GEILO

Dagali - Skurdalen - Haugastøl - Ustaoset - Hol - Hovet - Sudndalen - Myrland

Welcome to the mountains!

We have made it easier for you to think of the environment when you come to Geilo. The environmentally-certified activities and accommodations in Geilo are marked with a green tussock of grass in this catalog.

The accommodations and activities listed under Travel Green are environmentally certified. They have introduced rules and guidelines for production and handling of waste, energy use, transport, requirements for subcontractors, and use of chemicals. Their actions extend beyond what Norwegian law requires.

The environmental certification is concrete and measurable, and is your guarantee that the company actively reduces their environmental impact. The Travel Green symbol is valid when one is certified within the following systems: The Swan, Environmental Lighthouse Norwegian Eco-Tourism, Blue Flag, or ISO 14001.

GEILO all Year

Geilo is a travel destination that you can visit the year round. We get snow early, the winter is snow-secure, and in May, you can both ride a bicycle and go cross country skiing. «The seasons» can be a little longer or shorter compared to other places; therefore, we have made this year wheel. It is simply an icon that is sectioned for each month. January starts «up at 12 o'clock» in the circle. Welcome to the mountains all year long!

Welcome to Geilo and Hol Municipality!

In Hol, we are proud tourist hosts, and put a lot of love and commitment into it. Wayfarers and guests have visited our area through the ages. They have come from both eastern and western Norway to experience all the good things we have here in the municipality, which is beautifully located between the Hardangervidda and Hallingskarvet National Parks.

Geilo is a complete destination for those who wish to experience fresh air, enjoy an active life style, and at the same time enjoy a modern society with all its delights and privileges. Geilo, as an alpine village, is well-known for its alpine slopes and every conceivable element in the many terrain parks for both big and small. The attractions in the area also include world class cross country tracks. Here in Geilo, new trails are being developed for cycling, and we are continuously improving the signage and the logistics regarding hiking trails, so that it will be easier to make use of everything around us.

Geilo received the Award for Sustainable Destinations in 2016. We are proud of that fact and want you to notice that we stand together to create good experiences for you every time you come here, no matter what time of year.

We wish you a pleasant and safe stay. Welcome to the mountains.

ROUTE 50. PHOTO: EMILIE HOLBA

Roundtrips by Car

Geilo is a perfect startingpoint for roundtrips by car, train or bus. Here are some suggestins for where to go and experiences along the way.

Hivjufossen

Hivjufossen waterfall is a slightly hidden gem on FV50, which is worth visiting.

Storåne is the name of the river that runs from Strandavatnet and down through the valley along FV50, creating Sudndalsfjorden, Hovsfjorden, and Holsfjorden. Even though the watercourse is regulated, there are some places that are quite nice. Especially wild is where Storåne meets the tributary Hivju by the road, a couple of kilometers before Sudndalsfjorden. There you will find a parking area. Use this to see the river, and go up along the tributary to Hivjufossen waterfall, which you can't see from the road. It cascades along the mountain in 2 stages, is a total of 250 meters high, and a wonderful sight, especially during spring flooding. The falls are 1 kilometer from the parking area, but there is a well-marked trail up to a viewpoint close by. Please, be careful by the river, as the rocks are very slippery. Do not go close to the waterfall.

"Vardene" – landmarks in the mountains

A cairn (in Norwegian: "varde") is a human-made pile or stack of stones. Cairns are erected as landmarks, a use they have had since ancient times.

Placed at regular intervals, a series of cairns can be used to indicate a path across stony or barren terrain, even across glaciers. Such cairns are often placed at junctions or in places where the trail direction is not obvious.

They may also be used to indicate an obscured danger such as a sudden drop, or a noteworthy point such as the summit of a mountain.

