Update following rating affirmation

Summary

OBOS-banken AS' (OBOS-banken) A3 long-term deposit and issuer ratings are derived from the bank's standalone creditworthiness, which is reflected in its baa2 Baseline Credit Assessment (BCA); and two notches of rating uplift from our forward-looking Advanced Loss Given Failure (LGF) analysis, which takes into account the risks faced by the different debt and deposit classes across the liability structure should the bank enter resolution.

The baa2 standalone BCA reflects the bank's (1) relatively strong asset quality, aided by its low-risk housing mortgage-lending focus; (2) strong capital metrics, (3) stable profitability, (4) adequate liquidity and (5) a longer track record of operation as a standalone entity combined with reducing operational ties to its owner OBOS Group (not rated). These strengths are balanced against OBOS-banken's (1) high geographical lending concentration in the high growth area of Oslo; (2) monoline business model and (2) high reliance on wholesale funding.

Credit strengths

- » Low-risk lending focused on the residential sector
- » Adequate capital metrics and well collateralized portfolio that benefits from low loan to values (LTVs)
- » Resilient and stable profitability
- » Granular deposit base constituting mostly of retail deposits
- » Low loss given failure for deposits and senior unsecured debt

Credit challenges

- » Monoline business model
- » Concentration in the property market of Oslo and Viken, which pose risks in the downside
- » Reliance on wholesale funding, partially mitigated by sound liquidity buffers

Outlook

The stable outlook on the bank's long-term deposit and issuer ratings reflects the agency's expectation that the bank will sustain its strong performance in the next 12-18 months, despite increased competitive pressure and prolonged high interest rates environment, which should have limited impact on the bank's asset quality metrics. The stable outlook also incorporates our expectation that the bank will continue to diversify away from OBOS Group for new business generation.

Factors that could lead to an upgrade

- » OBOS-banken AS' ratings may be upgraded as a result of (1) a sustainable improvement in profitability without an increase in its risk profile; (2) maintaining solid capital metrics combined with a moderate level of credit growth and increasing business generation outside the OBOS Group; and (3) a decrease on market funding reliance with increasing retail deposits.

Factors that could lead to a downgrade

- » Downward pressure would develop on OBOS-banken AS' BCA if (1) there were a significant deterioration in its asset-quality metrics or an increase in its risk appetite leading to lower profitability; (2) a sustained weakening in capital metrics; (3) a decrease in customer deposits leading to a higher use of market funds; (4) a decrease in the liquidity held on the bank's balance sheet; and/or (5) a further weakening in the financial performance of the parent OBOS Group, in light of a more challenging operating environment, which could impair OBOS-banken AS' performance given the strong linkages with the parent company for new business origination and/or increase in its risk profile.
- » The bank's deposit and issuer ratings could also be downgraded in case the bank issues a significantly lower volume than expected of more junior debt, or the amount of outstanding unsecured debt together with junior deposits does not grow in line with asset growth.

Profile

OBOS-banken is a Norwegian commercial bank mainly focused on retail mortgages and lending to housing companies (or cooperatives) in Norway. The bank reported total assets of NOK71.7 billion (equivalent to around €6.1 billion) as of September 2024.

OBOS-banken is part of the OBOS Group, one of the largest property developers in the Nordics. The bank is fully owned by OBOS BBL. Most of the bank's retail clients are either members or employees of the OBOS Group, while most of the customers in its wholesale business are housing companies managed by the OBOS Group.

The OBOS Group's lending activities date back to 1929; however, OBOS-banken received its full banking license in 2013.

Recent developments

In September 2024, Tore Welding has been appointed CEO of OBOS-Banken, effective from 1 November 2024. Welding takes over from Øistein Gamst Sandlie, who joins OBOS's Corporate Executive Committee as the new Head of the Management and Advisory Division.

In August 2024, the Norwegian Financial Supervisory Authority (NFSA) announced that it aims to expand the circle of banks that receive Minimum requirements for own funds and eligible liabilities (MREL) by around 20 new banks. MREL decisions for the new group of banks will be made in stages. The NFSA aims for the first decisions to be made in early 2025. Banks that receive a decision in 2025 must fulfill the requirement by the end of 2027. Banks that are in a notified merger process are put on hold for the time being. OBOS-banken's MREL requirements were reviewed as a part of this process and NFSA decided to remove subordinated requirement for the bank, maintaining only total MREL requirement.

