmage in each of their first two NFL seasons.

QB Drew Stanton

Posted a 5-3 record as a starter in place of the injured Carson Palmer, including a perfect 3-0 mark at home. His start (and win) in Week 2 against the Giants was his first game played since 2010, a span of 1,365 days.

DE Calais Campbell

Named to the Pro Bowl for the first time and earned second-team All-Pro honors after totaling 59 tackles, 7.0 sacks, three passes defensed and 17 QB pressures. It marked his sixth consecutive season with 50+ tackles and 6.0+ sacks, extending his franchise record.

CB Patrick Peterson

Selected to his fourth consecutive Pro Bowl (3rd as a CB), joining Hall of Famers Jim Brown, Barry Sanders and Emmitt Smith as the only players in NFL history to be chosen to four Pro Bowls before their 25th birthday.

S Rashad Johnson

Posted season highs in tackles (92), INTs (4) and passes defensed (6) and also recorded his first career sack. Returned two of his team-high four INTs for TDs.

CB Justin Bethel

Selected to the Pro Bowl for the second straight season on special teams, where he recorded a team-high 18 tackles, a forced fumble and blocked FG. Named NFC Special Teams Player of the Month for December.

K Chandler Catanzaro

Tied the NFL record for most consecutive FGs made to begin a career (17) and established a new franchise rookie record with 114 points on the season. Was twice named NFC Special Teams Player of the Week (Weeks 6 and 15).

ARIZONA WINS 11

Arizona posted an 11-5 record in 2014, tying the franchise record for wins in the regular season. The Cardinals 11 wins in '14 were the most in a season since 1975 (11) and it marked just the fourth time in team history that the Cards won 11 games in a season.

Franchise History - Seasons with 10+ Wins

Record	Year	Record	Year
11-5	2014	10-6	2013
11-3	1975	10-6	2009
11-1	1948	10-4	1976
11-3	1925	10-4	1974

Combined with their 10-6 record in 2013, the Cardinals had 21 combined wins in the last two seasons. That tied the franchise record for wins in back-to-back years.

Franchise Record - Wins in 2-Year Span

Rnk	Years	Wins
1t	2013-14	21
1t	1975-76	21
1t	1974-75	21
4	1947-48	20
5	2008-09	19

The Cardinals are one of just seven NFL teams to have posted double-digit wins in each of the last two seasons. Among NFC teams, only Seattle (25) have more wins over the last two seasons than Arizona (21).

NFL Leaders - Wins (2013-14)

Rnk	Team	Wins

WINNING IN ARIZONA

Arizona State football has also posted 10 wins each of the last two years. That makes Phoenix the only market with an NFL team and Division I FBS program that each won 10 or more games each of last two seasons.

REACHING THE POSTSEASON

The Cardinals earned the ninth playoff berth in franchise history after posting an 11-5 record in 2014. The Wild Card matchup against the Panthers represented Arizona's seventh postseason game in seven seasons. The Cards played just seven total playoff games in the previous 74 years between 1933 (when the NFL instituted a postseason) and 2007. The Cardinals have four postseason wins since '08, doubling the total the franchise collected in their previous playoff history.

COMEBACK CARDS

The Cardinals trailed at some point in 14 of 16 games last season and posted a 9-5 record in those contests. Arizona's nine come-from-behind wins in '14 were the most in a single season in franchise history (8, 2013) and they tied Pittsburgh for the highest total in the NFL.

4TH QUARTER COMEBACKS

In 2014, Detroit (5), Arizona (4) and Cleveland (4) were the only teams in the NFL with at least four wins when trailing in the 4th quarter.

WINNING DESPITE THE INJURIES

Going all the way back to training camp in 2014 - when DT Darnell Dockett was placed on injured reserve with a knee injury - the Cardinals suffered losses to every phase of the roster last season. Those losses piled up heavily during the latter part of the year, especially at quarterback. During the team's Week 15 win in St. Louis, QB Drew Stanton - who had already replaced Carson Palmer (knee) as the team's starter - was forced from the game early in the third quarter with a knee injury.

Palmer - who had won all six of his starts in '14 (and 13 of 15 dating back to '13) - was lost for the season after suffering a knee injury against the Rams in Week 10. In the win over St. Louis in Week 15, Stanton was forced from the game and third-string QB Ryan Lindley took the remaining snaps under center. He came on in relief of Stanton in St. Louis and also started the final two games of the regular season and the team's Wild Card matchup in Carolina.

In the Cardinals Week 13 contest at Atlanta, RB Andre Ellington (core), S Tyrann Mathieu (thumb) and G Paul Fanaika (ankle) all left due to injury. Ellington was out for the season while Fanaika and Mathieu each missed a pair of games.

Ellington and rookie DT Ed Stinson (toe) were the final two players to end up on IR in 2014. Ellington, Stinson, Dockett, Palmer, LB John Abraham (concussion), P Dave Zastudil (groin) and rookie TE Troy Niklas were all lost for the season.

In the regular season finale at San Francisco, LB Larry Foote became the 21st different Arizona player to miss at least one game due to injury in '14. Cardinals players lost a combined 109 total regular season games to injury during the regular season. That includes 12 games by the team's top two QBs.

A TEAM EFFORT IN 2014

The Cardinals entered the 2014 season with a QB (Carson Palmer) who had seven career seasons with 3,000+ passing yards - including four 4,000-yard seasons - a pair of receivers (Larry Fitzgerald and Michael Floyd) who had combined for seven 1,000-yard seasons and a RB (Andre Ellington) who looked poised for his first 1,000-yard rushing season.

As the season played out, injuries hampered the production of many of the Cardinals most prolific offensive players and Arizona posted an 11-5 record despite not having a QB with 2,000 yards passing, a WR with 900 yards receiving or a RB with 700 yards rushing.

With many of the team's most potent offensive weapons limited due to injury, the Cardinals relied on key performances by backups and rookies en route to a berth in the postseason. WR John Brown hauled in an NFL rookie record four game-winning TD receptions, K Chandler Catanzaro established franchise rookie records with 29 FGs and 114 points, backup RBs Stepfan Taylor and Kerwynn Williams provided production out of the backfield and for the first time in franchise history, the Cardinals had four different QBs throw at least one TD pass in '14. Arizona became the first team since the 1995 Pittsburgh Steelers to win at least 11 games in a season in which four different QBs threw a TD pass. Kordell Stewart, Mike Tomczak, Jim Miller and Neil O'Donnell all had at least one TD pass for Pittsburgh that year.

RECORD TV RATINGS IN 2014

The Cardinals enjoyed great success in 2014 and Valley television viewers turned out in record numbers to watch them.

According to the NFL & The Nielsen Company, the local telecasts of the Cardinals 16 regular season games averaged a 27.5 rating, 49 share and were watched in 504,000 households on average.

Those 2014 TV numbers shattered the club's single-season marks.

	2014	Previous record	Pct higher than previous record
Rating	27.5	22.6 ('09)	21.7%
Share	49	42 ('13)	16.7%
Avg Households	504,000	432,000 ('09)	16.7%

Nine of Arizona's 16 games had an audience of over half-a-million local households. Seven times the broadcasts generated a share of 50+, meaning more than half of Valley households watching TV at the time were tuned in to the Cards game. The team also had twice as many games in 2014 with a rating over 25 (14) than it did from 1988-2013 combined (7).

