2018 RYDER CUP

Le Golf National, Paris (Guyancourt), France
September 28-30, 2018

10½ — 17½

Jim Furyk
USA Captain

Thomas Bjørn
Europe Captain

The cup clincher came from the 16th tee as Italy's Francesco Molinari bested Phil Mickelson, 4 & 2. With France hosting its first Ryder Cup, Europe's 17½ to 10½ victory was its sixth straight on home soil and ninth in 12 matches overall. Down four points entering Sunday's singles, the U.S. got the early surge it needed: Justin Thomas won the 18th hole to defeat Rory McIlroy in the opening match and the frontloaded U.S. roster earned 4½ points in the first six matches. But Jon Rahm's victory over Tiger Woods stemmed the tide and the result was the event's widest margin of victory since 2006.

Molinari—the reigning Champion Golfer of the Year—became the first European to finish 5-0 in a single Ryder Cup and he never had to play the 18th hole. Henrik Stenson, a captain's pick, also was perfect (3-0) while fellow pick Sergio Garcia continued his Ryder Cup dominance, posting a 3-1 record to become Europe's career points leader with 25½ points. Each European won at least one point, while on the American side, Thomas finished 4-1 for the week, but Woods, Dustin Johnson, Rickie Fowler and Phil Mickelson combined for just two points.
