Towns of Chapel Hill, Carrboro and Hillsborough Weekly Calendar of Events

October 9 - 15, 2017

An annotated list of interesting events happening in Orange County over the next week, prepared by Chapel Hill/Orange County Visitors Bureau.

MONDAY Oct 9

SONGWRITERS CIRCLE

6:30 PM

ArtsCenter, 300-G East Main St Carrboro (919) 929-2787

Whether an experienced or beginning songwriter, nothing is more valuable than the response of other songwriters. The Songwriters' Circle at The ArtsCenter provides an evening every other week for composers to share their work with each other and receive both encouragement and honest feedback. The bar will be open. This is a time for participating in a sharing community rather than performing. Come to The ArtsCenter Gallery on alternate Mondays to find a community of songwriters developing their craft together. Upright piano on site! artscenterlive.org/

PEDJA MUŽIJEVIĆ

7:30 PM

Hill Hall Auditorium, 145 East Cameron Ave Chapel Hill (919) 843-3333

Admission: $35. Pedja Mužijević is propelled by contrasts. When he constructs a concert program, he often spans centuries between pieces, seeking to let the barriers of time and style fall away, trusting that new ways of hearing will emerge from the resulting clash. The Bosnian-born pianist has done this on record on his album Sonatas and Other Interludes, which juxtaposes John Cage's Sonatas and Interludes for Prepared Piano with music by Scarlatti, Liszt, and Schumann, and in various concerts around the world. But his "Haydn Dialogues" project may be his most thoroughgoing attempt at cross-century conversation yet. www.carolinaperformingarts.org/

THE JAMES HUNTER SIX

8 PM

ArtsCenter, 300-G East Main St Carrboro (919) 929-2787

Admission: $28

Grammy-nominated Englishman James Hunter burst on to the scene in 2006 with his U.S. debut People Gonna Talk, garnering critical acclaim from fans such as Van Morrison, Sharon Jones, and Allen Toussaint. Now making his debut on Daptone Records, Hunter's fourth album Hold On! veers from the driving stompers to bubbling rumbas and cuts straight to the soul. artscenterlive.org/

DURHAM SAVOYARDS LTD PRESENT THESPIS & TRIAL BY JURY

8 PM

East Chapel Hill High School, 500 Weaver Dairy Rd. Chapel Hill (984) 244-0668

Admission: Preview - $15

The Durham Savoyards Ltd. are proud to announce the historic world premiere of Gilbert & Sullivan's lost (and restored) first operetta, Thespis (or the Gods Grown Old) -- with new music and orchestration by Alan Riley Jones. Sharing the evening is Gilbert & Sullivan's hilarious second work, the one-act operetta, Trial by Jury. Thespis takes place on Mount Olympus, where the gods of mythology have grown old and out of date. A picnicking traveling theatrical company intrudes, and the leader suggests the gods travel incognito to earth. They can then decide how best to revive their past influence -- while the actors take over the divinities' identities and powers. The results are predictably disastrous -- and funny. Trial by Jury piece pokes fun at the legal system, with a suit brought by a jilted bride against a "roving" groom -- and a madcap judge and jury. An entertainment for all ages, the performances feature full costuming, sets, and orchestra. durhamsavoyards.org

FRIDAY Oct 13

PRICELESS GEM TOUR

3 PM TO 4 PM

UNC Visitors' Center, 250 East Franklin Street Chapel Hill (919) 962-1630

Priceless Gem Tour Series – Black and Blue Tour with Robert Porter. A distinctive walking tour on the African-American history of the University, with emphasis on the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. The Black and Blue tour hopes to contribute to a real understanding of our African American past as we build a better Carolina and work to create a fuller perspective on our University's history. Our guide, Robert Porter, has over thirty years of experience as a lecturer for UNC's department of African, African American, and Diaspora Studies, winning numerous teaching awards. He remains passionate about his interests in history, public history, and African-American history, all of which go back to his grade school days. The tour is free, open to the public, and lasts about an hour to an-hour-and-a-half. Tours begin at UNC-Chapel Hill Visitors' Center, located in the West Wing of Morehead Planetarium and Science Center, located in downtown Chapel Hill at 250 East Franklin Street. To reserve your space, please email us at uncvisitorscenter@unc.edu. In case of inclement weather, or for any additional questions, please call UNC Visitors' Center at (919) 962-1630.

LATE NIGHT WITH ROY

7:30 PM

Dean E. Smith Center, 300 Skipper Bowles Dr Chapel Hill

Admission: Free

It has been announced that the Tar Heels will hang the 2017 NCAA Men's Basketball Championship banner, the seventh men's banner to hang in the Dean Smith Center, at this year's Late Night with Roy event. Everyone loves Late Night with Roy. In a way, it kind of defines why Carolina fans love the Tar Heels and Roy Williams' method of team-building. It presents an opportunity for fans to get to know players over the course of several years, both as players and as people. Now, for no cost other than the expense of getting yourself to the Dean Dome, fans will be able to see another piece of UNC's storied history become entrenched into the campus. The rafters will probably not yet be updated with 2017 1st Team All-American and team MVP Justin Jackson's #44 because, like previous honorees Marcus Paige and Brice Johnson, his number will likely be retired during the 2016-17 season. It's also important to note that this will be the first Late Night with Roy since the Tar Heel Lights app was created, giving the Tar Heel crew a chance to play with some light show theatrics like they did at times during the season. The event is free to the public and doors will open at 4pm. The UNC volleyball team will face off against Virginia Tech in the Smith Center at 5pm. Late Night with Roy will begin shortly after and feature both the men's and women's basketball teams. www.goheels.com

NATIVE

7:30 PM TO 9 PM

St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, 210 St. Mary's Road Hillsborough (919) 732-9308

Admission: $15

St. Matthew's Episcopal Church presents the play "Native" by Ian Finley (former NC Piedmont Laureate). It tells the story of the collaboration between Pulitzer Prize winner, Paul Green, and the author of Native Son, Richard Wright. The play is produced by EbzB Productions. Paul Green and Richard Wright were originally brought together to adapt Wright's novel, Native Son for the stage. Green, a white southern professor, and Wright, a self-educated African-American with communist sympathies, forge a deep respect for each other, but then in 1941, they meet again in New York for rewrites; a Broadway production is in rehearsal. Difference over a single page of the script create an impasse between them. Native speaks to the issues of our time. Although it is rooted in the history of 1941 America, it confronts the pressing questions we face today, including "Whose story and struggle is this?" All are invited to attend. Tickets are $15 and can be obtained through the office or at the door. www.stmatthewshillsborough.org