• The Cardinals final TV numbers increased 28% from 2013, the largest such jump in the NFL.

• In a listing of the most-watched programs of any kind in the Phoenix market from Labor Day to New Year's, the 16 Cardinals game broadcasts occupy spots 1-16.

• The 12/21 game vs. Seattle was the most-watched regular season game in team history with a 33.4 rating and audience of 612,000 households.

• Home games vs. Philadelphia on 10/26 and Detroit on 11/16 each had a 55 share; in Cards regular season history only the 1998 regular season finale vs. San Diego had a higher one (58).

• The regular season finale at San Fran was seen in 536,000 Valley homes making it the team's most-watched regular season road game ever.

• Dating back to 2013, the last 20 Cardinals games have drawn a local TV audience of over 400,000 households, extending the longest such streak in team history (previous was four, 2009-10).

• To put in context, the average Cardinals game drew a larger audience than Phoenix's most-watched non-NFL program of 2014, the Academy Awards on 3/2 (27.0 rating, 49 share, 501k households).

• Those strong TV numbers are in addition to the 616,955 fans who attended games in person at University of Phoenix Stadium in 2014, allowing the team to extend its sellout streak to 93.

TOP FIVE IN SCORING DEFENSE

The Cardinals allowed just 18.7 points per game in 2014. That was the fifth-lowest total in the NFL last season.

NFL Leaders - Points Allowed/Game (2014)

Rnk	Team	P/G
1	Seattle	15.9

UNDER 300

Arizona allowed just 299 points in 2014. Prior to last season, the last time the Cardinals allowed fewer than 300 points in a season was in 1994 (267).

Arizona's success in limiting its opponents scoring was not exclusive to last season. Over the last two seasons, the Cardinals allowed just 19.5 points per game. That ranked as the fifth-best total in the NFL over that span.

NFL Leaders - Points Allowed/Game (2013-14)

Rnk	Team	P/G
1	Seattle	15.2
2	Kansas City	18.3
3	San Francisco	19.1
4	Carolina	19.2
5	Arizona	19.5

Arizona held opponents to 20 points or fewer 13 times last season. The Cardinals 13 games allowing 20 points or fewer in 2014 tied the franchise record (1994) for a 16-game season. Arizona's 13 games allowing 20 points or fewer were also the most in the NFL in '14, with Detroit (11) ranking second.

Between Weeks 6 and Week 12 of last season, the Cardinals went seven straight games allowing 20 points or fewer, which was the longest streak in the NFL in 2014. Arizona allowed just seven TDs in those seven games.

NEW FACES IN 2015

Below is a breakdown of the new faces in Arizona this season:

- The Cards have added 15 veteran free agents, 7 draft picks and 13 rookie free agents this season. In all, 35 of the 88 players (39.8%) on the current roster were not with the Cardinals during the 2014 season.
- In 2013, Steve Keim's first season as GM, the Cardinals 90-man training camp roster featured 51 new players (56.7%) and last season 39 of the 90 players (43.3%) were new to the team.
- Of the 88 players on the Cardinals training camp roster, 43 appeared in at least one game for Arizona last season.

EARNING THEIR WAY

For two of the Cardinals 2015 draft picks, earning their keep off the field helped get them to the NFL.

DE Rodney Gunter (4th Round, 116th Overall) - Delaware State

Gunter didn't get a lot of attention from college scouts coming out of Haines City (FL) High School. That was because he played just one season of football, as a senior. His time on the gridiron was cut short because he was working 32 hours a week after school as a dishwasher and waiter at Spring Haven Retirement Home. He did so to help pay the household bills for his single mother and two younger brothers.

Delaware State was the only school to offer him a football scholarship. He made the most of the opportunity and went on to become a four-year starter and three-time All-MEAC selection. Despite that, Gunter wasn't ranked by the NFL's main scouting services and wasn't invited to attend the NFL Combine. When the Cardinals traded up in the fourth round to select him, Gunter was the first individual selected in the 2015 Draft that was not invited to the NFL Combine.

RB David Johnson (3rd Round, 86th Overall) - Northern Iowa

While at UNI, Johnson earned his way on the Dean's List twice for having a GPA of 3.5 or above. Johnson also worked full-time jobs all four summers while at NIU. He worked on a crew removing asbestos his first summer and he worked 5:30 AM to 2:00 PM every day over the final three summers as a maintenance man in the school dorms. That allowed him to stay on campus to work out.

ROOKIE FREE AGENTS

An annual part of training camp is watching to see which undrafted free agents can overcome the odds and make the 53-man roster. The Cardinals have 13 rookie free agents in camp this year that are hoping to follow in the footsteps of players such as Lyle Sendlein, Chandler Catanzaro, Jaron Brown and Tony Jefferson to make the opening day roster after joining the team as a free agent out of college.

The Cardinals have several players with NFL game experience on their roster who originally entered the NFL as an undrafted free agent.

Notable Former Rookie Free Agents

LB Lorenzo Alexander – Since entering the league, has been named a team captain five different times and was selected to the Pro Bowl (special teams) in 2012 with the Redskins
T Cameron Bradfield – Played in 41 games (27 starts) in four years with the Jaguars
WR Jaron Brown – Played in all 16 games last season and had 22 receptions and two touchdowns
P Drew Butler – Tied for the NFL lead with 34 punts inside the 20-yard line last season
LB Glenn Carson – Appeared in the last five games of the 2014 season and had 13 tackles as a rookie
K Chandler Catanzaro – Tied the NFL record for most consecutive made FG's to begin a career (17). Established a franchise rookie record with 114 points last season
LB Kenny Demens – Saw action in 14 games last season as one of the Cardinals top special teams players
TE Darren Fells – Brother of fellow NFL TE Daniel Fells. Played basketball in college at UC Irvine and started five games in 2014
WR Brittan Golden – Made NFL debut with Cardinals in 2013 and averaged 34.0 yards on four receptions
RB Robert Hughes – Played in every game in 2014 and set career highs with eight receptions for 140 yards
S Tony Jefferson – Finished with 74 tackles last season, which ranked fourth on the team, and has played in every game the last two seasons
LS Mike Leach – Has played in 200 consecutive games, the second longest active streak in the NFL (Shane Lechler). Has played in 219 career games
DE Josh Mauro – Saw action in five games and started two as a rookie in 2014
C Lyle Sendlein – Now in his ninth season with the Cardinals, Sendlein has appeared in 119 games (109 starts) in Arizona and is a four-time team captain
T Bradley Sowell – Has played in every game the last two years with the Cardinals, including making 12 starts at left tackle in 2013
WR Ryan Spadola – Appeared in four games total with the Jets and Dolphins as a rookie in 2013

UNCOMMON SPEED

One of the standouts of training camp to this point has been WR J.J. Nelson who was selected by the Cardinals in the fifth round (159th overall) of the 2015 NFL Draft out of Alabama-Birmingham.

Nelson first caught the attention of many when he turned in fastest 40-yard dash of any player at the 2015 NFL Combine, clocking in at 4.28 seconds. But Cardinals head coach Bruce Arians got a glimpse of Nelson's speed years earlier in a chance encounter.