In May 2023, OBOS Eiendomsmeglere AS formally became a wholly owned subsidiary of OBOS-banken AS from 1 May 2023, and is fully consolidated into the OBOS-banken group's accounts from then on. OBOS-banken AS has bought all shares in OBOS Eiendomsmeglere AS from OBOS BBL for NOK 41.9 million. There has been a collaboration between OBOS-banken and OBOS Eiendomsmeglere for several years. OBOS Eiendomsmeglere is to be the OBOS expert and number one choice in terms of market share in the sale of OBOS homes in the areas where the company is established.

Detailed credit considerations

Low-risk lending focus, partly offset by concentration in the property market of Oslo and Viken

Our assessment of OBOS-banken's asset risk takes into account the bank's relatively low-risk housing mortgage-lending focus within Norway's generally supportive environment, but also its high concentration in the high growth areas of Oslo and Viken and the Norwegian property market, which may expose the bank to greater risk of a property price correction, and its limited track record through a number of economic cycles. The bank is also highly dependent on its parent's activities in terms of the growth and composition of its loan book. However, we do recognize that OBOS-banken's level of problem loans has remained consistently low, despite challenges in Norway's operating environment during both the coronavirus outbreak and the volatile oil prices and the oil crisis during 2015-2016. Furthermore, we view positively the bank's lower credit growth following a change in strategy in 2019. We expect OBOS-banken's asset quality metrics to remain broadly unchanged in the coming quarters despite higher interest rate environment, reflective of the bank's low risk mortgage portfolio.

OBOS-banken focuses on lower-risk secured retail and wholesale (housing companies) mortgages. The majority of the bank's on-balance-sheet lending portfolio was to housing companies, 74%, as of year-end 2023 (see Exhibit 3), while direct residential mortgages made up most of the remaining loans at 26%. The majority of lending is to members or employees of the OBOS Group or to companies managed by the group. Based on the legal framework that governs housing cooperatives in Norway, members contribute a proportionate share of operating expenses, including debt servicing of the housing company, thereby reducing the risk for the bank. However, the bank is exposed to the tail risk of a large property price decrease, a common feature among its local peers. This is because its sizeable mortgage exposure leads to a high concentration in Norway's property market, particularly in the Oslo and Viken areas, where most of the bank's lending originates and where property prices had increased rapidly in previous years.

The bank entered the credit card sector in 2017 by offering its own credit cards to its members, as a way to further leverage its customer base and expand its product offering. Although we consider unsecured consumer lending risky, the relative size of this business remains low for OBOS-banken at just 0.1% of loans as of year-end 2023.

Exhibit 3

The bank's problem loans ratio (IFRS 9 stage 3 loans as a percentage of total loans) remained low at 0.4% as of the end of September 2024 (see Exhibit 4) and loan losses have been particularly low since the bank's inception. Furthermore, the bank's portfolio has seen very limited risk migration as stage 1 loans constitute 99.3% of total loans as of Q3 2024 (99.2% in end-2023 and 99.2% in end-2022). There have been no credit costs in the first nine months of 2024, compared to 0.023% as of year-end 2023.

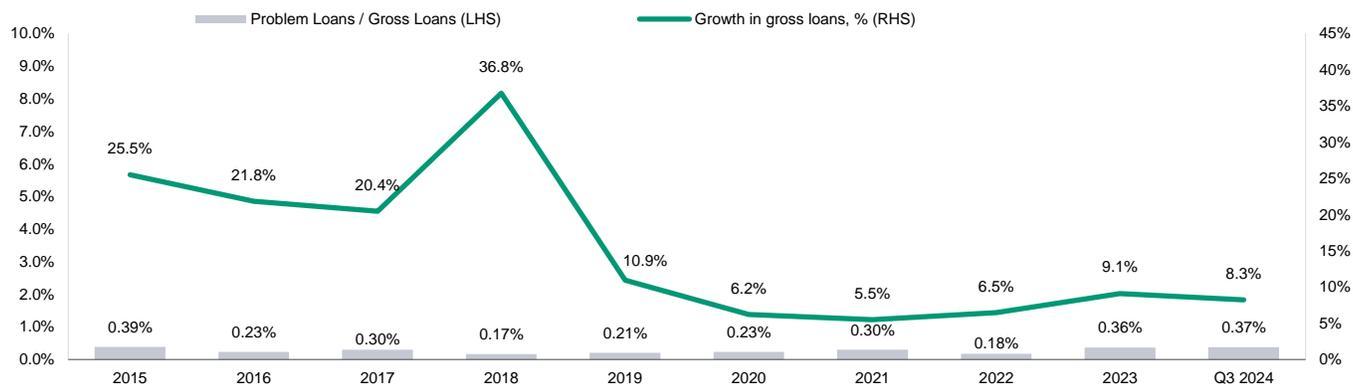

Exhibit 4
OBOS-banken maintains very low credit costs, thanks to a low problem loan ratio
 Asset-quality metrics evolution

