To Whom it may concern,

I have worked with Daniela Vrbancic for over 5 years as a professional model for our European brand Freddy. She has always been a team player and gone above and beyond to ensure the job was done in a timely manner. Daniela was professional while still being light hearted. I would not hesitate to work with her again in the future for any of our upcoming projects.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern,

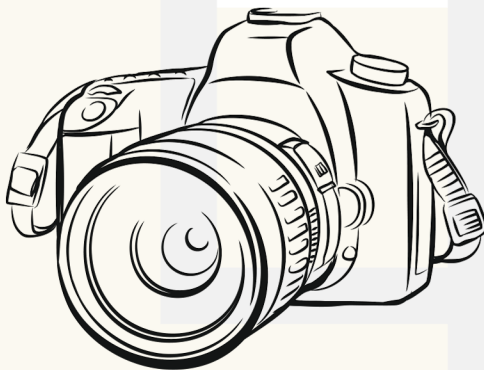

Elmer has established himself as a talented Fashion and Portrait photographer, Model Development coach, and Photography educator in Canada. With over 50 publications in international magazines, and now conducting regular monthly Fashion Photography workshops with the Studio Luma non-profit organisation. He has worked with and coached many young models now moving into the international markets, while helping them develop their portfolio of work.

I highly recommend Daniela Vrbancic as a uniquely skilled professional model. I have worked with her a number of times over the years, and found our combined efforts to be of the highest quality results. I find her skills as a model to be of the best of class, and found few to match her abilities as a professional model. I leave my contact information in case of any further questions or comments.

Sincerely,

Paris, as he prefers to be called, has positioned himself as a photographer with his own style in editorial, documentary and commercial photography. He was recently invited by Hunter & Gatti (New York / Barcelona) for be his assistant for an editorial shoot produced in Mexico for GQ Magazine (Covers and Editorial for Jon Kortajarena & Charlotte McKinney).

He has done editorials for printed and online fashion magazines, and also worked for fashion designers and clothing stores in Mexico, Buenos Aires and New York.

I agree to meet Miss Daniela Vrbancic, with whom I had the pleasure of working as a photographer during her stay in Mexico City.

Highly recommending Daniela Vrbancic as a high-level professional model. I was able to work with her on a good photography portfolio. Because of this, I highly recommend her as a professional, leaving my details in case of any questions or comments.

Sincerely,