"I was at a track meet in Alabama – the state championships and my granddaughter was running," Arians remembered following the selection of Nelson. "This kid from Midfield won the 100, 200, 4x1(00) – little skinny dude. My son and I go, 'Who in the hell is that?' It just happened to be J.J. Nelson."

ADDING ALL-STARS

The Cardinals sent four players - CBs Patrick Peterson and Antonio Cromartie, DE Calais Campbell and special teamer Justin Bethel - to the Pro Bowl last season. After adding T Mike Iupati, LB LaMarr Woodley, TE Jermaine Gresham and RB Chris Johnson during free agency, Arizona now has 10 players on the roster who have played in the NFL's annual all-star game. Iupati (3), Johnson (3), Gresham (2) and Woodley (1) have nine Pro Bowl appearances between them.

PALMER RETURNS IN 2015

QB Carson Palmer was off to one of the best starts of his 12-year career last season before suffering a torn ACL in his left knee during the fourth quarter of the Cards Week 10 win over St. Louis, ending his season.

Palmer was 6-0 as a starter for the Cardinals in '14. He became the first Cardinals QB to win six consecutive starts since Jim Hart in 1977 and the first Cards QB to win each of his first six starts in a season since Hart won seven straight in 1974.

Palmer's injury came as he was playing some of the best football of his career. He posted a 13-2 record in 15 starts before the injury. Dating back to Week 8 of the '13 season, his .867 win percentage ranked as the best mark among all NFL QBs.

QB's with Best Win % (Week 8 of '13 - Week 10 of '14)

Rnk	Player (Team)	Win%	W-L
1	Carson Palmer (AZ)	.867	13-2
2	Nick Foles (Phi)	.813	13-3
3	Tom Brady (NE)	.778	14-4
4	Peyton Manning (Den)	.778	14-4
5	Russell Wilson (Sea)	.722	13-5

In those 15 games Palmer completed 342 of 530 pass attempts (64.5%) for 4,159 yards, 27 TDs, 12 INTs and a 96.1 passer rating. He had a passer rating of 90.0+ in 11 of those 15 games and a 100.0+ rating in eight games.

In his six starts last season, Palmer completed 141 of 224 pass attempts (62.9%) for 1,626 yards, 11 TDs, just three INTs and a 95.6 passer rating.

MAKING HIS RETURN

Palmer suffered the injury against the Rams on 11/9/14. After taking part in a limited basis in the team's offseason OTAs, he was back on the field as a full participant just 212 days after the injury when the Cardinals held their mini-camp which began on June 9th.

When the Cardinals began practice at training camp at the beginning of August, teammates noticed that Palmer had not only recovered from the injury, but appeared in better shape than ever.

"I think he looks like Heisman Trophy winner Carson," CB Jerraud Powers said following a practice early in camp. "You can just tell, with the zip he has on the ball. Whatever he did this offseason, whether he changed his training regimen or whatever, it work. You can just tell the difference. He has a confidence about him."

PALMER IN ARIZONA

During his first two seasons in Arizona, Palmer has posted a 16-6 record as a starter, which represents the best record for a Cardinals QB in his first 22 games with the team in the modern era.

He has completed 503 of 796 pass attempts (63.2%) for 5,900 yards, 35 TDs, 25 INTs and an 87.2 pass rating. He threw for a career-high 4,274 yards in 2013 when he became the first player in NFL history to throw for 4,000+ yards in a season for three different teams.

BRINGING THE TEAM BACK

In his six starts last season, QB Carson Palmer led two fourth quarter comebacks in 2014, throwing game-winning TD passes in Week 1 vs. San Diego and in Week 8 vs. Philadelphia.

In 12 NFL seasons, Palmer has been the architect of 26 career game-winning drives, including 18 fourth quarter comebacks. He has led five fourth quarter comebacks in two seasons with the Cardinals.

TAKING THE REINS

Prior to last season, QB Drew Stanton had not played in an NFL game since 2010. He spent the next three seasons with three different teams (Detroit, Indianapolis and Arizona) serving as the backup to former first overall picks Andrew Luck, Matthew Stafford and Carson Palmer.

But when Palmer went down in Week 1 with a shoulder injury last season, Stanton took over and led the Cardinals to a 2-1 record in three starts.

When Stanton made the start against the Giants in Week 2 last season it marked his first game played since 12/19/10 vs. Tampa Bay as a member of the Lions, a span of 1,365 days between appearances.

When Palmer went down for the season with a torn ACL during the fourth quarter in Week 10, Stanton was back in action and handled the backup role perfectly, taking over with the Cardinals trailing 14-10 midway through the final quarter. Four plays and 89 yards later, Arizona had the lead for good as Stanton connected with rookie WR John Brown on a 48-yard TD pass with 7:49 remaining that gave the Cards a 17-14 lead.

Making his fourth start of the season against Detroit in Week 11, Stanton completed 21 of 32 pass attempts (65.6%) for a career-high 306 yards, two TDs, two INTs and a passer rating of 91.4.

Stanton led the Cardinals to their 10th win of the season in Week 14 as he piloted Arizona to a 17-14 victory over Kansas City. Down 14-9 late in the third quarter, Stanton's 26-yard TD pass to WR Jaron Brown on a 3rd-n-18 play proved to be the game-winner.

Stanton improved to 5-3 as a starter in '14 (and 6-3 in games he played) following the Cards win over St. Louis in Week 15. However, with the Cards leading 6-3 midway through the third quarter, Stanton was forced from the game with a knee injury that also forced him out of the final two games of the regular season and postseason.

Stanton posted a 3-0 record at home as a starter in '14 and 4-0 in games he played (led Arizona to a come-from-behind win in relief of starter Carson Palmer in Week 10 vs. St. Louis).

In four home appearances in '14, Stanton completed 57 of 100 pass attempts for 874 yards, six TDs, two INTs and a 97.7 passer rating.

Stanton at Home in 2014

Opponent	Att	Com	Yds	TD	INT	Rate
12/7 vs. Kansas City	30	15	239	1	0	88.1

11/9 vs. St. Louis	5	3	85	1	0	143.8
9/21 vs. San Francisco	33	18	244	2	0	98.5

Now in his ninth NFL season, Stanton was originally drafted by the Lions in the second round (43rd overall) of the 2007 NFL Draft. After spending his rookie season on injured reserve (knee), he went on to play in 12 games (4 starts) in five seasons in Detroit before signing with the Colts as a free agent in 2012.

A BATTLE FOR THIRD

With Carson Palmer and Drew Stanton securing the top two spots on the Cardinals QB depth chart, the preseason battle between second-year QB Logan Thomas and undrafted rookie Phillip Sims will decide who earns the third spot.

Logan Thomas

Thomas was selected by the Cardinals in the fourth round (120th overall) of the 2014 NFL Draft. He appeared in two regular season games and also played in the Wild Card matchup vs. Carolina as a rookie in 2014.

In his first career NFL appearance, Thomas threw an 81-yard TD pass to RB Andre Ellington for his first career completion in Week 5 at Denver.

Phillip Sims

Signed by the Cardinals as a rookie free agent in 2015, Sims played in 31 total games at Alabama (2010-11), Virginia (2012) and Winston-Salem State (2013-14). He threw for 2,986 yards and 24 TDs in his collegiate career. Played all 11 games last season at Winston-Salem while sharing time at QB and finished the season as the team's leading passer after completing 118-of-198 pass attempts for 1,560 yards, 15 TDs and just four INTs.

