

THE SCHOOL FOR ETHICS AND GLOBAL LEADERSHIP

POSITION: Math/Science Teaching Fellow & Residential Advisor

LOCATION: Washington, DC

About the Position

This full-time position represents an extraordinary chance to help shape a school that is changing the world. With mentorship from experienced SEGL faculty and the Founder and Head of School, this position offers an opportunity for an early-career teacher to work with outstanding students both inside and outside the classroom, and to take on meaningful administrative roles. This position will be responsible for teaching honors and Advanced Placement (AP) Chemistry, Precalculus, and/or Calculus courses and serving as a Residential Advisor.

About The School for Ethics and Global Leadership

The School for Ethics and Global Leadership (SEGL) is a semester-long residential program for a diverse group of intellectually motivated high school juniors from across the United States. SEGL has campuses in Johannesburg, South Africa; London, United Kingdom; and Washington, DC. Each campus serves approximately 24 students each term. The program selects students who have shown outstanding character, promise for leadership, and scholastic ability and provides them with a unique curriculum that emphasizes ethical thinking, leadership development, and international affairs. More information is available at www.schoolforethics.org.

Mission Statement

To provide intellectually motivated high school juniors who represent the diversity of the United States with the best possible opportunity to shape themselves into ethical leaders who create positive change in our world.

Responsibilities

- Develop and deliver curricula that are responsive to the needs of our students and the requirements of the math/science programs of their home schools. This could include AP-aligned and honors courses in Chemistry, Precalculus, and/or Calculus.
- Work with the Residential Team on student life programming
- Serve as an advisor to 2-3 students each semester
- Additional administrative responsibilities to support the School
- Live in an on-campus apartment
- Regular evening and weekend dormitory supervision (1-2 evenings per week)

THE SCHOOL FOR ETHICS AND GLOBAL LEADERSHIP

Qualifications

- Bachelor's degree required
- Flexible and collaborative in a variety of circumstances, and able to work in a fast-paced, start up environment
- Willing to accomplish both advanced and basic tasks with a positive attitude
- Excellent writing skills
- Excited to work as part of a passionate, collegial, mission-driven team that celebrates diversity

Compensation

This position is compensated as a 10-month fellowship contract that includes a monthly stipend of $1,850 in addition to room and board (approx. $25,000 value). After completing the fellowship year, many fellows are invited back as full-time faculty members. The School also offers a generous benefits package including:

- Medical insurance (including PPO & HMO options) and dental insurance
- 403(b) retirement plan with School matching contribution
- Professional development support and benefits
- Generous sick, personal, and paid family leave programs

TO APPLY

Email a résumé and cover letter to Caila Driscoll (COO & Dean of Faculty) at caila.driscoll@schoolforethics.org. Your cover letter, which should be no longer than two single-spaced pages, should answer the following questions:

1. Given the position description, what specific strengths would you bring to the SEGL team?
2. What do you hope to gain from this experience? How will it help you fulfill future goals?

SEGL will begin reviewing applications immediately. The position will begin in August 2026. Please direct any questions to Caila Driscoll.
