TIWANEE MOUSSET

After spending over four years in Oceania and Latin America as a model, graphic designer, and entrepreneur, I have made the choice to come back to Paris and pursue a career in the film industry. Currently, my aspirations lie in acting which was previously pursued as a hobby. Those close to me, including my former colleagues, agree that my defining traits are dynamism, charm, creativity, and determination. Additionally, my nomadic background has granted me a flawless command of English, Spanish, and, of course, French.
