WELCOME TO AUSTIN

On behalf of Visit Austin and the Greater Austin Black Chamber of Commerce (GABC), welcome to the Live Music Capital of the World®! This Field Guide to the Soul of Austin provides an overview of the city, plus plenty of signposts to help you get your cultural bearings. In the following pages, you'll find a sampling of the must do, see and experience Austin hits. Let this insider's advice point you in the right direction for history and culture, as well as where to go for an amazing meal, a relaxing afternoon or a hot night out.

On behalf of the Greater Austin Black Chamber of Commerce, welcome to Austin. This guide includes just a sampling of our members' businesses, but it won't take long for you to see what makes Austin one of the top 15 cities where African Americans achieve economic success, and where Black firms exceed Texas and U.S. averages in retail sales. We invite you to experience Austin's history, unique culture and of course some of the local businesses featured in these pages. While you're in town, interact with us via #IAMBLACKAUSTIN™, an ongoing interactive campaign highlighting the multidimensional expression of Black life in Austin.

TAM HAWKINS President & CEO,
GREATER AUSTIN BLACK CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Welcome! At Visit Austin, we invite you to experience Austin like a local — stroll through our vibrant entertainment districts, catch a show at one of more than 250 live music venues or immerse yourself in the rich history of Black cultural district. If we can be of assistance during your stay, please stop by the Austin Visitor Center, engage with us on Twitter using #trueaustin or just tap a friendly Austinite on the shoulder. We're happy you're here and wish you an enjoyable stay.

VISIT AUSTIN

For more information, visit us at visitaustin.org and austinbcc.org.

You can see the heart of East Austin in the African American and Latino cultures that intertwine block by block. Entities like Six Square, Spirit of the East Side and Hermanos de East Austin are dedicated to preserving the history and culture of this area of the city.

The East Side is home to the George Washington Carver Museum and Cultural and Genealogy Center, which boasts a genealogy center, meeting and performance spaces and a namesake branch of the public library. Downs Mabson Field, once home of the Austin Black Senators. The Millennium Youth Entertainment Complex (MYEC) is where locals and visitors alike bring the family for bowling, roller-skating, karaoke, games, birthday parties, concerts and more. MYEC has strong ties to the East Side; it came together as a symbol of peaceful activism to offer local kids safe, wholesome entertainment options. (Kids just see it for the fun!)

This is where people gather at Rosewood Park to commemorate Juneteenth, and it's home to MLK Day celebrations at Austin's Historically Black College and University (HBCU), Huston-Tillotson University.

And sure, east of I-35 one can find the hottest chefs and the most sought-after mixologists, but dig a little deeper for a richer taste of history and culture. Because it's where, after 40+ years, you'll still find brothers Freddie and Eddie Roland of Roland's Soul Food and Fish dishing out home-style cooking. It's where you go when you want to find old-school curanderas The Green and White Grocery or some honest-to-goodness good Texas Cooking at Hoover's.

SIX SQUARE

As one of the largest cultural districts in the country, Six Square takes its name from the literal boundary (of approximately six square miles) designated for the district and creates a positive and welcoming environment while actively crafting the district's important future. Stop by the Six Square office to take a tour of the East Side.

Six Square is home to numerous sites of national, regional and local historic significance and celebrates African American culture year-round with art exhibits, performances, festivals and other engaging community events.

Texas State Cemetery

Founded in 1851, the Texas State Cemetery is the final resting place of Texas' most notable sons and daughters, including Stephen F. Austin and Barbara Jordan.

Oakwood Cemetery

Originally called City Cemetery in 1839, this is the oldest of five public cemeteries in Austin. The first reported burial was that of an enslaved person in 1839. The 40-acre cemetery's 23,000 burials — reflective of Austin's diverse population with two Jewish sections and the burials of colonial pioneers and five governors — are managed by the city and it continues to receive burials.

HARRISON EPPRIGHT

Austin Visitor Center

Harrison Eppright, a native Austinite (save for the 10 months he lived in Nacogdoches, Texas), is the manager of Visitor Services and tour ambassador for Visit Austin. Harrison suggests all visitors take a tour of the Texas State Capitol as it links Austin's history and identity — past, present and future.

HUSTON-TILLOTSON UNIVERSITY

Austin is proud to be a university-centered city. Our institutions of higher learning bring thousands of hungry minds to the city each school year. HBCU Huston-Tillotson University opened in 1875 as the very first institution of higher learning in Austin.

