OUR GUIDES

Meet our experts in local history

Maria Høgetveit Berg

"I like to relate what is nearby and local to the national and international."

A former teacher, she has been the Director of cultural affairs in Ål for 20 years. Chairperson and board member in national cultural organisations. Broad knowledge of contexts in Norwegian cultural history.

Inger Tveitøien

"It is important that people know about their history, so they can say where they come from."

Teacher and certified Hallingdal guide. Member of the Nesch Committee. Professional fields: Ethnology and cultural mediator.

Thor Warberg

"History provides us with useful knowledge and experience, i.e, roots and background for what happens today."

Sheep farmer, author and cultural worker in Ål. Knows the Ål Rural museum particularly well. Professional fields: Local history, genealogy, place names and language.

Bodil Haug

"What is special about the cultural walks is the large span in time and expression they include. What is interesting is whether there nonetheless is a thread to be found in it all."

Ethnology at second degree level from the University of Bergen. Self-employed cultural historian and folk singer. Professional fields: National folk costumes and the tradition of religious songs.