Our assessment also takes into account the bank's loan growth moderation, in line with the Norwegian market following a change in strategy during 2019, as well as the longer track record of operation as a standalone entity combined with reducing operational ties to its owner OBOS Group. OBOS-banken grew its loan book by approximately 9.1% during 2023 (6.5% in 2022), and by 8% in the first nine months of 2024 compared to an average annual growth rate of 26% during 2016-2018.

Exhibit 5

Strong capital metrics supported by stable earnings generation and lower credit growth

OBOS-banken's capital position is strong, with the bank maintaining a prudent margin above the regulatory capital requirements, as reflected by a tangible common equity/risk-weighted assets of 19.8% at end-September 2024. The bank reported a Common Equity Tier 1 (CET1) capital ratio of 18.2% (see Exhibit 6) and a total capital ratio of 21.2% as of the end of September 2024, against a 14.7% CET1 and a 18.7% total capital ratio requirement.

OBOS-banken received an updated Pillar 2 requirement from the Norwegian FSA in June 2023 which reduced to 1.2% from 2.4% previously, which is currently the third lowest compared to other Moody's rated Norwegian banks. The reduction in the requirement is reflective of bank having established a strong track record of operation as a standalone entity and has reduced operational ties to their owner.

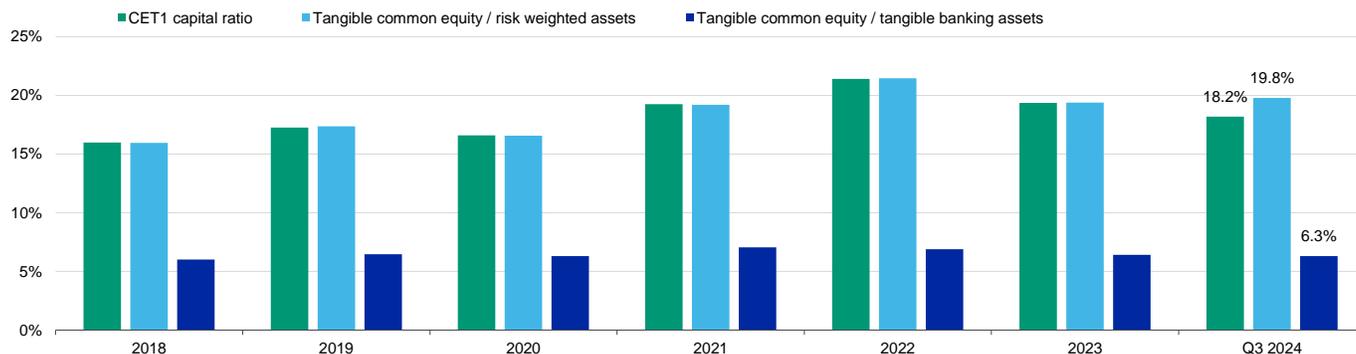

During 2022, OBOS-banken started paying dividends to its parent OBOS Group for the first time, reflective of the bank's resilient profitability and lower growth targets. We consider this to be a positive development, as the bank until few years prior was receiving capital support from its ultimate parent and is reflective of the bank's strategy to operate on a standalone basis. Going forward, we expect the bank to maintain a stable dividend policy, although it might be slightly increased in the next 1-2 years due to decreased regulatory requirements driven by the reduction in the Pillar 2 requirements. However, we believe the bank will maintain sufficient buffers above minimum requirements.

OBOS-banken's capital metrics remain adequate and substantially above its regulatory requirements

Capital metrics evolution

Source: Moody's Ratings

The assigned capital score of a1 reflects our expectation that the bank will optimize its capital structure in-light of improved profitability and lower capital requirements, as well the fact that the bank is fully owned by OBOS Group, which results for fewer options to raise capital externally compared to fully listed peers.

