WELCOME

to Frederick County

During the spring, summer and fall seasons, opportunities abound to celebrate nature in all its glory. Explore the great outdoors with reckless abandon in the northern region of our county, well-known for its dazzling 78-foot cascading waterfall, the peaceful serenity of one of the oldest grottoes in the western hemisphere and the quiet, soothing elegance of luxury log cabins. Brilliant fall foliage adds a colorful backdrop for the countless events and harvest festivals that fill the season.

Enjoy a relaxing getaway to Frederick County, Maryland and you'll soon discover that threads of our rich past are woven through to our present. The historic sites and museums of Frederick County provide visitors with a living reminder of our colorful heritage.

BEGIN YOUR VISIT

Welcome! Begin your visit at The Frederick Visitor Center at 151 S East Street in historic Downtown Frederick (301-600-4047) or at one of Frederick County's Information Centers: I-70 East (301-293-4172) and West (301-293-8435) at South Mountain, US15 South at the Mason-Dixon Welcome Center (301-447-3719) or Catoclin Mountain Park Visitor Center (seasonal hours: 301-271-3285). At these centers you can get up-to-date information on events, historic attractions, shopping, dining, accommodations and much more.