It began as two schools, Tillotson College and Samuel Huston College, until merging in 1952. Notable alumni include Alex Porter, Azie Taylor Morton, James A. Harris, Dr. Herman Barnett, Gill Askey, Dr. June H. Brewer, Dr. Zan Wesley Holmes and Volma Overton, among many distinguished others, and perhaps most famously, Jackie Robinson, who coached basketball here in 1944–45.

INSIDER SPOTLIGHT MUSIC

Austin is the soul of Texas, and we earn the title of Live Music Capital of the World® by showcasing bands seven nights a week in more than 250 live music venues across the city. We are home to world-class festivals such as Austin City Limits Music Festival, South by Southwest®, Carnaval Brasileiro, Urban Music Festival and Austin Reggae Festival, where we deliver the best in music, dance and food. Many of our legendary live music venues were made famous by hosting legends like Ray Charles and B.B. King. Today, local talents such as Gary Clark, Jr., Bavu Blakes and Ephraim Owens perform regularly, and we're introducing visitors to the next generation of artists such as Charlie Belle, The Peterson Brothers, Tameca Jones, Tree G, Chay CEO, Mama Duke, Serafina and Ray Prim.

Insider tip: The Live Music Capital of the World® has come up with a way to tip musicians in a frequently cashless society. Download TipCow (tipcow.me) where you can swipe to show financial appreciation for a good time.

INSIDER SPOTLIGHT ARTS & CULTURE

Art connoisseurs have a full itinerary all their own. Home to world-class museums and galleries, Austin's burgeoning creative scene is home to visual artists such as Chaka Mpeanaji, Kel Brown and Beth Consetta Rubel.

The Carver Museum collects, preserves and exhibits African American historical and cultural material. Pride of place is the core exhibit on Juneteenth, with a permanent exhibit on Austin African American families. It's a fantastic place for the kiddos, with a children's exhibit on African American scientists and inventors. Its four galleries, dance studio, theater and genealogy center come together to offer a truly immersive experience.

The Dedrick-Hamilton House was owned by Thomas Dedrick, one of the first freed slaves in Travis County, and his relative James Hamilton was the last person to reside there. The home, built around 1880, was in one of the earliest African American communities in East Austin. The fully restored historic house now serves as an African American Visitors Center and retail shop. The Dedrick-Hamilton House also houses the Greater Austin Black Chamber of Commerce and the Office of Arts & Cultural Resources. The Dedrick-Hamilton House is currently managed by the Greater Austin Black Chamber of Commerce, which is located at the African American Cultural Heritage facility.

The Contemporary, one museum with two sites, showcases contemporary art and culture. Both its Laguna Gloria and Downtown locations are gorgeously curated homes to international, immersive modern art.

Ballet Afrique was started in 2008 by China Smith, as a cultural center for the African American contemporary dance arts. Now home to a dance academy, a professional dance company, a youth dance ensemble and community dance classes, Ballet Afrique is a bedrock of cultural expression through movement.

We're also home to enough filmmakers' studios and film schools to earn the nickname "Third Coast." Be sure to check out the Capital City Black Film Festival in August. You can also see a show year-round at Spectrum Theatre Company.

Insider tip: Keep newcomers Fum Fum Ko and B.B. Araya on your radars!

INSIDER SPOTLIGHT FOOD

BARBECUE

In Texas, barbecue is as ubiquitous as sunshine and football. We're home to Franklin Barbecue, a joint so world-famous that President Obama considered it a must-try on his stop through town. While he was able to skip the hours-long wait, no one else can, so be prepared to stay a while. The "swear it's worth it" waiting is considered part of the experience, and there's no shortage of cold beer to make that line bearable.

East Side's Sam's BBQ, serving Austin's original hot sausage and home of the "You Don't Need Teeth to Eat My Beef," is a mainstay among locals. They've been at their base at 12th and Chicon since the 1940s, and in this quickly changing part of town, they're a stronghold of East Austin's past.

Insider tip: Sam's BBQ is open until 3 a.m. on the weekends!

Detroit-based Dirty Gloves Midwest BBQ found a home in Austin and drummed up a big fan base faster than it took to smoke those ribs. They have shrimp and catfish on their menu, along with all the Southern sides you could ask for.

La Barbecue and Micklethwait Craft Meats are also heavy hitters here in town.

