RE/MAX Marketplace Continues to Grow with Addition of Three New Vendors Providing Business Services to the RE/MAX Network

New additions include an operations and accounting platform, and AI-powered photography tools

DENVER – RE/MAX, LLC, one of the world’s leading franchisors of real estate brokerage services, today announced the addition of three companies to the RE/MAX Approved Supplier program. Empowering agents with top resources that are easy to find, use and implement so they can focus on what they do best – helping clients buy and sell homes – this program offers comprehensive offerings of business services in the industry. All services and materials are available for purchase directly through the RE/MAX Marketplace, the online portal exclusively available to RE/MAX agents in the U.S. and Canada – often at RE/MAX negotiated rates.

New members of the RE/MAX Approved Supplier program include:

Brokerage Engine: A first of its kind, complete back-office platform, Brokerage Engine revolutionizes operations and accounting for RE/MAX offices of every size. Built by Brokers, for Brokers, the system was created as an all-in-one, easy to use software to provide solutions other competitors simply cannot. The platform features instant company reporting, agent roster and listing inventory management, increased staff efficiencies, and lowered Brokerage expenses.

Exposio: Exposio leverages computer vision and artificial intelligence (AI) to democratize real estate photography. Exposio offers an easy-to-use HDR photography solution for real estate professionals called the Exposio Real Estate Camera App. Agents can easily capture picture perfect professional quality real estate photos using Exposio.

PropTexx: PropTexx's product innovations are focused on AI and computer vision technology. Their mission is to empower real estate professionals with solutions to transform the way they showcase, list and market properties. In a world where a property's digital presence influences its demand, PropTexx delivers value to agents by providing immersive and compelling photo editing solutions.

Many of the companies in the RE/MAX Approved Supplier program offer exclusive discounts to RE/MAX agents. With everything from yard signs to legal services, clothing to technology, these companies provide powerful tools to help RE/MAX agents run a successful business.
