Additional information

Let's see, a bit about me eh? Well I am a very genuine, down to earth guy. I am a bit refined, but enjoy having fun and sharing a good laugh. I am a native of Selma, AL and have a very open personality. I enjoy meeting new people and making new friends, while both seeing and achieving new horizons. Now contrary to how I may come across or look, I have ALWAYS been a villain fan! Just something about the bad guys that just adds a certain flair and pizzazz to the big screen! If I were to be cast for any role, I would definitely love for it to be a villain, or the infamous anti-hero! Though have no formal acting training, I make up for that with loads of personality, enthusiasm and commitment! If given a shot at a role, I guarantee to give my 100% plus additional 20!