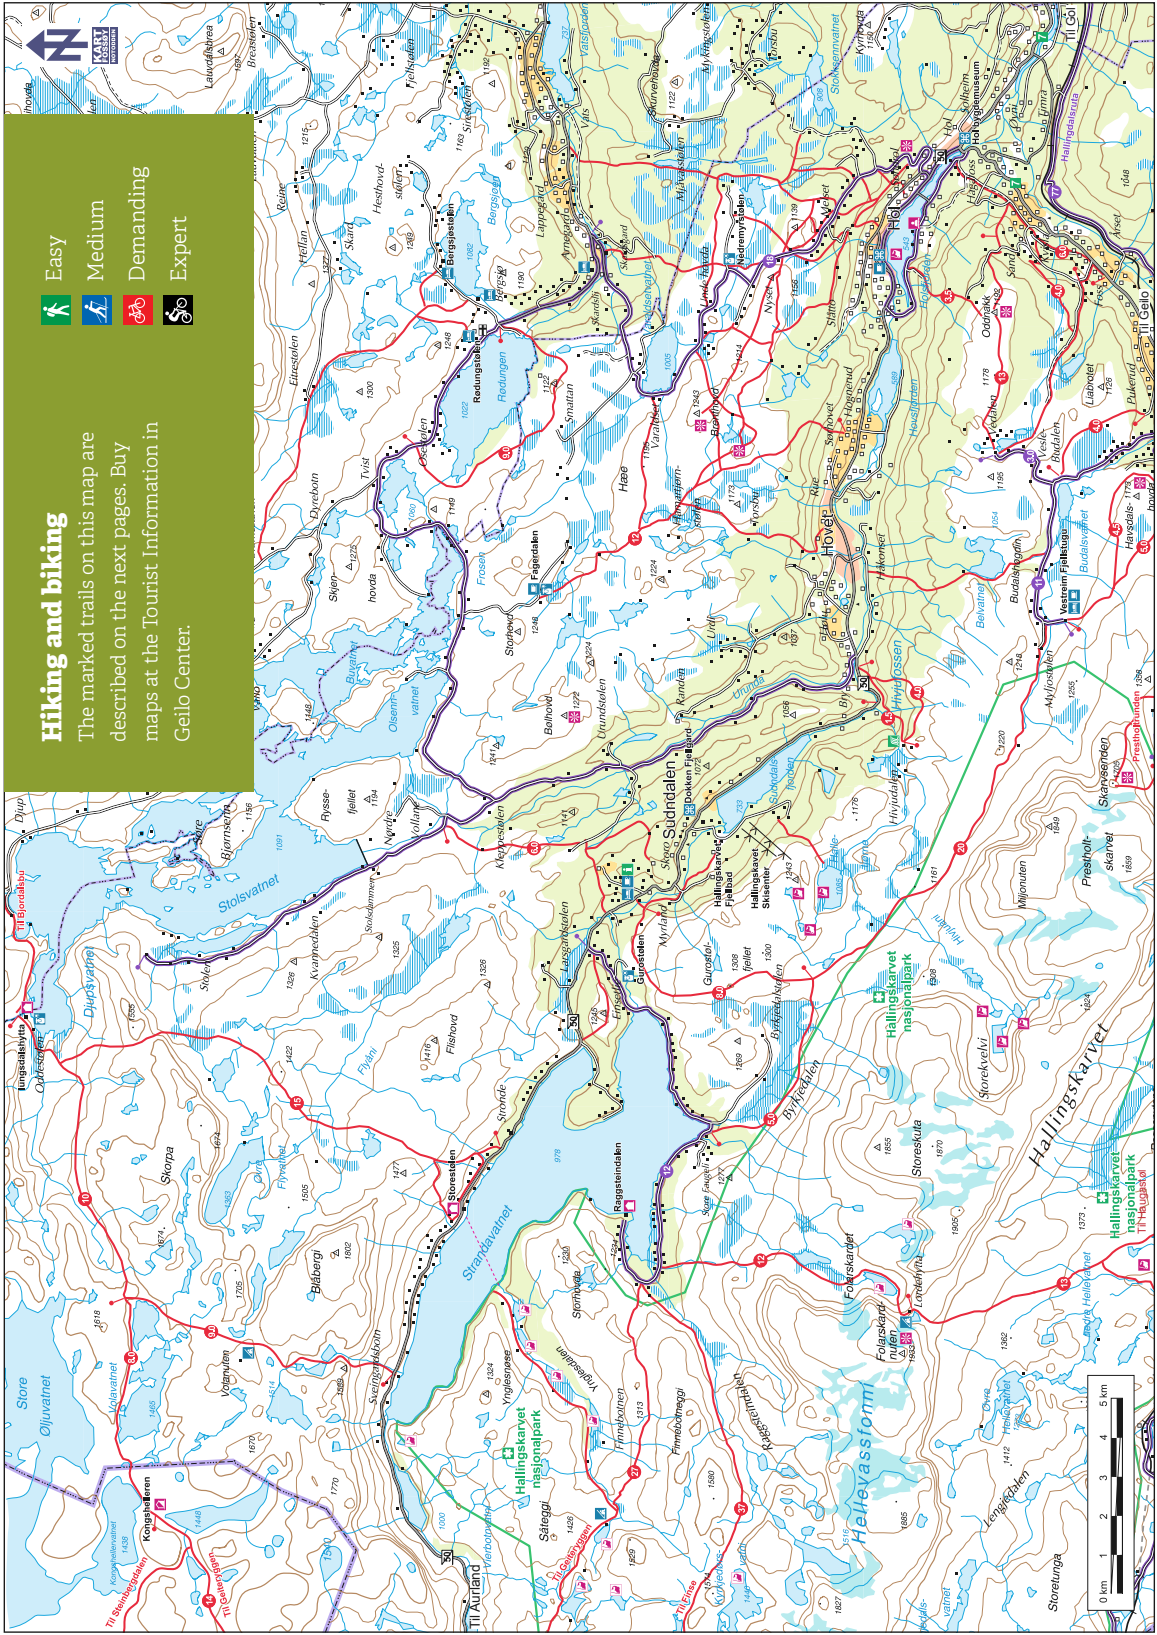

The placing of the cairns is important, especially in bad or foggy weather, and it is highly important that cairns are not built just for the fun of it, but solely for the reasons mentioned above.

Please, do not build your own cairn! Instead, a Norwegian tradition is to bring a stone you find along your hike, and place it at the top of an existing cairn, usually at the summit.

1. Prestholt Round

At the foot of the mighty Hallingskarvet and at the entrance to Hallingskarvet National Park, lies Prestholtseter Mountain Farm. Here you can take a hike in the National park and up to Hallingskarvet, with a stunning scenery.

The stone steps up Prestholt-skaret makes the hiking trip a pure joy. The steps are laid by Sherpas from Nepal. The Prestholt Round takes about 2 hours, and is 6,5km long. Starting and ending at 1240 MSL and up to 1700 MSL. From July, you can drive all the way from Geilo to Prestholtseter. Take off Rv7 on to Nye Havsdalsvegen by Geilohallen Sports center.

Drive approx. 2 km, then take Havsdalsvegen road and Prestholtvegen road, approx. 10 km. (Toll road, 40,-NoK)

If you are in good shape you can hike all the way from Geilo town centre by following Pilvegen trail up to Geilohovda, and follow the trail west passing Gullsteinhovda and Urundberget.

Where: Hallingskarvet / Prestholt Round
 Distance: 6.5 km
 Surface: Stone/gravel
Tip: Prestholtseter is open for food service during the summer and winter seasons.

The stone stairway at Prestholtstien has made it possible for everyone to experience the joy of reaching the top of the Hallingskarvet mountains. It is impressive stonework in real Nepali crafts tradition that was started in 2011 and finished in 2013.

2. Hardangervidda / Finse / DNT-route

Geilo's nearest neighbor in the west is the Hardangervidda, Northern Europe's largest high-mountain plateau and Norway's largest national park. The area is an eldorado for mountain hikers with or without a tent and fishing pole. The Norwegian Trekking Association (DNT) offers a network of well-marked trails and many cabin accommodations. Geilo, and several places along the RV7 highway, are great starting points for a day trip or a week's trip «from cabin to cabin.» During the summer, there are buses crossing the Hardangervidda plateau, and the Tuva bus drives round-trip Geilo—Tuva Tourist Cabin. The Hardangervidda plateau is especially important as a habitat for the largest wild reindeer herds in Europe. So bring some binoculars with you in your rucksack!

