Actor/Action Actor

Profile

Growing up in Brussels, to a German father and a Spanish-American-Mexican mother, I have always been exposed to many cultures. I was always a playful kid/teenager, creating my own Star Wars battle scenarios or Superhero fights on the playground. Still, I nevertheless went ahead and studied political sciences in Paris, France, before going after my dream of being an actor. While chasing this dream, I have already had the immense luck of being on-set with JCVD, for an Amazon Prime action film, and having a small part in an Argentine production - my parents raising me with three languages did pay off!
