PROFILE

I'm a Detail-oriented and creatively driven software engineer With aspirations to combine my passions for Coding, Film production, and Web3 applications in the near future. Proficient in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Git and I'm still learning more coding languages as I build more websites. I've always been technology-focused so putting 100% of my attention and focus on gaining any skills I can to create platforms and applications with other like-minded engineers that I love is what drives me to perform my best at everything i do.
