II. Tajweed:

1. When Alif, Waw, and yaa are madd letters?

Madd letters are three. Alif, Waw and Yaa.

Alif should have nothing on it (it means it has sukun) and the letter before it should have fathah.

Waw should have nothing on it (it means it has sukun) and the letter before it should have damah.

Yaa should have nothing on it (it means it has sukun) and the letter before it should have kasrah.

2. How many types of Laam At-Tareef?

- There are two types of Laam Al-Ta'reef

Laam Shamsiyyah which is followed by the following letters

(ط - ث - ص - ر - ت - ض - ذ - ن - د - س - ظ - ز - ش - ل)

Laam Qamariyyah which is followed by the following letters

(ا - ب - غ - ح - ج - ك - و - خ - ف - ع - ق - ي - م - ه)

How to know if it is Laam Shamsiyyah or Qamariyyah?

- Look at the letter following Laam Al-Tar'eef.

If the third letter has Shaddah then Laam Al-Tar'eef is Laam Shamsiyyah and we do not pronounce it.

If it does not have shaddah then Laam Al-Tar'eef is Qamariyyah and we pronounce it.

3. What are the qalqalh letters?

- They are five letters: (ق - ط - ب - ج - د)

They should have sukun on them if they are in the middle or when we stop on them if they are at the end of a word even if they have harkah (fatah, dammah, kasrah, two dammah, or two kasrah). They come in the middle or the end of the word. Kalkalah is a state between sukun and motaharek. Examples (وَاقٍ - مُحِيطٌ - مُرِيْبٍ - مَرِيْجٍ - وَلَمْ يُؤَلِّدْ)