TEX-MEX

Where to find Austin's most authentic Tex-Mex breakfast, lunch and dinner? The East Side, of course. On Cesar Chavez, Juan in a Million is famous for their breakfast tacos. Visit Mi Madre's on Manor Road for your chips and salsa fix. On East Seventh Street, Joe's Bakery & Coffee Shop is a family business that got its start in 1935 with a small restaurant that doubled as their home. Serving up traditional style of pan Mexicano (pan dulce) from the start, and in the '60s, expanding into a full-service restaurant, Joe's has been a staple of the community ever since. Their diner-style breakfast (chicharrón platters, barbacoa tacos, migas) is served all day, and their lunch will never leave you hungry.

Insider tip: Locals swear their menudo is the best around (but save some room for their pink cake!).

Faces of Austin

REGINA ESTRADA

Joe's Bakery & Coffee Shop

"I always tell people Austin is unlike any other city in Texas, and I am proud to represent Austin's unique personality. At Joe's Bakery, we are a melting pot of diversity, culture, music, history and, most importantly, people. I firmly believe when you walk through our doors, you are getting a real glimpse of Austin. The history is on our walls, and the love and laughter make you feel at home."

FOOD TRUCKS

The food truck scene in Austin is on another level. Black-owned Three Chicks Soul Food, The Grub House (don't miss their firecracker fries!), Krab Kingz Seafood, and Emojis Grilled Cheese are all solid choices. Hit up Wild Magnolias for New Orleans-style catfish and their crowd-favorite peach tea.

Originally starting out as a food truck, Chi'Lantro BBQ has multiple locations around town, including South Shore along Lady Bird Lake and serves up delicious Korean-Mexican fusion. They are best known for their kimchi fries, but you can't go wrong with anything on their menu.

CRAFT BEER

Austin is a heavy hitter on the craft beer scene. Taste your way around the beer menus at the many breweries, pubs and restaurants. Our brewmasters and bar staffs are well-versed and can steer you in the right direction, so don't be shy and ask questions. Craftbeeraustin.com is a great online source for the latest suds news and tasting events.

VEGETARIAN/VEGAN/HALAL

As much as Austin loves our barbecue, we have many options when it comes to vegetarian, vegan, halal and paleo. Counter Café, Mr. Natural, Casa de Luz and Bouldin Creek Café don't skimp on big flavors. Picnik is Austin's premier paleo stop. They pride themselves on allergy awareness and are known for their grass-fed butter coffee.

For certified halal, The Halal Corner, Halal Bros and Shawarma Point are all local favorites. Heavily lauded Kababeque has food trucks on The University of Texas campus and at The Domain.

INSIDER SPOTLIGHT COMEDY

Austin's comedy scene has exploded over the past decade, and there's something to see every night of the week. All-Black improv troupes, Sugar, Water, Purple and Damn, Gina!, are guaranteed to bring the LOLs at ColdTowne Theater. Blogger, actress and ridiculously hilarious comedian Nathalie Holmes commands the stage at Downtown's darling sketch and satire comedy club, Esther's Follies.

Home of the Funniest Person in Austin competition, Cap City Comedy Club brings in national headliners alongside a steady roster of up-and-coming standups. Austin's five families of improv — Merlin Works, ColdTowne Theater, The Hideout, The Institution and The New Movement — hold comedy court at their respective comedy venues. Each spring, the Moontower Comedy Festival showcases the best we've got, alongside the best in the nation.

INSIDER SPOTLIGHT DANCE

Once a month, The Millennium Youth Entertainment Complex has Grown Folks Step and Roll adult skate and old-school hip-hop dance party. Body Rock ATX holds court once a month at Empire Control Room, and the Sahara Lounge hosts Ladies Night: Funk, Soul, Hip-hop Dance Parties on third Thursdays.

On the DJ scene, keep an ear out for DJ Kay Cali, DJ I Wanna Be Her, Cold Lampin' Crew, DJ Hella Yella, DJ Curtis Mitchell and DJ Mel. And do what you can to catch award-winning hip-hop duo Riders Against the Storm while you're out.

Insider tip: Follow these influencer DJs for tweets and snaps on the latest around town.

♪ EAR CANDY & CHILL ☺♪

EAR CANDY + BARBECUE

The original Stubb's Bar-B-Q, founded in 1968, quickly became a stage for musicians like Muddy Waters, John Lee Hooker, Willie Nelson, Johnny Cash, Robert Cray and Clarence "Gatemouth" Brown. Its musical legacy continues to live on through two stages of live music and a revolving roster of national and local acts.

