ART FOR LUNCH

1:30 PM

Ackland Art Museum / 101 South Columbia Street Chapel Hill (919) 966-5736

Admission: Free

Theresa Gloster, Caldwell Family Artist-in-Residence, For Black vernacular artist Theresa Gloster, "memory" is more than simple reminiscing. Instead, it's a destination, a place to step into and then to inhabit. Her paintings—recalling her childhood in the segregated South—palpably pulls her into her past, inviting her to lose herself in the fullness of relived experience. In this conversation moderated by Professor Glenn Hinson (American Studies, UNC-Chapel Hill), Ms. Gloster will both talk about her journey as a mystically "called" self-taught artist, and discuss works that she's painted more than once—either as separate paintings, or as pieces that she's added to as time has progressed. Feel free to bring your own bag lunch. Space is limited, so please RSVP to reserve your spot. ackland.org/

ACKLAND ART MUSEUM TOUR

CLICK, CLACK, TYPEWRITERS, AND AUTHORS

5:30 PM TO 7 PM

Orange County Historical Museum / 201 North Churton St Hillsborough (919) 732-2201

Exhibition Opening Night Reception - Come celebrate the opening of the exhibition Click, Clack: Typewriters and Authors at the Orange County Historical Museum. The typewriter is one of the great inventions of modernity. Once it began being widely used, the typewriter quickly changed the act of writing forever. It completely altered communications overall and became a critical tool for businesses and writers in a time when handwriting was still the primary method of non-verbal communication. This exhibition examines the technological innovations illustrated by several typewriters and allows the viewer to see the evolution of this machine throughout the 20th century. It also explores some of the famous authors who used these types of machines to produce their works. Free and open to the public. There will be refreshments, light snacks, and a lecture to follow. Exhibition dates: Through July 1, 2018. orangenchistory.org/

CAROLINA SCIENCE CAFE

6 PM

Top of the Hill Restaurant & Brewery / 100 East Franklin Street Chapel Hill (919) 962-1236

The Neurobiology of Gut Feelings - Learn how the gut makes sense of what we eat and how it tells the brain how it feels. Each Carolina Science Cafe features an expert presentation and informal discussion. These programs are held at Top of the Hill restaurant's "Back Bar," which offers a relaxed environment to explore fascinating science topics. Beverages are available from Top of the Hill's menu, and free appetizers - while they last - are provided by Sigma Xi.

LITERARY TRAILS OF THE NC PIEDMONT

7 PM TO 8:30 PM

Orange County Historical Museum / 201 North Churton St Hillsborough (919) 732-2201

Why has the Piedmont, and Charlotte in particular, produced so many writers of mystery and crime novels? How has the textile mill culture influenced Piedmont literature throughout the 20th and into the 21st century? What are the roots of North Carolina's extraordinary proliferation of creative writers? Based on her guidebook by the same title, Georgann Eubanks answers these questions and takes readers on a literary tour of North Carolina's Piedmont, past and present.

7:30 PM

ArtsCenter / 300-G East Main St Carrboro (919) 929-2787

Admission: $10, $8 Students in advance

The UNC Pauper Players are proud to present Stephen Sondheim's classic, Into the Woods. The UNC Pauper Players' production of Stephen Sondheim's Into the Woods takes this musical classic and brings it forward, while staying true to the original story loved by millions of theatre goers. Into the Woods tells an interwoven narrative of classic fairy tale characters, such as Little Red Riding Hood, Cinderella, Jack and the Beanstalk, and more. In this story, every character has a wish, and goes to great lengths to get their wish, even if it means journeying into the mysterious, formidable, and, at times, frightening woods. Into the Woods not only asks what we are willing to do to get our wish, but what happens when we get it? A timeless and beautiful story with clever, unforgettable music, Into the Woods is a show not to be missed. artscenterlive.org/

We love April because it's Poetry Month! Celebrate With Poets Stan Absher and Tori Reynolds, Your favorite poem can be a part of this special day. Bring a favorite poem (published, less than a page long, and not your own). We'll draw straws to see which poems will open and close the afternoon's program. If your submission is chosen, you can read it yourself or let one of the poets do the honors. A reception follows and books will be for sale. Stan and Tori belong to a Durham group called The Poet Fools, and also to the North Carolina Poetry Society. burwellschool.org/