Stable profitability albeit modest due to monoline business model

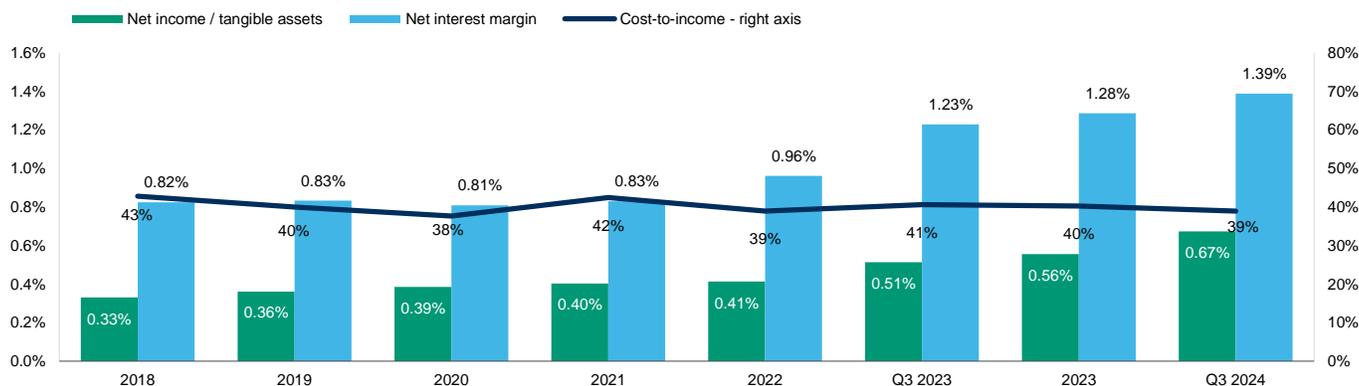

OBOS-banken's profitability is stable through the economic cycle, but relatively modest compared to other rated peers, reflective of the low risk nature of its lending book. OBOS-banken's net income/tangible assets (including off-balance sheet lending) was 0.67% for the first nine months of 2024, slight increase compared to 0.56% in 2023 (see Exhibit 7), while the net interest margin increased to 1.39% as of September 2024, from 1.28% in 2023, supported by still high interest rates in Norway. The bank continues to benefit from cost-efficient operations, with a cost-to-income ratio of 38.9% in the first nine months of 2024, slightly lower than 40.2% as of end-2023.

Over the next 12-18 months we expect the bank's profitability to stabilize at slightly higher level of approximately 0.5% supported by a higher interest rate environment and better pricing of deposits, but still below latest reported figures. This is driven by our expectation that interest rates will reduce going forward, while construction activity in the OBOS group is expected to ease, while the bank tries to diversify away from OBOS group for new business generation.

Exhibit 7

Profitability is stable through the economic cycle

OBOS-banken's profitability and efficiency metrics

Source: Moody's Ratings

Similarly to other rated entities that are focused on one activity, we apply a one-notch negative adjustment to OBOS-banken's financial profile for lack of business diversification. This reflects the fact that the bank's revenues are almost exclusively derived from its mortgage lending activities (from both individuals and the interrelated housing companies).

High reliance on wholesale funding, partially mitigated by sound liquidity and granular deposit base

OBOS-banken has relatively high reliance on capital market funding, which would render it vulnerable to fluctuations in investor sentiment. As of the end of September 2024, market funds accounted for 31% of tangible banking assets (including off-balance-sheet covered bonds and assets), stayed broadly unchanged around 30% since year-end 2021 due to the bank's updated strategy of more moderate credit growth (9% during 2023, 6% in 2022 and 5% in 2021 from 26% annual growth during 2016-2018) and strong deposits growth (6.7% in 2023 and 11.7% in 2022 from 12.6% in 2020).

Market funding has been primarily in the form of covered bonds and senior debt. The bank has a well-spread maturity profile, and it has been issuing covered bonds directly through its subsidiary OBOS Boligkreditt since the end of 2016. The bank's deposit base consists mostly of retail customer deposits and almost 70% are covered by the government guarantee scheme.

The bank's assigned funding score of ba1 incorporates our expectation that deposit growth will normalize as consumer spending increases and deposit competition intensifies resulting in somewhat higher levels of market funds.