One of the top QB recruits in the country coming out of Oscar Smith (Chesapeake, VA) High School, Sims served as the No. 2 QB with Alabama in 2011 and was a member of the team that won the BCS National Championship that season. Sims signed with the Cardinals after a tryout at rookie camp.

BIG EXPECTATIONS IN 2015

Under the tutelage of Offensive Coordinator Harold Goodwin, the Cardinals offensive line was one of the team's most improved units in 2014. That group was anchored by LT Jared Veldheer, who signed a five-year contract with the Cardinals as a free agent prior to the season. He went on to be named the team's MVP by the local PFWA.

Expectations for the Cardinals O-line are even higher this season with the addition of Pro Bowl G Mike Iupati - who signed a five-year contract with Arizona as a free agent after five seasons in San Francisco - and the return of G Jonathan Cooper. Cooper entered training camp this season healthy for the first time since the 2013 preseason when he was taken by the Cardinals in the first round of the NFL Draft. Ted Larsen, who started all 16 games for the Cardinals during his first season with the team in 2014 (14 at LG, 2 at RG) will also fight for a spot in the rotation.

Fourth-year pro Bobby Massie returns at RT, where he started all 16 games last season. It marked the second time in three seasons that Massie started all 16 regular season games. He will be pushed by rookie D.J. Humphries, who the Cardinals selected in the first round (24th overall) in the 2015 NFL Draft out of Florida and fourth-year NFL vet Bradley Sowell.

The competition at center revolves around offseason acquisition A.Q. Shipley and veteran Lyle Sendlein. A seventh round pick by the Steelers in 2009, Shipley has appeared in 45 games (19 starts) at both center and guard over the last three seasons with the Colts and Ravens. Released in the offseason following eight seasons with the Cardinals, Sendlein was re-signed in camp. He has appeared in 119 games (109 starts) at center for Arizona.

A BIG IMPROVEMENT IN 2014

The Cards O-line allowed just 28 sacks last season, tied for the sixth-fewest in the NFL. For comparison, Arizona's offensive line allowed 41 sacks in 2013.

Prior to the 2014 season, the Cardinals had allowed at least one sack in 51 consecutive games in a streak that stretched back to 2010. They allowed at least two sacks in 42 of those 51 games. Arizona allowed one sack or fewer in seven of 16 games last season.

AN ALL-STAR GUARD

Last year's biggest offseason acquisition was LT Jared Veldheer, who the Cardinals signed as a free agent from Oakland. In 2015, the team's biggest offseason pickup was the individual who will line up next to him - free agent LG Mike Iupati.

Iupati signed a five-year contract with Arizona on 3/11/15 after spending his first five NFL seasons with the 49ers. A three-time Pro Bowler (2012-14) and first-team All-Pro selection in 2012, Iupati started all 75 regular season games he played in and all eight postseason games in five years with San Francisco.

Iupati is the only active guard and one of just eight active offensive linemen to make the Pro Bowl at least three times in their first five NFL seasons. He is one of seven offensive linemen to be selected to the Pro Bowl each of the last three years and one of only three guards.

With 89 career TD catches, Larry Fitzgerald ranks 12th on the NFL's all-time TD receptions list. Among active players, only San Diego TE Antonio Gates has more receiving TDs than Fitzgerald.

STREAK CONTINUES IN 2015

WR Larry Fitzgerald enters the 2015 season - his 12th in the NFL - with at least one catch in 163 consecutive games. That represents a franchise record and it also stands as the longest active streak in the NFL.

Consecutive Games with a Reception (NFL)

Fitzgerald has a reception in 169 of 170 career games played. The only game in which he did not catch a pass came on 10/31/04 @ Buffalo, during his rookie season.

HEADING TO THE HALL?

Below is a look at the career of Larry Fitzgerald through his first 170 career games compared to the 24 modern era WRs currently in the HOF and where they stood at that point in their career.

At this point in his career, Fitzgerald has more receptions (909) than all of the receivers enshrined in Canton had through 170 games except for Jerry Rice, who had 916 receptions through his first 170 career games. Fitzgerald also has more receiving yards (12,151) than all HOF receivers through 170 games played except Rice (14,681).

A Career Full of Accomplishments:

- Franchise career leader in receptions (909), receiving yards (12,151), receiving TDs (89), total TDs (89) and 100-yard receiving games (38). His six 1,000-yard seasons are also a franchise record.
- One of just five players in NFL history to record at least 1,400 receiving yards in a season four times in their career: Jerry Rice (6), Randy Moss (4), Marvin Harrison (4) and Andre Johnson (4).
- At 28 years, 74 days old, he became the third-youngest player in NFL history to reach 70 career receiving TDs behind only Randy Moss (26 years, 269 days old) and Hall of Famer Jerry Rice (28 years, one day old).
- At 31 years, 102 days old, he became the youngest player in NFL history to reach 900 career receptions.
- At 30 years, 57 days old, he became the youngest player in NFL history to reach 800 career receptions.
- At 30 years, 85 days old, he became the youngest player in NFL history to reach 11,000 receiving yards.
- In 2010, he became the first player in NFL history to record 90+ receptions five times in their first seven seasons.
- During the 2008 postseason, he broke virtually every major playoff receiving record, establishing new single-season marks for receptions (30), receiving yards (546) and TDs (7). His four 100-yard receiving games in the postseason established a new NFL record for consecutive games with 100 yards receiving.
- His nine TD receptions in six career postseason games are an NFL record for a player in their first six career playoff contests.
- With a franchise record 103 receptions during the 2005 season, he became the youngest player in NFL history to record a 100-catch campaign when he reached the mark at 22 years, 123 days old.
- Led the NFL in receiving TDs in both the 2008 (12) and 2009 (13) seasons. In addition to his 10 receiving TDs in 2007, he became the first player in franchise history to record at least 10 TDs in three consecutive seasons.
- At 29 years, 23 days old when the Cardinals faced the Eagles in Week 3 of the '12 season, became the youngest player in NFL history to reach 700 receptions.
- At 29 years, 44 days old, joined Randy Moss (28 years, 314 days) as the only players in NFL history to reach 10,000 career receiving yards before the age of 30.
- One of just 13 players in NFL history to record 11,000 receiving yards and 85 TD receptions in their career.
- One of just nine players in NFL history with at least 10 TDs in five different seasons.

WAY MORE THAN AVERAGE

Now entering his fourth NFL season, 2012 first-round selection WR Michael Floyd has been the team's leading receiver over the past two seasons with 1,882 receiving yards. In that same period, he ranks second on the team in receptions (112) and receiving TDs (11) behind perennial Pro Bowler Larry Fitzgerald.

In 2014, Floyd appeared in all 16 games (15 starts) during the regular season and totaled 47 receptions for a team-high 841 yards and a career-high six TDs.

Floyd's 17.9 yards per catch average in '14 ranked as the second-best total in the NFL behind only Washington's DeSean Jackson (20.1). He was one of just three players in the NFL last to average at least 17.0 yards per reception.