At the Hardangervidda Plateau we recommend a hike around the Storekrækkja lake, a round trip of approximately 12 km, starting at Fagerheim.

Also, Finse is a lovely starting point for hiking. Finse 1222 offers accommodation.

Where: Hardangervidda

Distance: Hiking network of approximately 500 km

Surface: Dirt, gravel, stone

Tip: A good map makes the trip more safe and even more interesting.

3. Geilo / Ustedalsfjorden Round

This is the perfect round-trip (10 km) that is suitable for the family – on foot or bicycle. From Geiljordet (the yard with ancient buildings in the town centre) the popular nature and culture trail winds itself around the whole Ustedalsfjorden lake. Information boards underway tell the history of Geilo's plant and wildlife.

Geilo Beach is located just over 2 km from Geiljordet. Here there are great conditions for swimming on warm summer days. The trail continues past the Fekjo Cultural Park, where the landscape installation, «House for wind drawings and color tones» is very popular with the children. You will also find the Fekjo Burial Mounds from the Viking era (dated to about the year 900), an old hay barn, a stable, a very old trail, and an old stone wall. Barely 1 km further on westward, the trip goes over Tuftebrui bridge. The bridge is built in a special log construction and is a copy of the old bridge from 1884. On the south side, the trail winds up a small, birch-covered hill; and then down again to the lake and back to the center of town via the golf course area at Vestlia. Along the way, there are several fishing spots and rest areas with barbeque facilities—and many fine viewpoints. You will also find the bike trail "Skurfen".

4. Havdalshovda Round

Park at Havsdalen Ski Center. Follow a nice trail up along Fjellheisen lift. Cross the road to Prestholt. The trail goes out to the right (eastward) at the upper part of the cabin area, and follows a fine, dry trail around Havdalshovda. The trail turns westward and you will have a nice view over Budalen and Hallingskarvet mountain. At the trailcrossing at Snøhovda you will find the trail to Vestreim and Budalen. Take left towards Havsdalen. A little marshy before the trail continues nice and dry back to Havsdalen.

Parking:
Havsdalen Skisenter

Distance: 9 km round

Time: 3 hours

Parking:
West of Tufelia Vertshus

Distance:
13 km round

Time: 4 hours

5. Round trip Tufelia-Prestholt

The trail starts from the parking lot west of Tufelia Vertshus (see the sign toward the east outskirt of the lot). Starts with a gravel road up to the railroad track. Then the trail goes steeply up a birch hillside. Turn left at the trail crossing by the campfire area. The trail winds westward in easy terrain, rounds Fjellstølvda and arrives at the Eima river, where it throws itself into a cascading waterfall. The trail continues along Eima until the river turns westward and the trail continues northward toward the Hallingskarvet mountains until it meets Prestholtvegen road, approximately 500 meters before Prestholtseter.

The trip back follows partly Prestholtvegen and a nice carriage road about 1.5 km east. Take off right at the sign to Urundberget. Easy, nice path southwards. Take a detour to Urundberget before continuing on the trail down the slopes. Eventually the crossroads by the bonfire site appears again. Follow the same path down as up.

Ole Slaatta's road up / Rudolf Olsen's road down.

Parking:
Old Geilo Taubane lift building or Geilo center

Distance:
4,5 km return

Time: 2 hours

Pilvegen is no less than a gem that winds itself up to the top of Geilohovda (1,080 m. elevation). The trail is well marked from the town center, under the railway and to the right (east) of Dr. Holms Hotel. Follow the road to Geilo Panorama apartments, and the trail that starts in the ski slope. Follow the signs for Ole Slaatta's road upward. and Rudolf Olsen's road down again. That makes for a nice round.

