IT'S EASY TO SEE why Noblesville has been branded as a “hipstoric” city. It has a walkable downtown with a view of the old courthouse, surrounded Trail that connects Forest Park with downtown Noblesville. Nickel Plate Arts offers experienced artists and curious wannabes an outlet to create.

“It’s impossible not to relax and/or get inspired at this space hosting working artists’ studios and various public art events. You can buy new pieces for your collection, listen to live music in the courtyard or stop in at the Caravan Classes to create some art of your own in a camping trailer converted to a studio.”

— TREVOR MEERS Editor, Midwest Living Magazine

And if you prefer more exhilaration in your day, rent a kayak or canoe with White River Canoe Company and explore the river or snatch some tickets to a concert at Ruoff Home Mortgage Music Center. Your heart will be thumping as by local coffee and brunch spots, boutiques and the new Riverwalk big names in music take the stage at the 24,000-seat outdoor amphitheater.

WHITE RIVER CANOE COMPANY

"The company staff were pleasant, helpful and timely. The kayaks were easy to maneuver and very comfortable, especially considering my normally stiff back. But mother nature steals the show on this beautiful stretch of river scenery in central Indiana. Plenty of wildlife to be seen including some bald eagle close-ups that we didn't expect, so we got some really cool bonus photos. Good time had by all and what a relaxing way to spend a hot summer day."

"The town is enjoying a bit of a boom at the moment, and it's obvious from the scene. It's young and vibrant. This is best experienced in Rosie's Place, a not-too-shabby eatery offering traditional diner fare, in what can only be called a cleaner way--not just in presentation--but also in quality. The corned beef hash I had that morning was made in their own kitchen as opposed to it coming out of a tin. This one single item, to me, was a testament that Indiana is worthy of being on the culinary map."