5	Malcom Floyd (SD)	16.8

COVERING GREAT DISTANCES

During his first three seasons, Floyd provided the Cardinals with a big-play threat at the receiver position. Last season, he posted a team-high nine receptions of 30+ yards, including catches of 49, 45, 41 and 32 yards in the final four games.

Of his 13 career TD receptions, nine have covered at least 20 yards (20, 20, 23, 31, 33, 37, 41, 42 and 91 yards). Of his last nine TD catches, eight have covered at least 20 yards, including five of his six TD receptions in 2014.

In Week 11 of the 2013 season at Jacksonville, Floyd hauled in a 91-yard TD reception from QB Carson Palmer. It is tied for the sixth-longest play from scrimmage in franchise history. It was the longest play from scrimmage for the Cardinals in over 25 years.

GOING FOR 100

In the '14 regular season finale at San Francisco, Floyd tied career-highs in receptions (8) and TDs (2) while adding a season-high 153 yards. It marked Floyd's third 100-yard outing of the season, matching his total (3) from his first two NFL seasons (32 games) combined.

Of his six career 100-yard games, three have come against the 49ers, including both games in 2014. He also had 114 yards on five receptions against the Niners in Week 3 last season.

In addition to his three 100-yard outings in '14, Floyd also posted the first two multiple TD games of his career.

BIG PLAY BIRDS

Over the past two seasons (2013-14), the Cardinals had six offensive TDs of 75+ yards, tied with Cincinnati for the most in the NFL.

TDS OF 90 AND 80 YARDS

During the 2013 season, WR Michael Floyd hauled in a 91-yard TD reception (Week 11) and RB Andre Ellington had an 80-yard TD run vs. Atlanta (Week 8). The Cardinals became the first team since the 1971 Cincinnati Bengals to post a TD run of 80+ yards and a passing TD of 90+ yards in the same season.

BREAKING RECORDS AS ROOKIE

WR John Brown, the team's third round selection (91st overall) in the 2014 NFL Draft, posted a record-breaking season as rookie last year. He totaled 48 receptions for 696 yards and five TDs on the year, with four of his TD receptions being game-winners.

Brown's four game-winning TD receptions in 2014 were the most for a rookie in NFL history (previous record was R.C. Owens (3) for San Francisco in 1957).

Brown hauled in his most dramatic game-winner in the Cardinals Week 8 victory over Philadelphia. In a matchup of the teams with the two best records in the NFC at the time, he caught five passes for a career-high 119 yards, including the game-winning 75-yard TD reception with under two minutes remaining in regulation. Brown became just the eighth rookie in franchise history with a TD reception of 75+ yards and the first since Ernie Jones had a 93-yard TD catch against the Eagles on 12/20/88.

Two weeks later, Brown landed on the cover of Sports Illustrated when he hauled in his record-breaking fourth game-winner against the Rams in Week 10. With the Cardinals trailing 14-10 and just under eight minutes remaining, Brown made the acrobatic diving catch on a pass from Drew Stanton to put the Cardinals up 17-14.

13 yards	9/8 vs. SD	4th Qtr, 2:25 remaining	12-17 to 18-17

Brown had multiple catches in 15 of 16 games in 2014. That represents the second-best total in franchise history for a rookie.

A BATTLE AT WIDE RECEIVER

The Cardinals top WRs from 2014 – Larry Fitzgerald, Michael Floyd and John Brown – all return this season, but the competition for the remaining roster spots at the position will be a battle to watch throughout the preseason.

Jaron Brown

Brown - who was originally signed by the Cardinals as a rookie free agent out of Clemson in 2013 - became an important part of the offense over the second half of last season in his second year in the league.

After recording 14 receptions for 162 yards and a TD in his first 23 career games, Brown registered 19 receptions for 207 yards and two TDs over the final nine games last season. That was despite battling a toe and foot injury that limited him over the final three games. Against the Chiefs in Week 14, Brown hauled in a game-winning 26-yard TD late in the third quarter.

Brittan Golden

Golden spent time with the Bears and Jaguars before signing with Arizona's practice squad early in the 2013 season. He moved up to the active roster three weeks later and ended up playing in five games and averaging 34.0 yards on four receptions, including two catches of 50+ yards.

Last season, Golden was on the Cardinals practice squad the first 15 weeks before being elevated to the active roster in Week 16. His deep speed and his abilities in the return game make him a player to watch in the battle to earn a spot on the roster in 2015.

J.J. Nelson

A fifth-round pick in this year's draft, Nelson has caught the attention of many observers during training camp thus far. After registering the fastest 40-yard dash time at the 2015 Combine (4.28 seconds), Nelson has shown in practice he has the receiver skills to go with his speed.

The UAB product averaged 19.6 yards per catch in his college career, and he also returned five kickoffs and one punt for TDs, so he could be a factor in the Cardinals return game as well this season.

In addition to those three, rookie free agents Trevor Harman and Jaxon Shipley along with veterans Ryan Spadola and Travis Harvey are vying to potentially earn a spot on the Week 1 roster.

A THREAT FROM ANYWHERE

One of the biggest losses on the offensive side of the ball in 2014 came when the Cardinals lost one of their most dynamic playmakers. RB Andre Ellington missed the final four games of the year after being placed on injured reserve (core). His return in 2015 gives Arizona one of the NFL's top threats as both a runner and a receiver.

As a rookie in 2013 Ellington led the NFL averaging 5.5 yard per carry out of the backfield. He also became just the fifth rookie in franchise history to go over 1,000 yards from scrimmage. Despite battling a number of injuries throughout the 2014 season, Ellington piled up 1,055 yards from scrimmage (660 rushing yards; 395 receiving yards). He joined RB Ottis Anderson (1979-80) as the only players in franchise history to record 1,000+ yards from scrimmage in each of their first two NFL seasons.

A True Dual Threat

Ellington hurt opponents on the ground and through the air in 2014. Despite missing the majority of the Week 13 contest against the Falcons and sitting out the final four contests, Ellington was one of just six players in the NFL with at least 650 rushing yards and 350+ receiving yards last season.

NFL Players with 650+ Rushing & 350+ Receiving Yards (2014)

Player (Team)	Rush	Rec
RB Andre Ellington (AZ)	660	395
RB DeMarco Murray (Dal)	1,845	416
RB Le'Veon Bell (Pit)	1,361	854
RB Marshawn Lynch (Sea)	1,306	367
RB Eddie Lacy (GB)	1,139	427
RB Matt Forte (Chi)	1,038	808

In Week 5 at Denver, Ellington caught a pass from rookie QB Logan Thomas and took it 81 yards for a TD. In doing so, Ellington became the only active NFL player with both a rushing and receiving TD of 80+ yards in their career.

Ellington had an 80-yard TD run during his rookie season against the Atlanta Falcons (10/27/13) in his first career NFL start. He became just the sixth player in NFL history with an 80+ yard TD run and 80+ yard TD reception in their first two NFL seasons and first since RB Michael Bennett (2001-02).

A BOOST AT RUNNING BACK

When starting RB Andre Ellington was lost for the season during the Week 13 contest in Atlanta, the Cardinals needed help in the backfield. Enter relative unknown Kerwynn Williams. Just two days after he was elevated from the practice squad due to the injury to Ellington, Williams rushed for 100 yards on 19 attempts against the Chiefs in Week 14.