8. Skurdalsåsen – Round

From the parking lot at Kikut, follow the small road in to the Rundetjørn pond (sportfishing permitted). The trail continues eastward to the trail crossing before Bruslettstølen. Alternatively, park in the center of Geilo, walk over the bridge towards Vestlia, follow Stølsvegen road passing the horse center until the trail takes off to the right (marked with Bruslettstølen). The round at Skurdalsåsen is an easy, nice round just over 1,000 msl. It is recommended to go from Bruslettstølen toward Skurdalen (Skurdalsstølane). The trail turns toward the east and meets the old trail, «Gamle Skurdalsvegen.» This trail is cultural heritage in its own right and a joy to hike! Try a little detour up to the «Soria Moria» cabin by Leirtjørn pond. An idyllic place with a 360-degree view! By the mountain farming hamlet by Nybu, the trail takes off westward where it generally follows the winter route 3.5 km back to Bruslettstølen.

Parking:
Kikut or Geilo center

Distance:
14 km (round-trip Kikut), 17 km (round-trip Geilo)

Time: 4-5 hours

7. Round trip Vestlia-Birgithovda

Choose between taking the chairlift up from Vestlia up to 1052 MSL or follow Pariserløypa trail up to the top (only option outside the chairlift's opening hours).

The trail is well-marked southward to Hakkesetstølen. Nice and dry trail, but a lot of rocks; wear mountain boots. From Hakkesetstølen the trail turns westward passed Store Hakkesettjørn pond and Grødalstjørnan ponds. Sports fishing permitted for those with a fishing license! The terrain is hilly through the sparse birch woods at Grødalen. Then the terrain opens up with a view over many ponds. The trail rounds Beinstigtjørn pond before it continues in a nice terrain up to Birgithovda (1,173 MSL). Large cairn at the top and view over all the mountains and mountain areas miles around! Birgitstølen is located just below the top. Further on, in the trail crossing before Øvre Langetjørn pond, the trail again turns north. Here you will have a beautiful view of Hallingskarvet Mountain. Then go down the steep slope toward Tuftebrui and the Ustedalsfjorden Round. Follow the trail back to Vestlia.

The Navvy Road (Rallarvegen) was built as a construction road for the Bergen Railway Line, and was completed in 1902. It was named by the Cyclists Association to Norway's best bicycle route. The Navvy Road is 80 km long and goes from Haugstøl to Finse, Hallingskeid, Myrdal and Flåm. There are daily bicycle-train departures during the summer season if you would like to bring your own bike with you; or you can rent a bike at Haugstøl, Finse, or Geilo.

Fatbike – A Must Experience

Snow cycling on wide tires has become very popular in Norway. If you haven't tried this yet, you can get your chance in Geilo. Super-wide tires give a large supporting surface and make it possible to bike on snow. A fatbike behaves quite similarly to a regular terrain bike, but biking on snow is both fun and adventurous. Geilo Aktiv organizes «mini expedition trips» with guide and all equipment included.

Minnows in a trout lake is a tragedy. The use of live bait is prohibited. Release of Minnows is prohibited.

What tastes better than self-caught, pan fried mountain trout, simmered in sour cream? Chances are good to get a bite. You can choose between 90 fishing waters and rivers, located from 446 to 1,523 msl.

There are many fishing spots; from small, idyllic ponds to large, open lakes in the mountains, as well as good stretches for fly fishermen at the Holselva river at the very bottom of the municipality. Most waters have trout; but in some cases, there is also char. The fish size is preferably between 100-1,000 grams; but each year, fish up to 3 kg are caught. Fishing is a fine activity for the smallest in the family, and can teach them to appreciate nature. More information on fishing can be obtained by contacting the Geilo Tourist Information or the sports stores in Geilo.

The hiking maps over Geilo and Hallingskarvet mountains show the fishing areas. The sportfishing season starts when the ice melts and goes to September 30th.

Sportfishing is an important part of the Norwegian outdoor life culture. In Geilo, you can choose between the fishing possibilities in rivers and mountain lakes. Fishing is suitable for everyone, and is relatively easily accessible.

Fishing at Hardangervidda

Enjoy small and large lakes, rivers and streams, the Hardangervidda plateau offers great fishing experiences.

The Hardangervidda Plateau is the largest mountain plateau in Europe where trout is the main species. Whether you are on a vacation with family or an experienced angler that wish to spend the day fishing in the mountain, there are many alternative trips that will suit you.

