SUMMARY

As someone who loves art, I aspire to grasp everyone's emotions with it, and heal the world through it.

I started out doing plays, but wanted to expand, so please don't typecast me as my mentor saw my true potential, and he challenged me to be versatile by placing me in roles like: Jim Taylor (Green Bay), Paul Verall (journalist), Aaron (Shakespeare villain), and William Henry Brown III (African American playwright). I'm only one face, but I can become many faces through art, passion, and belief. Do whatever you love!