Seeing his first NFL action at RB, Williams became the first - and only - Arizona player to rush for 100 yards in a game last season.

It was Williams' second appearance of the season and it marked just the third game in his NFL career. With the Colts in 2013, Williams appeared in one game (9/15 vs. Miami) and returned a kickoff 28 yards. He played two snaps on special teams in the Cardinals win over St. Louis in Week 10.

In his four appearances at RB in 2014, Williams rushed for 246 yards on 63 attempts, averaging a team-high 4.6 yards per carry.

A LONG WAY TO 100 - THE JOURNEY OF KERWYNN WILLIAMS

From high school QB to NFL RB, Williams has been through a lot in a winding journey leading up to his breakout performance vs. Kansas City last season. After he was selected by the Indianapolis Colts in the seventh round (230th overall) of the 2013 Draft, Williams endured 15 different roster moves between Indianapolis, San Diego and Arizona during his first 21 months in the NFL.

He was signed, released and elevated seven times last season alone, including four different roster moves with Arizona in a span of 37 days leading up to his 100-yard performance vs. KC.

CARDS GET PRO BOWL TIGHT END

When the Cardinals signed TE Jermaine Gresham to a one-year contract as a free agent just days prior to the start of training camp, they brought in a two-time Pro Bowler who was one of the league's most productive TEs during his first five NFL seasons. For his career, Gresham has 280 receptions for 2,722 yards and 24 TDs.

Gresham spent his first five seasons with the Cincinnati Bengals who selected him in the first round (21st overall) of the 2010 NFL Draft. During his time with Cincinnati, Gresham had at least four TD receptions every season, including three years with at least five TD catches. He had 450+ receiving yards every year and caught at least 50 passes in four of five seasons.

In franchise history, the Cardinals have had just two TEs top 50 catches in a season - Freddie Jones (55) in 2003 and Hall of Famer Jackie Smith (56) in 1967. Smith is the only Pro Bowl TE in Cards history (1966-70).

Gresham joins San Diego's Antonio Gates and Carolina's Greg Olsen as the only ones with at least 40 receptions, 400 receiving yards and four TDs in each of the last five seasons. Gresham is one of just nine TEs in NFL history to top 50 catches in four or more of his first five NFL seasons.

In Arizona, Gresham reunites with QB Carson Palmer, who was the Bengals QB during Gresham's rookie season in 2010. That year, he had 52 catches for 471 yards and four TDs.

LEAVING BASKETBALL BEHIND

During his first season on an NFL roster in 2014, TE Darren Fells had developed into the Cards top TE by the end of the year. He was a long way from his roots on the basketball court.

Fells never played college football. He starred in basketball in college at UC Irvine and was second-team All-Big West as a senior in 2008. He then set his sights on a professional basketball career, playing overseas in Belgium, Finland and Argentina.

Eventually, he decided to give up basketball and try football after being encouraged to make the switch by older brother Daniel, who has played in the NFL with the Rams, Broncos, Patriots and currently with the Giants. After starting a regimen of football-specific workouts, he eventually got a tryout with the Seahawks as a defensive end.

Fells also had interest in playing TE and he ended up working out for the TEs coach in Seattle as well. He signed with Seattle in March 2013 but was released during final cuts. Fells then signed to the Cardinals practice squad in October 2013, where he spent the remainder of the season. He made the team out of training camp in 2014 and made his NFL debut in Week 3 against San Francisco.

By the end of the season, Fells had become a key piece of the Cardinals offense, starting the last four games and recording receptions in each of the last three regular season contests. He then scored his first career TD in the team's Wild Card playoff game at Carolina and is now expected to be one of the team's top tight ends in 2015.

AN ADDED DIMENSION

At 6-1, 224 pounds the Cardinals selected RB David Johnson in the third round (86th overall) of the 2015 NFL Draft to serve as a complement to current RBs Andre Ellington and Kerwynn Williams.

Johnson was a physical presence out of the backfield during his career at Northern Iowa, where broke 15 school records, including the career and single-season marks for rushing yards, rushing TDs, rushing yards per game, all-purpose yards, all-purpose yards per game and total TDs.

A 2014 Associated Press FCS All-American, Johnson rushed for 4,687 yards and 49 TDs at NIU while also adding 141 receptions for 1,734 yards and 14 TDs.

DEEP IN THE SECONDARY

One of the Cardinals greatest strengths last season was the secondary. That is expected to be the case again in 2015. Arizona's depth played an important role in its success in '14.

S Rashad Johnson and CB Jerraud Powers posted career years, Patrick Peterson made his third straight Pro Bowl as a CB, former undrafted rookie S Tony Jefferson played a major role in his second season and rookie first round pick S Deone Bucannon was one of the team's most active defenders all season.

Now in his third NFL season, S Tyrann Mathieu looks to return to the form he showed as a rookie before injuries to his knee and hand derailed the end of his inaugural season and much of 2014.

Cardinals Secondary in 2014

Player	2014 Statistics
Rashad Johnson	92 tackles, 4 INTs (2 TDs), 1 sack, 6 PD, 1 FR
Jerraud Powers	36 tackles, 3 INTs, 1 sack, 11 PD, 1 FF
Patrick Peterson	46 tackles, 3 INTs (TD), 1 sack, 8 PD
Justin Bethel	6 tackles, 1 FR
Tony Jefferson	74 tackles, 1 sack, 1 PD, 1 FF
Tyrann Mathieu	39 tackles, 1 INT, 5 PD, 1 FR
Deone Bucannon	75 tackles, 2 sacks, 2 PD, 1 FR, 1 FF

Arizona registered 18 INTs last season, tied for the seventh-best total in the NFL. Of those 18, 14 came courtesy of the secondary, led by S Rashad Johnson (4).

The nine DBs who played for Arizona last season combined for 14 INTs, four TDs (3 INT, 1 Fumble), six sacks, five fumble recoveries, three forced fumbles and 44 passes defended during the regular season.

NO ONE LIKE #21

The Cardinals selected CB Patrick Peterson with the fifth overall pick in the 2011 NFL Draft and in his first four NFL seasons he has proven to be one of the most unique talents in NFL history.

In that time Peterson has gone to four Pro Bowls, earned All-Pro honors as both a CB and a punt returner, broken numerous NFL punt return records and developed into one of the NFL's top CBs. He has also spent time on the offensive side of the ball, becoming the first NFL defender to post a reception and complete a pass in the same game.

Peterson's most important role has been as a shutdown CB on one of the league's top defenses. Dating back to his first career NFL game as a rookie in 2011, Peterson has been tasked with covering the NFL's top receivers.

In his four seasons, Peterson has started all 64 games at CB and registered 15 INTs, tied for the second-highest total in the NFL during that span.

NFL Leaders – Interceptions (2011-Present)

4t	Antrel Rolle (Chi)	13
4t	Eric Weddle (SD)	13
4t	Reggie Nelson (Cin)	13
4t	Charles Woodson (Oak)	13

In 2012 Peterson ranked fourth in the NFL with seven INTs and became the first Cardinals defender since Hall of Famer Aeneas Williams in 1994 to register an INT in four consecutive games.