Don't miss their Sunday Gospel Brunch, with live Gospel music and a world-renowned buffet, featuring such items as: Southern-style grits, migas, fried catfish and their famous barbecue brisket, complete with a bespoke Bloody Mary bar.

EAR CANDY

Originally on the Chitlin' Circuit, the Victory Grill hosted acts such as B.B. King, Bobby "Blue" Bland, W.C. Clark, Clarence "Gatemouth" Brown, Ike & Tina Turner, James Brown, Etta James, Billie Holiday, Chuck Berry and Janis Joplin. Today, you can still catch live music at this legendary juke joint, as well as African American film screenings.

Faces of Austin

TJE AUSTIN

Musician

Tje, a singer/songwriter, was on the first season of "The Voice," and today he can be seen playing at local venues all over the city.

Tje suggests checking out pastry shops like Gourdough's and Sugar Mama's.

"I am proud to be part of the ever-evolving machine of artists in Austin that help it truly be the Live Music Capital of the World®. People come to Austin because they know we have great barbecue and even better music."

INSIDER SPOTLIGHT OUTDOORS

Austin gets more than 300 days of sunshine a year, and you can soak up every bit of it. Lace up your trainers and hit our trails with the Austin chapter of Black Girls Run. Looking for a group outing? Let the Austin Chapter of Outdoor Afro show you around. Don't be surprised if you run into Olympic Gold Medalist Sanya Richards-Ross at Lady Bird Lake — we're proud to call her an Austinite!

We're spoiled for choice when it comes to outdoor recreation, sights and dining — whether you're planning a day out on the lake or if you just feel like kicking back on a patio with a craft cocktail — there's something to discover around every corner here.

RUN, WALK OR RIDE THE HIKE-AND-BIKE TRAIL

Ten miles of lush canopy crown Lady Bird Lake in the heart of Downtown, making it perfect for a shaded relaxing stroll or invigorating run. Or pick up a bike rental and take in the downtown skyline on wheels. The Boardwalk connects the trail over the lake, allowing for easy trail exploration. Pack binoculars for the abundant bird watching.

HOT DAYS, COLD WATER

It's not an exaggeration that Barton Springs Pool is a literal oasis, with its clear aquamarine waters allowing for clear viewing of the native plants and fish. The constant 68-degree water attracts both recreational and endurance swimmers year-round. The surrounding green hills make for perfect lounging and people watching. Do some laps in Deep Eddy Pool, the state's oldest public swimming pool.

GET YOUR HIKE OR BIKE ON

Another example of what sets Austin apart from the rest of Texas? The Barton Creek Greenbelt defies the expected Texas terrain with more than seven miles of hiking, biking, swimming, boating, and waterskiing. Walnut Creek Trail is Austin's first Urban Trail, and Walter E. Long Park is great for fishing, picnics and family gatherings.

2 DAYS IN AUSTIN

DAY ONE

MORNING

Get your caffeine fix at Caffé Medici before spending the morning exploring the Texas Capitol grounds and nearby historic sites. While at the Capitol grounds look for the African American History Memorial, a two-sided panorama depicting over 400 years of the black experience in Texas. Walk over to Baylor and 11th to explore HOPE Outdoor Gallery, an outdoor paint park designed and developed with the help of contemporary artist Shepard Fairey. The only paint park of its kind in the nation, this park brings muralists, street artists and community groups together to showcase positivity through graffiti. Got can skills? Grab a paint pass and get to creating.

AFTERNOON

For lunch, nothing but a juicy two-fisted burger and truffle fries from Hopdoddy Burger Bar, a light and savory avocado toast at Cafe No Sé or a slice of margarita pizza from Home Slice will do. Snap a pic at the iconic “I love you so much” mural, then stroll South Congress with a coffee from Jo’s and pop in to South Congress Books, Lucy in Disguise, Triple Z Threadz, Big Top Candy Shop and all spots in between. Then take in some Texas culture at the Bullock Texas State History Museum. Kids and adults alike will enjoy the exhibits in this three-story Downtown treasure, with its High Noon talks and IMAX theater. You can also visit the Mexic-Arte Museum, Harry Ransom Center or the Blanton Museum of Art. If you’ve worked up an appetite after all the history and art, head to Hillside Farmacy for their mac & cheese or beer battered fish & chips.

