Tora Woloshin

Multi-talented entrepreneur with many skill sets, she was mentored by Simon Cowell and has toured the world with her music. Most proficient in film production, writing, music and design.

Los Angeles, California, United States

Summary

Tora Woloshin is a SAG/AFTRA singer/songwriter, dancer, actress and model. She began performing at the age of 4. She released her first ep at 10 then another that she wrote and produced at the age of 13. America saw Tora on The X Factor USA, where she was mentored by Simon Cowell; https://youtu.be/4qTeY_VFrRU. Following X Factor, Tora signed with a label in Miami and did a small radio tour when her song hit stations worldwide. She also did a song with Jim Jones and Timbaland in that same year. After going independent she choreographed and produced a 3 month tour in China. She toured the U.S. with grammy nominated artist, B.o.B., and opened for Ne-Yo, Flo Rida, Method Man, Pink and more. Tora also has extensive experience in the modeling and acting industries; modeling for brands like, TasteBudz, Fingers De Freedom, Puma, featured in ELLE Magazine for Splat hair dye and acting in shows, music videos and commercials like Ballers, Mayans, Speechless, Nike commercials and more. After releasing her album, Tiger, Woloshin began to invent a new genre. As she continues to perfect her crafts, she is also going to law school. Woloshin attended the San Francisco Art Institute last year, which announced it's permanent closure after the spring 2020 semester; due to the current pandemic. Currently working on several different projects, Woloshin is genre-bending and looking for more opportunities to expose the new sound!