In 2014 Peterson was voted to his third consecutive Pro Bowl as a CB. Peterson registered three INTs over the final eight games last season, earning NFC Defensive Player of the Week after registering two INTs (one returned 30 yards for his first career INT return for a TD) against the Rams in Week 11. It was his third career Player of the Week selection and second as a CB.

Starring as a punt returner in 2011 Peterson became the first player in NFL history with four punt return TDs of 80+ yards in a single season.

A PRO BOWL TALENT

A Pro Bowler in each of his first three seasons (Kick Returner, 2011; Cornerback, 2012-13), Peterson earned his fourth career Pro Bowl selection in 2014. In doing so, he joined an elite group of NFL Hall of Famers. He joins RBs Jim Brown, Barry Sanders and Emmitt Smith as the only players in NFL history to be chosen to four Pro Bowls before their 25th birthday. He is the only defensive player in NFL history to earn that distinction.

A CAREER YEAR FOR #26

During his sixth NFL season in 2014, S Rashad Johnson - the Cardinals third round pick (95th overall) in the 2009 NFL Draft - posted his finest season as a pro and was the MVP of a star-laden secondary.

Johnson finished the regular season ranked second on the team with a career-high 92 tackles, adding a career-high and team-leading four INTs (2 TDs), a sack and six passes defended. Prior to 2014, Johnson's career-high for tackles in a season was 53 (2013).

Johnson was one of just seven players in the NFL to return multiple INTs for TDs in 2014. He had a 28-yard return in Week 6 vs. Washington and a career-long 88-yard return in Week 13 at Atlanta. In doing so he became just the ninth player in franchise history with at least three career INT returns for TDs.

Franchise Record - INT Return TDs (Career)

TDs	Player (Years)
6	Aeneas Williams (1991-2000)
5	Larry Wilson (1960-72)
4	Karlos Dansby (2004-09, '13)
	Dominique Rodgers-Cromartie (2008-10)
	Antrel Rolle (2005-09)
3	Rashad Johnson (2009-)
	Robert Massey (1991-93)
	Pat Fischer (1961-67)
	Bill Blackburn (1946-50)

Despite the INTs and TDs, perhaps the biggest play of the season for Johnson last year came in the Cardinals Week 8 victory over Philadelphia. With the Cardinals holding a 24-20 lead - and one second remaining in the fourth quarter - Johnson pushed Eagles WR Jordan Matthews out of bounds in the end zone after he caught a 16-yard pass that would have represented the game-winning TD.

In six seasons with the Cardinals, Johnson has appeared in 86 games (37 starts) and totaled 271 tackles, a sack, 10 INTs (3 TDs), 18 passes defended, three fumble recoveries and a forced fumble.

Johnson memorably lost the end of his left middle finger in a game against New Orleans in 2013, but he has played his best football since then. Prior to losing a portion of his finger, Johnson had three total INTs in 59 career games. Since the injury, Johnson has hauled in seven INTs in the last 27 games.

PRODUCTIVE YEAR FOR POWERS

CB Jerraud Powers had a career year for the Cardinals in 2014, appearing in all 16 games (10 starts) and registering 36 tackles, a career-high three INTs, a sack, 11 passes defended and a forced fumble.

In addition to establishing a career high with three INTs in 2014, Powers also registered the first sack of his career, when he took down Lions QB Matthew Stafford in the fourth quarter in the Week 11 win.

Powers joined S Rashad Johnson (4), CB Patrick Peterson (3) and CB Antonio Cromartie (3) with at least three INTs in '14. The Cardinals joined the Bengals and 49ers as the only teams in the NFL last season that featured four players with at least three INTs.

The 2014 season was Powers' second in Arizona after signing with the team as a free agent in 2013. In two seasons with the Cardinals Powers has appeared in all 32 games (26 starts) and totaled 96 tackles, a sack, four INTs, 40 passes defended and two forced fumbles.

CAMPBELL GETS TO THE PRO BOWL

Four times in five years DE Calais Campbell was named to the USA Today All-Joe team as one of the NFL's best players who had yet to be named to the Pro Bowl. He is no longer eligible for that list after being selected to the Pro Bowl team in 2014 for the first time in his career.

In addition to being named to the Pro Bowl for the first time in his career, Campbell also earned second-team All-Pro honors from the Associated Press for his performance in 2014.

Despite missing two games due to a knee injury, Campbell finished the regular season with 59 tackles, 12 tackles for loss, 7.0 sacks, an INT, three passes defended, 17 QB pressures and 12 QB hits.

The 2014 season marked Campbell's sixth consecutive season with at least 50 tackles and 6.0 sacks, extending his franchise record. In 2013 Campbell became the first player in team history to record 50+ tackles and 6.0+ sacks in five consecutive seasons.

Campbell's Seasons with 50 & 6.0

Year	Gms	Tckl	Sck
2014	13	54	7.0
2013	16	71	9.0
2012	13	65	6.5
2011	16	73	8.0
2010	15	64	6.0
2009	16	53	7.0

With his performance in 2014, Campbell became the first defensive lineman in team history with at least 6.0 sacks in six different seasons. He entered the 2014 campaign tied with Curtis Greer (5).

CALAIS CONTINUES TO CLIMB

After recording seven sacks in 2014, DE Calais Campbell enters the 2015 ranked sixth in franchise history with 43.5 career sacks. He began last season ranked 10th in team history.

Campbell has averaged over seven sacks per season in his career and should he reach that total again in 2015, he would move into a tie with Curtis Greer (50.5) for third in team annals.

Campbell moved into sixth place after recording a career-high 3.0 sacks in Week 12 at Seattle last season, passing Bertrand Berry (40.0) and Darnell Dockett (40.5).

DEFENDING THE PASS

Dating back to 2011, DE Calais Campbell is one of just three defensive linemen in the NFL with at least 20 passes defended, joining Houston's J.J. Watt and the NY Giants' Jason Pierre-Paul.

NFL Leaders—Passes Defended, D-Line (2011-14)

Rnk	PD	Player, Team

4t	16	Carlos Dunlap (Cincinnati)
4t	16	Michael Johnson (Cincinnati)
4t	16	Cameron Jordan (New Orleans)
4t	16	Haloti Ngata (Detroit)

Campbell has used his 6-8 frame throughout his career, not just to swat down passes, but also to block FGs. He has blocked six FG attempts in his career, including three during the 2011 season when tied Seattle's Red Bryant for the NFL lead.

OKAFOR PROVIDES THE PRESSURE

A fourth round pick (103rd overall) in the 2013 NFL Draft, LB Alex Okafor suffered a number of injuries in his first two seasons that limited him to two career games played prior to the Week 6 contest vs. Washington last season. Fully healthy, he began piling up sacks on a consistent basis.

He went on to finish the year with a team-highs in sacks (8.0), QB hits (19) and QB pressures (20). He also added 45 tackles, seven tackles for loss, and INT and three passes defended.

With Okafor entering the 2015 season healthy, head coach Bruce Arians thinks he can provide the type of pressure the team needs coming off the edge. "He's been around the quarterback, and I would anticipate him to grow and grow and grow," Arians said following an early training camp practice. "He's a double-digit sack guy, easy."

Last season, Okafor made his first career start against the Redskins in Week 6 in his first-ever home game. He made up for lost time, registering the first and second sacks of his career.