The high reliance on market funding is mitigated by its sound liquidity, with liquid assets at 12.2% of TBAs at end 2023, which has improved further to 14.0% at end September 2024 as the bank continued to witness strong growth in deposits in the first nine months of the year (10.1% growth in deposits in Q3 2024 and 6.7% in 2023 vs 11.7% in 2022 and 6.6% in 2021). Furthermore, the bank reported a liquidity coverage ratio of 303%, well above the 100% regulatory requirement. The liquidity portfolio was primarily invested in covered bonds and other investment-grade rated bonds. However, the covered bond holdings increase the interconnectedness between local banks and the domestic property market, a common feature among the banks in Norway that we rate.

Source of facts and figures cited in this report's

Unless noted otherwise, the bank-specific figures originate from the bank's reports and are based on our own chart of accounts and may be adjusted for analytical purposes. Please refer to the document Financial Statement Adjustments in the Analysis of Financial Institutions, published on 8 April 2024. The bank's figures are also adjusted to include loans transferred to Eika Boligkreditt AS (issuer rating A3 stable) that are not consolidated in OBOS-banken's financials, similar to our approach for other Norwegian banks that transfer mortgages to jointly owned, but not consolidated specialised companies.

ESG considerations

OBOS-banken AS' ESG credit impact score is CIS-2

Exhibit 8

ESG credit impact score

OBOS Banken's CIS-2 indicates that ESG considerations have no material impact on the current ratings.

Exhibit 9

ESG issuer profile scores

Environmental

OBOS Banken's faces low environmental risks, primarily because of its portfolio exposure to carbon transition. This is because of its loan composition which consists primarily of mortgages and lending to housing companies (or cooperatives) in Norway with a minor exposure to corporate lending, which typically carry higher carbon transition risk.

Social

OBOS Banken faces moderately negative exposure to social risks related to customer relations and associated regulatory and litigation risks, requiring high compliance standards. The exposure to customer relation risks is moderate, given the bank's untarnished customer conduct track record and its role to serve the clients of OBOS Group and its members rather than being seen as a profit center for the owners. OBOS banken benefits from a robust IT infrastructure and strong capabilities to mitigate cyber and personal data risks, supported by its owner OBOS Group.

Governance

OBOS-Banken's governance risks are low. OBOS-Banken has a strong compliance and risk management function with generally conservative financial policies and a favorable track record of financial performance. The bank's board of directors reflects its full ownership by the cooperative group OBOS. However, 4 of the 7 members are external and so the ownership does not result in incremental governance risks. In addition, OBOS group's co-operative structure means that is fully owned by its members, pays no dividend, and its main purpose is to provide housing for the unit owners through housing associations or otherwise to manage housing for the unit owners. As a result, there is no pressure on OBOS-Banken for dividend payments to its parent, which provides strong debt holder protections since the bank can prioritize cash payments to debt holders over payments to its owner.

Support and structural considerations

Loss Given Failure (LGF) analysis

Norway transposed the EU Bank Recovery and Resolution Directive (BRRD) into local legislation in January 2019 and, as such, we consider the country an operational resolution regime. In accordance with our methodology, we therefore apply our Advanced LGF analysis, considering the risks faced by the different debt and deposit classes across the liability structure should the bank enter resolution. Since June 2022, BRRD2 also came formally into force.

In our Advanced LGF analysis for OBOS-banken, we use our standard assumptions and assume residual tangible common equity of 3% and losses post-failure of 8% of tangible banking assets. We also assume a 25% run-off of "junior" wholesale deposits and a 5% run-off in preferred deposits. Moreover, we assign a 25% probability to junior deposits being preferred to senior unsecured debt. We also assume the proportion of deposits considered junior at 10% for OBOS-banken, relative to our standard assumption of 26%, because of the bank's largely retail-oriented deposit base.

Under these assumptions our Advanced LGF analysis indicates that OBOS-banken's junior deposits and senior unsecured debt are likely to face extremely low loss given failure, resulting in a two-notch rating uplift from the bank's BCA for both the deposit and issuer ratings. This reflects our expectation that despite OBOS-banken no longer being subject to subordination requirements, leading to somewhat lower levels of future senior non-preferred debt (junior senior debt), we expect that OBOS-banken AS will continue to issue sufficient volumes of subordinated liabilities that will maintain the very low loss rates for deposits and senior debt in a potential resolution scenario.

Government support

Because of the relatively small size of its operations, there is a low probability of government support for OBOS-banken's deposits and senior unsecured debt, resulting in no rating uplift.
