A DAY IN THE LIFE

A DAY IN THE LIFE

I WISH I KNEW

College

- Can get to medicine from almost any major, just make sure to take prerequisite courses
- Protect your GPA
- Don't rush it! Enjoy your college experience!

Medical School

- Unwritten rules matter! Make sure you are fully buying into the process of being a student (whether you are 21 or 31)

Life

- Don't take it for granted!
- Pursue all of your interests when you can, not just academics

WORDS OF WISDOM

“Better is possible. It does not take genius. It takes diligence. It takes moral clarity. It takes ingenuity. And above all, it takes a willingness to try.”

A DAY IN THE LIFE

Work can be hectic

- 8-12 hour shifts
- Sometimes hundreds/day
- Nonstop

But very gratifying

- Kids get better, they are tough
- Sense of accomplishment after work is done
- Once done, no call

A DAY IN THE LIFE

I WISH I KNEW

You must love school/study

- If I include Pre-K
- Elem, JHS, HS, Coll, MS, training
- 30th grade when I got done

Love to care for people

- All kinds of variety of patients
- Daily interactions
- Comes with challenges

Love Kids

- Tough to take care of but awesome
- They are very resilient
- They require special care

Good work/life balance

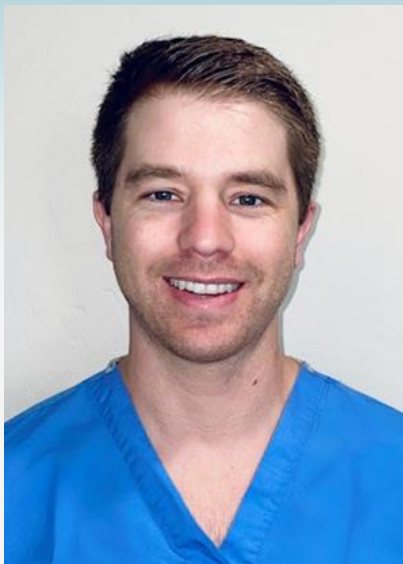

- Work hard, play hard
- Enough to provide for family

WORDS OF WISDOM

*"You treat a disease:
You win, you lose.*

*You treat a person:
I guarantee you win -
No matter the outcome"*

A DAY IN THE LIFE

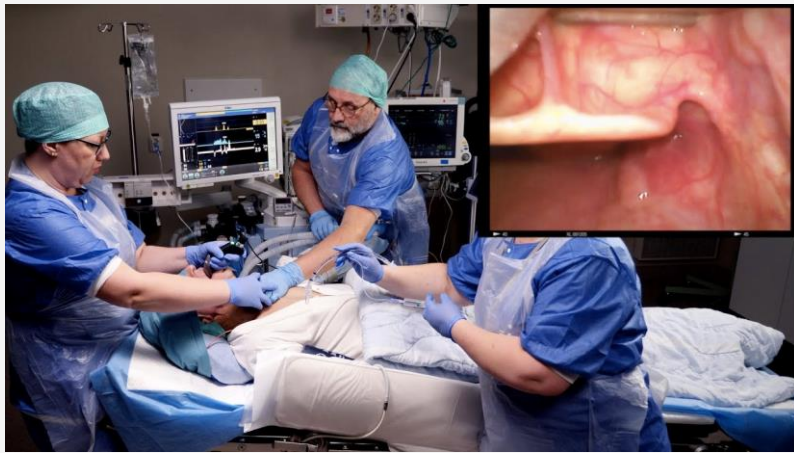

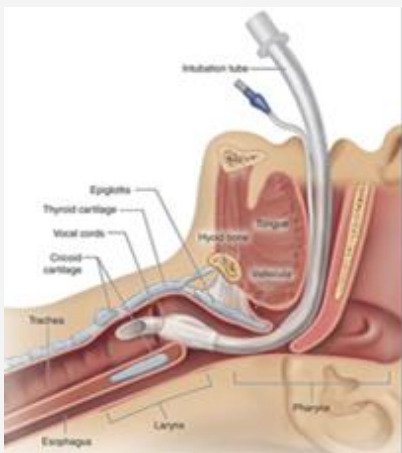

Schedule

- Varies between days (6 am to ~6 pm daily)
- Arrive early to set up OR's and surgeries start at 7 am
- Some days "on call" where you have to be available for emergency surgeries for 24 hours