After recording a sack in the Week 10 win over St. Louis, Okafor returned in Week 11 against Detroit and registered three tackles, two sacks and two tackles for loss against the Lions. It marked his second multi-sack performance of the season and second in the span of six games.

He had one of his best all-around games of the season vs. KC in Week 14, registering two tackles, a sack, a tackle for loss and an INT. In Week 16 vs. Seattle, Okafor posted his eighth sack of the season. It also gave him 7.0 sacks in just six home games in '14.

REDDING GOES FOR 12 IN A ROW

DE Cory Redding signed with the Cardinals in March, agreeing a two-year contract as an unrestricted free agent. In Arizona, Redding re-unites with head coach Bruce Arians and defensive coordinator James Bettcher, who were with him in Indianapolis in 2012.

Now in his 13th NFL season, Redding has played in 176 games (146 starts) and has 530 tackles (359 solos), 35.5 sacks, 11 fumble recoveries, four forced fumbles and an INT. He has also played in 10 postseason games (nine starts) and has 26 tackles, 2.5 sacks, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery.

Redding recorded at least one sack in each of the last 11 seasons, tied for the fifth-longest active streak among active NFL players. He is one of just 10 active players who have accomplished that feat.

RUCKER'S EXTENDED HIS ROLE

After the Cardinals signed DT Frostee Rucker prior to the 2013 season, he spent his first year in Arizona serving as a key reserve along the defensive line, playing behind long-time DT Darnell Dockett.

That was Rucker's role entering last season as well but that changed when Dockett went down for the season with a knee injury during training camp. Rucker took Dockett's place in the lineup and delivered a career year, registering 37 tackles, a career-high 5.0 sacks, two forced fumble and a team-high 14 tackles for loss.

In his first 27 games with Arizona, Rucker registered 3.0 sacks. He had 3.0 sacks in the final four regular season games last season, including a career-high 2.0 sacks in the Cardinals Week 14 win vs. Kansas City.

The Cardinals rewarded Rucker with a contract extension in the offseason and the 10th year pro is now atop the depth chart at DT.

CATANZARO'S RECORD SEASON

Signed as a rookie free agent prior to last season, K Chandler Catanzaro had a record-breaking year in 2014. Most notably, he connected on his first 17 FG attempts, tying Washington K Kai Forbath (17 in 2012) for the NFL record for most consecutive FGs to begin a career. Catanzaro's streak ended in the fourth quarter in Week 10 when he missed wide right on a 53-yard attempt.

NFL Record - Consecutive FGs to Begin Career

1t	Kai Forbath (2012)	17
3	Garrett Hartley (2008-09)	16
4	Greg Zuerlein (2012)	15

In addition to tying the NFL record for a player to begin his career, Catanzaro's 17 consecutive FGs made last season established a new NFL record for a rookie to begin their career. Although it was his first full season in the NFL, Forbath was not a rookie during the 2012 season.

Catanzaro totaled 114 points (29 FGs, 27 PATs) in '14, shattering the franchise record for points in a season by a rookie.

THE BUTLER DID IT

In 15 games played in place of the injured Dave Zastudil last season, Drew Butler landed 34 punts inside the 20-yard line, tying Philadelphia's Donnie Jones for the most in the NFL in 2014.

NFL Leaders - Punts Inside the 20-Yard Line (2014)

4t	Dustin Colquitt (KC)	31	15
4t	Colton Schmidt (Buf)	31	15
4t	Marquette King (Oak)	31	16

After taking over the punting duties on a full-time basis in Week 6, Butler landed 32 punts inside the 20-yard line, with just three touchbacks.

Butler originally joined the team on the same day the Cardinals played their regular season opener vs. San Diego. Despite the short notice, he finished with four punts for 218 yards (54.5 avg.), including a long of 61 yards. Butler's appearance in the opener was also notable because he is the son of Kevin Butler, the former Cardinals (1996-97) and Bears (1985-95) kicker. The Butlers joined WR/KR Eric Metcalf (1998) and RB Terry Metcalf (1973-77) as the only known father-son combo to play for the Cardinals.

ZASTUDIL RETURNS IN 2015

Following a 2014 season in which he appeared in just two games due to a groin injury, P Dave Zastudil returns to action for his 14th NFL season and fifth as a member of the Cardinals.

Since joining the Cardinals as a free agent in 2011, Zastudil has gone on to establish both NFL and franchise records. In 2012, Zastudil set an NFL single-season record with 46 punts landed inside the 20-yard line.

NFL Record - Punts Inside the 20-Yard Line

In20	Player	Team	Year
46	Dave Zastudil	Arizona	2012
45	Dustin Colquitt	Kansas City	2012
42	Steve Weatherford	NY Jets	2010
	Ben Graham	Arizona	2009
	Andy Lee	San Francisco	2007
41	Dustin Colquitt	Kansas City	2009
40	Brad Maynard	Chicago	2008

He returned for another outstanding year in 2013, tying for the league lead with 35 punts inside the 20-yard line. Zastudil tied Kansas City's Dustin Colquitt, the player he edged out for the NFL record in 2012. Over the past three seasons Zastudil has landed 82 punts inside the 20-yard line, while only 15 of his kicks have resulted in touchbacks.

EXCELLING IN ARIZONA

Zastudil posted a 45.7-yard punting average in 2013, the second-highest total of his 12-year NFL career. He set a career mark in 2012, averaging 46.5 yards per punt.

His 46.5-yard average in '12 ranks as the second-best single season mark in franchise history while his 45.7-yard average ranks third. In his four seasons with Arizona, Zastudil has posted three of the six best single-season punting averages in team history.

ARIZONA BLOCK PARTY

Dating back to 2008, the Cardinals have blocked an NFL-high 19 FG attempts, including three in 2014. After registering three blocked kicks in '14, Arizona has now blocked multiple kicks in each of the last seven seasons (2008-14), including five seasons with at least three blocks in that span.

Most Blocked FG Attempts (2008-present)

Block	Team
19	Arizona
10	Seattle
9	Buffalo, Chicago
8	Cleveland
7	Oakland
7	Detroit

Arizona has blocked 21 total kicks (19 FG, 2 Punts) since 2008, also an NFL-high.

A SPECIAL TALENT

A Pro Bowl special teamer in both 2013 and 2014, Justin Bethel recorded his third career blocked kick against the Cowboys in Week 9 of last season.

Bethel's Blocked FG Attempts

11/2/14 @ Dallas

With Arizona holding a 14-10 lead, Cowboys K Dan Bailey lined up for a 35-yard FG attempt with just three seconds remaining in the first half. Bethel came around the end and blocked the kick, preserving the Cards four-point lead.

11/10/13 vs. Houston

Just like the attempt in Dallas, Houston was attempting a FG on the final play of the first half. With the Texans leading 17-14, Randy Bullock lined up for a 40-yard attempt with four seconds remaining in the second quarter. Bethel came off the edge to blocked the attempt, and Arizona would come back to win the game by three points (27-24).

9/15/13 vs. Detroit

The Cardinals trailed the Lions 21-19 early in the fourth quarter when Bethel blocked a 47-yard FG attempt by Detroit's David Akers. Two possessions later, Arizona scored the go-ahead TD in the 25-19 win.
