Narrative Description of Contribution. (Attach separate file or pages as necessary. Please refer to the Narrative Guidance for additional information on the narrative description.)
Susan Hoskins is an outstanding individual, bringing a host of skills and a unique energy to the advocacy of all things geospatial. She has over twenty years' experience in the interpretation of aerial photography for the purpose of mapping and is a faithful and consistent proponent of GIS and geospatial technologies in publications, presentations, and conversation. Susan is famously dedicated to her geospatial work with 4-H. She is known to tirelessly present, engage and captivate her 4-H audiences with hands-on activities relating to the geospatial technologies using GPS and GIS, just to name a few. It is particularly for this involvement that she is nominated for the NYS GIS Association Lifetime Achievement Award. In her capacity with 4-H, Susan is taking the importance of geospatial innovation to the next generation, instilling in them a sense of purpose, familiarity and comfort with the technology and concepts. These 4-Hers will rise, in turn, to be tomorrow's leaders. Already aware and comfortable with today's geospatial technology, they will drive the industry further in development. It is the vision of people like Susan, investing in today's youth, that will sustain and advance GIS and geospatial technologies for tomorrow. In her spare time, Susan Hoskins has been the secretary for the NYSGIS Association Education Committee for any years. Her organizational skills, willingness to host and coordinate the meetings, and her amazing ability to encapsulate the meeting in articulate minutes is part of her incredible skillset.
