Professional Profile

Hello my name is Keriona Carter. I am an aspiring musician and actor. During the past couple of months I recently received an email to be the background for a show. I never really took acting as a professional more for the side job and a hustle but over the couple of months of doing background for different shows . The environment and the loving ness of the crew and characters inspired me to try and take acting to a more professional level. I am a very enthusiastic, loving, goofy, and outspoken individual. Background taught me to have a strong determination and positive mindset and how even background plays a very important role for productions and individuals. I am a very serious person even when I'm being goofy and playful improv is a natural talent I believe I have. I am currently working through college and trying flexible opportunities to increase my experience and skills. I take every opportunity in the most humblest way because background is a start and I'm not ashamed to say it.