EVENING

Take a sunset cruise or rent a canoe to watch the millions of Mexican free-tailed bats under the Congress Avenue bridge take flight (April through October, roughly). Head over to the East Side for dinner at Casa Colombia or dine outdoors at Justine’s Brasserie, where the atmosphere battles the food and cocktails for winning your heart and belly. Afterward, Whisler’s has cocktails to match its cool interior, and take in a play at Vortex. Or head back Downtown for jazz at Elephant Room.

Insider tip: Take some time to visit Lyndon B. Johnson Presidential Library and Museum’s Civil Rights exhibit.

DAY TWO

MORNING

Rent a Rocket Electrics bike and cruise over to the East Side. Hit up local legend Joe's Bakery for a Tex-Mex breakfast, or try a nice buttery croissant from Blue Dahlia. Then head over to the You're my Butter Half mural and take a selfie with your better half. While east, visit the Carver Museum and take a tour Six Square, Austin's Black Cultural District. Feeling some food-truck love? Check out the bacon, pimento cheese and fried egg on brioche at Paperboy, and Mr. Natural has all your vegan/vegetarian needs covered.

Meet up with your tour guide from the nationally lauded Austin Eats Food Tour. Their highly rated "Best of Austin" food truck tour is a foodie's paradise. With a roster of 80 local restaurants and food trucks they rotate through, you can rest assured that you'll get a proper sampling of the best of the best, bite by bite. Good weather? Grab your swimsuit and enjoy a splash in Barton Springs, and bring a kite and let the kids spend the afternoon at Zilker Park. Shopping beckons? Head north to The Domain for stores like W3LL PEOPLE and STAG Provisions for Men.

EVENING

Spice things up with dinner at Nasha India. For a more laid-back vibe, try Fresa's Chicken Al Carbon for tacos and margaritas on their tree-lined patio. Check out live comedy at Esther's Follies, Cap City or any one of the five families of improv theaters across town for some gut-busting laughs. Make your way to East or West Sixth Street for evening cocktails, then the Red River district for live music.

Insider tip: Here on a Sunday? Don't miss Sunday Funday at The Domain's Rock Rose and NORTHSIDE!

ROBERT WATSON

Hilton Austin

Robert Watson began his career in the hospitality industry when he was only 12 years old, checking hats at the then Fairmont Mayo Hotel in Tulsa, Oklahoma. He was inspired by his father, who had a 30-year career at Tulsa's historic Mayo Hotel. Robert is now the general manager of Hilton Austin, a AAA Four Diamond 800-room hotel.

DON'T MISS THESE DISTRICTS IN THE DOWNTOWN AREA

SECOND STREET

Spanning the length of Second Street between Congress Avenue and San Antonio Street, this area is home to local and national brands, ranging from beauty, body to restaurants and overnight respites. Grab your reusable tote (we're a plastic-bag-free city) and your wallet, and dive into the mix.

WAREHOUSE

Many of this area's high-end bars and restaurants are housed in funky, renovated warehouses, and this district is commonly referred to as Sixth Street's older cousin. Here you'll find a scene that draws a diverse crowd thanks to its range of live music, eateries, bars and unique shops.

WEST SIXTH STREET

Heavily dotted with antiques and art galleries for the perusing, but tempered with records, books, beauty and upscale retail, West Sixth Street is a place to stay and play.

FLAVORS

Foodies savor mouth-watering plates at restaurants like Red Ash Italia, La Condesa and Wu Chow. Night owls can soak up unparalleled views of the city from the rooftop of Hangar Lounge or dance the night away at LGBTQ favorites Highland Lounge and Oilcan Harry's. On Congress Avenue, you'll find Cooper's Old Time Pit Bar-B-Que, with smoked brisket and ribs served up at this fully stocked drink stop.

SOUNDS

Music lovers can watch local bands jam out every night in the Roaring '20s–inspired music lounge at Speakeasy. At Antone's, Miss Lavelle White performs most Sundays. For jazz fans, Elephant Room has you covered with shows every night. Located across from Austin City Hall, 3TEN is the 350-seat sister venue to ACL Live at Moody Theater and hosts cozy, intimate performances.

Insider tip: Find the secret bars Midnight Cowboy and Red Room for cocktails and bragging rights.

