

Contents

6		111 Years Waldhaus Sils. Why?
9		The beginning
12		Josef and Amalia Giger
18		Choosing a location
26		The architect: Karl Koller
31		Capital matters
35		Construction
45		Furnishings
47		Welte-Mignon
51		Built-in efficiency
56		My Dear Mr. Koller
64		A sense of place
80		1908–1918: peaks and valleys
84		Fine and distinguished company
90		Hotel life in 1908
98		Maybe it was Uncle Gustav
104		World War!
115		Capital, revisited
122	rk	Oskar Kienberger-Giger
138	rk	First additions and renovations
140	rk	The automobile
144	rk	Hotel Phoenix
150	rk	The third generation
158	rk	Reintroduction of the winter season
167	rk	Guests
177	rk	Maintenance and improvements, 1955 to 1983
186	rk	The fourth generation
193	rk	Working relations
204	rk	What will the future bring?
207		1984–1988: changing of the guard
216		"A Cast of Thousands"
234		Records and challenges
245		Thoughts in autumn
251		Change and continuity
269		How to square a bathroom
275		A hotel with culture at the core? Well ...
281		The leased Parnassus
298		From 2010: a new generation steps in. And up.
314		The overture to our new era
321		Where are we now and where are we headed?
329		Appendix		