

• DELTA • NATURAL • ENGLISH •

A HANDBOOK OF Spoken Grammar

STRATEGIES FOR SPEAKING NATURAL ENGLISH

• Oh no. I thought we could have a day out. • I've done all my e-mails.

soon. • I've got to work this weekend. • Oh no. I thought we could have a day out. • I've done all my e-mails. • Good. So you can go to go? ... but then she said, 'You'd better hurry, Sue. Aren't you supposed to be meeting Chris at seven?' • I'll see you tonight, then. Great. Lovely. You've got to take a break now and then, haven't you? It's a great view! • Magic, isn't it?

Where are we eating, guys? • I'm not sure, Mike. They say the Italian place is good. • Right, shall we have a break? I mean, we can't work all day, can we? • I've got to write up my report. • So you said, 'But when will you actually do it?' Excuse me, could you possibly move your car? • I've got a problem. • Shall we have a thing on TV?

the broken cups. • I've got to throw them away. • It's too far to go for a week, please. • More tea? • Yes, though. • Half a cup is fine, do. • Well, I don't know what I should do anything for the moment. Anyway, the train didn't stop. • Oh dear, were you late, then?

break? I mean, we can't work all day, can we? • I've got to write up my report. • So you said, 'But when will you actually do it?' Excuse me, could you possibly move your car? • I've got a problem. • Shall we have a thing on TV?

Sure. No problem. • Shall we watch that thing on TV? • No, I've got some tidying and stuff to do. Your sure, Mike. They say the Italian place is good. • Right, shall we have a can't buy me that.' You'd better hurry, Sue. Aren't you supposed to be meeting Chris at seven? • I'll see you tonight, then. • Great. Lovely. You've got to take a break now and then, haven't you? • It's a great view! • Magic, isn't it? • The broken cups, did you throw them away? • It's too far to go for a week, Japan. More tea? • Yes, please. Half a cup is fine, though. • I don't know what to do. • Well, I don't think you should do anything for the moment. Anyway, the train didn't stop. • Oh dear. Were you late, then? Where are we eating, guys? • I'm not some tidying and stuff to do. Your uncle is a sort of doctor, isn't he? • Expensive, aren't they? Are you going to buy one? • Well, I'd like to. These shoes are killing me! • Don't worry. We'll be home soon. • I've got to work this weekend.

Play all audios for free!

Ken Paterson
Caroline Caygill
Rebecca Sewell