EAST

VIBE

Whether you're looking for breakfast tacos, the perfect selfie at You're My Butter Half mural or just in the mood to take in some of Austin's historic culture East Austin has you covered.

FLAVORS

El Chile Café y Cantina is the place for fresh Tex-Mex flavors with an Austin twist. If you can't get enough of their salsa, they've bottled it to go! Looking for a great food truck? Abo Yousef is a must try for Mediterranean food.

Hoover's Cooking is the place to go to find Austin's favorite Texas-home-cooking chef, Hoover Alexander. He got his start at The Nighthawk, a restaurant well-lauded for breaking racial barriers, then opened his own farm-to-table spot on Manor Road 15 years ago, down the road from his childhood home.

A vegetarian's dream, and true to Austin's locavore reputation, Eastside Café gives new meaning to comfort food with seasonal vegetables and herbs harvested from the garden on its property.

Looking for a low-key place to kick back? Visit Butterfly Bar's outdoor patio area for a cocktail, a snack and a visit from the bar's friendly cat, Radius.

SOUNDS

DJs reign supreme at Stay Gold, The Eastern and Brixton. Looking for live music? The Historic Scoot Inn and The White Horse have you covered. And lastly, don't miss the historic Victory Grill!

RAINEY STREET

VIBE

Rainey Street has transformed its tucked-away bungalow houses into a walkable bar neighborhood. Be sure to check out the Emma S. Barrientos Mexican American Cultural Center and take in some art and music.

FLAVORS

The plethora of inexpensive gourmet sausages at Banger's Sausage House & Beer Garden range from traditional to vegetarian to exotic (think alligator boudin and curry wurst). Try them with over 100 craft brews on tap on tree-shaded beer garden. Out late? Try the original chicken lollipop wings at Tommy Want Wingy, located on the patio of Lustre Pearl.

SOUNDS

Be sure to check out Geraldine's inside of Hotel Van Zandt. They offer live music every night of the week, with one of Austin's favorites, Tje Austin, playing weekly.

RED RIVER

VIBE

This historic district of venues, bars and dance clubs comes alive when the sun goes down. Hip-hop nights at Empire Control Room, Grits-n-Gravy Thursday dance nights at LGBTQ-mainstay (and consistently award-winning) Barbarella, and Rock n' Roll Karaoke Mondays at Beerland all make for truly epic nights out. Come back and repent on Sunday with the make-your-own Bloody Mary bar at Stubb's Gospel Brunch.

FLAVORS

Grab a Jersey-style folding slice at Hoboken Pie as you walk Red River and fuel up for the night. Or come in late night — they serve their hand-tossed, stone-baked awesomeness 'til 2:30 a.m. Check out Pelon's Tex-Mex Restaurant for hatch chili queso and agave nectar margaritas.

SOUNDS

The Mohawk is all about raw talent and emerging bands. Come here for music and multilevel views of the stage, stay to be properly weirded out by events, like the Annual Quesoff, (where locals compete with their queso concoctions) spelling bees and even beard-growing face-offs. Looking for music outside? Stubb's, an Austin institution, offers an outdoor stage that's built for bring-the-house-down performers.

SIXTH STREET

VIBE

A mainstay for the college kids, check out Plush and Barcelona for their hip-hop nights. The Parish is well-known for being an intimate live-music mecca. Voodoo Doughnut is an absolute must — but bring cash, they don't take cards.

FLAVORS

Easy Tiger Bake Shop & Beer Garden features artisan bread (including baguettes, croissants, pretzels), locally roasted coffee, house-made meats (sausages, corned beef, pastrami), a full bar and more than 30 local and boutique draft beers.

For a massive selection of oysters, Parkside's raw bar is your best bet. This quiet haven on bustling Sixth Street has you covered with selections ranging from the sea to the shore. (Locals rave about their fried egg sandwich!)

SOUNDS

From local hopefuls to big-name touring artists, Sixth Street is one of Austin's main areas to check out live music. Maggie Mae's boasts several types of entertainment, including a sports bar, complete with big screens for the game; an authentic English pub suited for conversation; a New Orleans-style courtyard; the rooftop beneath the stars with a 27-foot movie screen; and three different stages outfitted for live music.

SOUTH CONGRESS

VIBE

This vibrant neighborhood south of Lady Bird Lake is an absolute must-stroll for visitors and a popular hangout for locals. South Congress is where the laid-back spirit of Austin shines. Walk these blocks surrounded by eclectic boutiques, hotels and some of the best people watching in town.

