Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to apply for the Software Engineer position at Girteka, focused on owning and scaling your WordPress ecosystem. With over seven years of hands-on WordPress development experience and a strong focus on modern, AI-assisted engineering practices, I am excited about the opportunity to take ownership of a portfolio of WordPress products within a structured, Scrum-driven team like yours.

In my current and previous roles - at Avia.ge, Sweeft | A Making Science, and now as Founder and Technical Lead of AI360deg Digital Agency - I have led WordPress development end-to-end: custom theme and plugin architecture, performance optimization, and maintaining multiple production sites simultaneously using ACF, WooCommerce, Elementor, WPML, and the Sage/Bedrock workflow. This experience has given me a solid foundation for managing several products at once while keeping performance, stability, and maintainability front and center, exactly as this role requires.

I already work in an agentic, AI-assisted way day to day - using Cursor, Claude, and ChatGPT to speed up development, improve code quality, and support automation through tools like Make.com - so integrating AI tools into your team's workflow is a natural fit rather than a new habit to build. I also bring practical experience with GitLab and Jira for version control, CI/CD, and project tracking, and I am comfortable working with React and Next.js on the front end, with a solid PHP foundation that I am keen to extend further into Laravel.

Beyond the technical side, I value clear documentation, code reviews, and continuous improvement - both of the product and of the way a team works. I also spent two years as a Front-End Developer Lecturer at SCSSA, which sharpened my ability to communicate technical decisions clearly and mentor colleagues, something I see as valuable in a cross-functional, international environment like Girteka's.

I would welcome the chance to discuss how my WordPress expertise and AI-assisted development approach could help scale Girteka's WordPress ecosystem. Thank you for considering my application - I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Avtandil Kakachishvili
