SALESHEET

GIOPATO & COOMBES

Inspired by a walk surrounded by a thousand soap bubbles floating in the air. Their lightness has become a metaphor for the crystallized immateriality of light.

Handmade in transparent glass, where the illuminating core is a brass light source suspended between the spheres.

Bolle Wall has a soft and suffused lighting effect, thanks to the double emission balanced upwards and downwards of the Softspot proprietary source.

From the encounter between hand-blown glass and brass. The borosilicate glass, with the spheres and satellites made one by one, allows greater resistance to heat during processing with the Murano "a lume" glassmaking technique and guarantees stability. The brass illuminating body can be provided with different metal finishes.