FLAVORS

Refuel with a stop at South Congress Café. You can't go wrong at brunch with migas, made-from-scratch tortillas topped with eggs, black beans and chipotle hot sauce. Try the tacos al pastor and a hand-shaken margarita at Güero's Taco Bar, an Austin landmark for more than two decades. In the mood for seafood? Lobster rolls and oysters are fan favorites at Perla's. For food on the run, grab an unforgettable twist-on-traditional cupcake at Hey Cupcake!

SOUNDS

Make it your mission to stop by The Continental Club. A renowned Austin institution since 1957, the club showcases musical acts from famed Texas artists to up-and-comers. The Continental Club Gallery, upstairs, offers a fusion of revolving art displays, mellow jazz and craft cocktails.

Watertrade at South Congress Hotel

Robert Bjorn Taylor is a bartender at Watertrade, a pre-destination for cocktails before dining at Otoko. "Our take is very distinctive. We always express our love for food and drink genuinely always unafraid to go out of the boundaries of what's expected."

THE DOMAIN

VIBE

We really do take advantage of the perpetual sunshine here, and The Domain is a must visit. With stores to accommodate any budget, this outdoor shopping venue has more than 100 stores, there's the perfect something for everyone. Hotels, clothing, home décor and entertainment areas like Rock Rose and NORTHSIDE make this area a giant outdoor eating, playing and staying oasis.

FLAVORS

Stop in to the brick and mortar location of this famed East Austin food truck Thai Kun, headed by Executive Chef Thai Changthong. They offer delicious, inventive Thai food options including flavorful satays, refreshing papaya salads and a fantastic cocktail list.

Fully embracing its namesake, St. Genevieve, the patron saint of good times, Rock Rose's an upscale lounge in the Rock Rose area is made for gathering around good food and libations. Stop by for brunch or happy-hour, and try a few of the delicious plates. Offering a unique tapas and cocktail menu, 77 Degrees Rooftop's expansive three-story rooftop bar is the perfectly posh place to unwind during your visit, with sleek white furniture, suspended swings, breezy cabanas and open spaces that are perfect for mingling and making new friends. Check out their other two concepts on-site — Irish pub Jack & Ginger's and dance club Rose Room.

The Dogwood keeps it casual and incorporates classic Southern hospitality into the service as well as the menu. Enjoy live music or dance the night away with a DJ. The spacious patios and unbeatable views give this spot a community-centric atmosphere that's great for large gatherings.

GETTING AROUND AUSTIN TRANSPORTATION

“Drive friendly” is one of our state mottos, and Austin is no exception. Getting to and from the airport — and all around town — is easy. Most major rental car companies are available at Austin-Bergstrom International Airport, and other standard transportation options include:

CAPITAL METRO BUS LINE

Austin’s public bus system is part of a 500 square-mile Central Texas system of more than 3,000 bus stops and 53 routes. Austin is serviced by multiple local bus routes, limited stop/flyer routes, express routes and The University of Texas shuttle routes. Download the CapMetro app for comprehensive maps and details.

METRO RAIL

MetroRail connects Austin on a 32-mile line that stretches all the way from the city of Leander to downtown Austin next to the Convention Center. Services run six days a week until around 7, and until midnight on Fridays and Saturdays.

TAXI/RIDESHARE

Austin is tapped into the latest tech-based transit. Check out the current taxi and rideshare options to get on-demand rides any time of day. (visitaustin.org/rideshare)

SHUTTLES

SuperShuttle is one of the leading airport shuttle services in the U.S., serving over eight million passengers a year. For a VIP experience, try their private black car service ExecuCar. Learn more about additional shuttle, limousine and charter services here. (visitaustin.org)

RENT A BIKE

On-the-go bike rentals from Austin B-cycle are available to use at more than 40 stations located throughout the city. Also available are a number bike shops that offer hourly and daily rentals.

PEDICAB

These carts pulled by local cyclists can be found all throughout Austin. Each driver is licensed by the City of Austin Ground Transportation Department and works solely on tips, so be generous!

Many journeys into the African American cultural presence in Austin begin as visitors step off the plane into the Austin-Bergstrom International Airport (ABIA) Barbara Jordan Terminal. The life-size sculpture of the Congresswoman and scholar presiding calmly over the buzz of baggage claim sends you on your way to new adventures.
