BIOGRAPHY

Betti Bazemore is your favorite girl-next-door who loves to talk about life. She is a South Philly native & former massage therapist who has transferred the discipline, professionalism, & leadership she acquired owning a wellness center, to the art of acting. She recently appeared as an enthusiastic Rocky fan in the Facebook Superbowl 2020 commercial production "Rock". Her down-to-earth charm & ethnic look enable her to play the fun sidekick & the "straight-shooter". Standing at 5'8", she's also great with Superhero & Military roles, as well as the sassy mother. Betti learned her acting skills from Kenneth McGregor (X-Men). She has also completed courses with Turae Gordon, & Power Street Theater.
