My Water Broke!

This game will be a hit with your party guests! Get a pack of tiny plastic babies at a craft store to kick off this fun game for everyone!

How to play:

1. Give each guest an ice cube with a plastic baby frozen in it. Have them place it in a cup.

2. Your guests will need to keep an eye on this cup throughout the party.

3. You can either allow or prohibit “artificial induction methods”, like adding hot liquid or holding the cup under a warm surface.

4. The first person whose ice has melted so that her baby floats freely in the glass shouts, “My water broke!” and wins the game.
