

7	Preface
	Denise Tonella
13	Exhibiting Swiss colonial history
	Marina Amstad Pascale Meyer Raphael Schwere Marilyn Umurungi
273	Authors
281	Lenders and artists

	Introductions
23	Tracing the legacy of colonialism in the Swiss National Museum
	Heidi Amrein
39	Overdue attention: How the Swiss role in European colonialism was discovered
	Georg Kreis
49	Divisive and unifying: Colonial history for a just future
	Monique Ligtenberg Bernhard C. Schär
63	The colonial past in Switzerland's collective memory
	Hannan Salamat

	Essays
79	Colonial traces in everyday life in Switzerland
	Marina Amstad
97	Fabrics, ships, and slavery: Switzerland at the Black Atlantic
	Jovita dos Santos Pinto
123	Jumping on the bandwagon of colonial exploitation: Swiss wholesale trade in the colonial era
	Andreas Zangger
143	On money and violence: The global dimensions of Swiss mercenarism
	Philipp Krauer
159	Swiss missionary societies and colonialism: Religious, cultural, and political entanglements
	Claudia Buess
181	Researching, collecting, preserving: Swiss explorers in colonial territories
	Tomás Bartoletti
199	The exploitation of nature: Big-game hunting, plantation economy, and colonial climate impacts
	Raphael Schwere
219	Colonialism and the institutionalisation of Swiss “racial research”
	Marilyn Umurungi
237	The changing perspectives at museums: Archival coloniality and restitution debates
	Esther Tisa Francini
255	Wallmapu, Ayiti, and Abya Yala: Inequality and exploitation in the Global South
	Jose Cáceres Mardones