

6	Foreword Denise Tonella
8	On the Exhibition: A Brief Psychogeography of Switzerland Stefan Zweifel
13	IN PICTURES I: LANDSCAPES OF THE SOUL
30	From Freud’s Psychoanalysis to Jung’s Analytical Psychology Stefan Zweifel
38	“The Swiss Line in the European Spectrum,” C. G. Jung
40	A New Grammar of the Mind—in the Swiss Spirit Alain de Botton
48	“The Navel of the Dream,” Sigmund Freud
50	Geneva: A Stage and “Gateway” for Psychoanalysis From J. J. Rousseau to Sabina Spielrein and Beyond Michael Jakob
56	“Psychogeographic Reveries,” J. J. Rousseau
59	IN PICTURES II: SIGMUND FREUD
74	The Last Turn? Ethnopsychanalysis in Zurich in the 1980s An Eyewitness Account and Rather Daring Hypothesis Forged with Hindsight Peter Schneider
80	“A Brief Ethnopsychanalysis for Children,” Paul Parin
82	Leading Women in Psychoanalysis—A Short Guide Ita Grosz-Ganzoni
90	“In Freud’s Practice,” Anna Guggenbühl

95	IN PICTURES III: C. G. JUNG
112	C. G. Jung as Thinker and Author Murray Stein
118	“Descent into Hell in the Future,” C. G. Jung
120	The Domestic Interior as the Scene of Work on the Unconscious The Desks of C. G. Jung and Sigmund Freud Lothar Müller
126	“Estranged Intimacy,” correspondance between Sigmund Freud and C. G. Jung
132	Imagination, Creativity, and Archetypes Elizabeth Leuenberger & Verena Kast
138	“Geneviève and the King,” Meret Oppenheim
140	Emma Jung: A Pioneer in Swiss Depth Psychology Thomas Fischer
148	“The Anima as an Elemental Being,” Emma Jung
151	IN PICTURES IV: HOSPITALS AND ART
168	Psychiatry: Child of an Ambivalent Modernity On the History of Psychiatry in Nineteenth and Twentieth Century Switzerland Urs Germann
174	“Pataphysics of Pathology,” Blaise Cendrars
176	Not Simply a Diminutive Adult. On the History of Child Psychiatry Ursina Klauser
182	“The Origin of the Child’s Words Papa and Mama,” Sabina Spielrein
184	Heroic Epics and Their Shadows. C. G. Jung in Pop Culture Christine Lötscher & Gesa Schneider
190	“For Madmen Only,” Hermann Hesse
192	Art and Insanity: A Crack in the Wall Otto Gross and the Resistance to Psychiatry and Psychoanalysis Stefan Zweifel
200	“The Clown of God,” Vaslav Nijinsky
202	APPENDIX