Being a Volunteer

- For most spectators, YOU are the only person from the race they will encounter
- They will expect you to know EVERYTHING
- How you interact with fans will determine their overall feelings about the race.
- You are not a spokesperson for the race...
...but you are a Public Relations Ambassador
- Your most valuable asset is your common sense
- Don't be afraid to ask someone for help

Being a Course Marshal

- Dress to be comfortable and bring food/water
- Use common sense....the handbook can't tell you everything
- The safety of the riders, spectators, and traffic depends on you.
- In some cases you will be supporting law enforcement
- Watch for people leaning into the course to get that “perfect picture”
- Be on the alert for the sounds of cars or start of an engine.
