

Return Policy

I am confident that you will love your artwork even more once you receive it. While I do not offer returns or exchanges for change of mind, I am very happy to discuss the work with you, in detail, if you are unsure prior to purchasing. This will help ensure you make the perfect selection.

Please contact me within 3 days of receiving your artwork, with photos, if you believe it has been damaged in transit. In the unlikely event that this occurs I will discuss with you and either arrange to repair it, if possible, or give you a full refund on return of the artwork.

All my work is handmade and therefore will not be perfect. That is what makes it so unique and special, and hopefully the reason you were drawn to it in the first place.
