ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

I have been struggling with people telling me acting isn't a real job. I can form a beautiful monologue, I am currently writing a book for about 4 years.
I am also a small streamer and I have a small fan base, also I took acting classes for 2 years I took choir for 3 years.
I have had my share of scammers trying to take money from me while trying to learn, how to get a role.
I am definitely ready to show everyone what I have got, I know I have what it takes so give me chance. A chance that no other person let me take.
