NARRATIVE OF THE LIFE OF FREDERICK DOUGLASS

6:30 PM TO 7:30 PM

Chapel Hill Public Library / 100 Library Dr. Chapel Hill (919) 968-2777

A Narrative of the Life of Frederick Douglass, An American Slave - This 1845 memoir and treatise on abolition written by famous orator and former slave Frederick Douglass is generally held to be the most famous of a number of narratives written by former slaves during the same period. In factual detail, the text describes the events of his life and is considered to be one of the most influential pieces of literature to fuel the abolitionist movement of the early 19th century in the United States. Narrative of the Life of Frederick Douglass encompasses eleven chapters that recount Douglass's life as a slave and his ambition to become a free man. - From Wikipedia chapelhillpubliclibrary.org/

UNC Visitors' Center / 250 East Franklin Street Chapel Hill (919) 962-1630

Priceless Gem Tour Series – Black and Blue Tour with Robert Porter. A distinctive walking tour on the African-American history of the University, with emphasis on the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. The Black and Blue tour hopes to contribute to a real understanding of our African American past as we build a better Carolina and work to create a fuller perspective on our University's history. Our guide, Robert Porter, has over thirty years of experience as a lecturer for UNC's department of African, African American, and Diaspora Studies, winning numerous teaching awards. He remains passionate about his interests in history, public history, and African-American history, all of which go back to his grade school days. The tour is free, open to the public, and lasts about an hour to an-hour-and-a-half. Tours begin at UNC-Chapel Hill Visitors' Center, located in the West Wing of Morehead Planetarium and Science Center, located in downtown Chapel Hill at 250 East Franklin Street. To reserve your space, please email us at uncvisitorscenter@unc.edu. In case of inclement weather, or for any additional questions, please call UNC Visitors' Center at 919-962-1630.

FEWS FORD ACCESS

2 PM

Eno River State Park / 6101 Cole Mill Rd Durham (919) 920-9099

Fannie Breeze Homestead History Hike 3 miles - We will use a combination of hiking on and off park trails to reach the homesite of Fannie Breeze. The foundation remains of this homesite lie on top of a bluff overlooking the Eno River. Fannie Breeze was a slave to the white Breeze family in the 1800s and was a practicing midwife up and down the Eno River. After Emancipation, she continued her services to people of all races. She was an important member of Pleasant Green United Methodist Church and was instrumental in the founding of Mt. Gilead Baptist Church on Pleasant Green Road. If we a lucky, daffodils/jonquils planted during Fannie Breeze's time will be in bloom. Directions: Meet at the Few's Ford Picnic Area at the end of Cole Mill Road. The address is 6101 Cole Mill Rd, Durham, NC 27705.

The Friday Center honors Black History Month with a free performance by Mary D. Williams, gospel singer, educator, and historian presenting Voices of Freedom: Music and the Civil Rights Movement. As part of the Civil Rights Movement, 2018 will commemorate the 50th anniversary of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s vision of The Poor People's Campaign, or Poor People's March on Washington, an effort dedicated to economic justice for poor people in the United States. "We Shall Overcome" and "Go Tell it on the Mountain" are two of the many songs that were part of the march and are considered anthems of the Civil Rights Movement. These songs had their roots as spirituals in their representation of the enslaved narrative. Many gospel songs and spirituals were repurposed and changed lyrically into what we know today as Civil Rights and Movement songs. Singers and musicians collaborated to develop songs that expressed determination and activism during mass meetings, marches, sit-ins, freedom rides and Parchman Prison. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., once quoted, "The freedom songs are playing a strong and vital role in our struggle." fridaycenter.unc.edu/