Procedures

- Surgical specialties include OB/GYN, orthopedics, general surgery, ENT, etc.
- Some days in labor and delivery for epidurals and c-sections

A DAY IN THE LIFE

I WISH I KNEW

Explore all options for majors

- Find what you enjoy learning

Be enthusiastic

- Reach out early to those who could be mentors
- You never know who can help with a job, medical school, etc.

REWARDS

- Incredible privilege to safely and comfortably take patients through the perioperative period
- Patients and families trust you with their lives during a very vulnerable time for them
- Very rewarding to take patients pain away
- Whether that is with epidurals or nerve blocks
- Field with constant learning and there is never a dull moment
- Get to wear pajamas every day for work!

WORDS OF WISDOM

*Find a major, job, hobby that you enjoy and the rest will take care of itself
Be nice to everyone! (you never know who you're talking to)
Balance is everything! Make time what you enjoy*

OKLAHOMA'S PROMISE

Oklahoma's Promise offers qualified Oklahoma students an opportunity to earn a scholarship for college tuition.

REQUIREMENTS

- Must be an Oklahoma resident.
- Must enroll in the 8th, 9th, 10th or 11th grade.
- Minimum 2.5 GPA in required coursework
- For seniors graduating this year, pass/fail classes are not included in GPA determination
- The parents' federal adjusted gross income must not exceed $60K per year.
- OKHigherEd.org/OKPromise

ESSAY DO'S

- Write revealing, concise essays that inform, enlighten, and amuse.
- Present yourself as genuinely humble, modest, perhaps even self-effacing.
- Be yourself.
- Answer each and every aspect of the essay question as best you can AND within the character/word limit provided.
- Come across as mature, positive, reflective, intelligent, down-to-earth, curious, persistent, confident, original, creative, hard-working, and thoughtful.
- Demonstrate evidence of your having real knowledge about a college and its many resources, including courses, programs, activities, and students.
- Write about anything that is counterintuitive about yourself, e.g., you are a football player who is totally into poetry, a young woman who is a computer or physics geek, a macho guy who wants to be an elementary school teacher.
- Compose an essay, give it to others to read and edit, and then do a final edit before you declare that it is done.
- Use a variety of words to describe something or someone, e.g., Charley, my friend, my buddy, my schoolmate, he, him.
- Explain what needs to be explained, as in an illness, a learning disability, a suspension, a one-time bad grade, a family tragedy, a major challenge you have had.

ESSAY DON'TS

- Write too much, ramble on, thinking that more (words) is better. It is not.
- Brag, boast, toot your own horn, or come across as arrogant.
- Write what you think college admissions people want instead of what you really think.
- Go off writing about what you want to say rather than what the question asks AND ignore the specified character/word counts.
- Come across as immature, negative, superficial, shallow, a phony, glib, a slacker, insecure, whiney, judgmental, or disrespectful.
- Give the impression that you know little about a college by writing trite, inaccurate, or inconsequential things about it.
- Make something up about yourself just to impress the admissions readers.
- Write an essay and consider it done without looking for punctuation or grammatical errors and having it edited by at least one person.
- Use the same words over and over, e.g., my friend, my friend, my friend, my friend, my friend.
- Make excuses for anything, including a bad grade, an infringement of rules, a suspension, whatever.

WORDS OF WISDOM

Have fun becoming who you are destined to be.

Define success for you.

Have just as much fun failing as you do succeeding.

You will never succeed being anyone else so embrace all that you are.

Keep learning new things.

There will never be another YOU!