More about fishing in Hardangervidda National Park, Hol and Nore and Uvdal www.visitHardangervidda.no

The eighth rules for anglers

- think safety in all you do as an angler
- treat the fish with respect
- show moderation
- leave no trash or traces
- show respect for others using the nature
- know your first aid
- get home safely
- be a proud angler

Fishing Tips

Remember that the ice melts late in the high mountains. Lakes up in the high-alpine areas, like Skorpa and Hallingskarvet, are often not ice-free until way out in July. In addition, if the late summer and autumn have been cold, the fish won't bite. Concentrate instead on the lakes that are located in more low-lying regions.

Access to nutrients are often limited in the high mountains; and, therefore, the water is almost crystal clear. This means that the fish can be easily frightened. Pay attention when you move along the bank (the trout can be found very close to the shore), and don't use a heavier line than necessary. If you use a colorful multifilament, it is a good idea to tie on a leader with a more «invisible» monofilament line.

Lures give consistently the best results, especially in the high mountains. Colors and varieties don't mean everything—the presentations is more important. Herring lures are always effective, because they are long-casting and go deep. In shallower waters, where distance isn't as important, the traditional spoon lures, wobblers, and spinners are good.

On warm days, with lots of insects on the water surface, the fly imitations could be a good choice. If you aren't a dedicated fly angler with a fly rod, etc, toss floats and flies work just as well. Variations of the Streaking Caddie almost always work as an all-round fly in most of the lakes in Hol Municipality.

Mild, cloudy weather, with a light breeze, is a good starting point for the fish to bite. Don't be swayed by categorical advice and tips. The big ones have a tendency to show up when you least expect them to do so.

Welcome into Hallingskarvet National Park

Hallingskarvet National Park

Hallingskarvet is a characteristic element in the landscape, with nice tracks and paths it gives several opportunities for trips, summer and winter. The terrain is varied with gentle moors in the south to the high mountain plateau on top of Hallingskarvet.

Bare ground and stones on top of Hallingskarvet makes it difficult for plants to grow, but hardy plants such as the glacier buttercup or crowfoot can grow here. Further down with more shelter climate and rich soil you can find a rich and varied flora with pseudorchis, snow gentian and alpine speedwell or Alpine Veronica. Birds as the Golden Eagle, gyrfalcon and several waterbirds.

Hallingskarvet is a habitat for the wild reindeer, and you might spot pitfall trappings and other culture heritage that witness the long lasting use of this area for hunting.

The location of the National park makes it a desired goal for day trips and longer trips in the mountain. Good starting points for your trip are: Geiteryggen, Raggsteindalen, Vestreim, Budalen, Prestholt or Finse.

The Mountain Philosopher

Arne Dekke Eide Næss (1912-2009), who built Tvergastein in 1937, is considered one of Norway's most significant philosophers.

Arne Næss got his master's degree in philosophy, as the youngest ever, in 1933, and became Dr. Philos in 1936. At the time of employment as a professor, he was 27 years old. Næss was a professor at the University of Oslo for 31 years.

Arne Næss is known as the founder of the deep-ecological movement, which means that all beings are one, all things are connected - as a whole. Our planet is seen as a living system that requires our care, so-called extended care. Such an understanding must, according to Næss, characterize our actions in general, as well as our personal lifestyle.

The principles of the deep-ecological platform are

- That all life has a value in itself.
- The richness of differences between living beings has a value in itself
- That human beings do not have the right to reduce the diversity of life forms except to meet vital needs.
- That population growth must be limited.
- Today's human intervention in nature is excessive and destructive.
- Significant improvement requires the change of economic, technological and ideological conditions.
- The focus on quality of life should replace today's excessive focus on living standards.
- The connection to the eight points commits to act to take the necessary measures.

I was not the one who started climbing, you stopped.

Arne Næss

Arne the mountaineer

Arne Næss' mother was one of the first owners of a cabin at Ustaoset. At a young age Næss was tied to the place and to the large mountain - Hallingskarvet. Arne described his feelings for Hallingskarvet as "overwhelmingly powerful, rough, solid, stable, calm, self-respect, all those qualities I wish I had, but mostly never had". As a 10-year old Arne sought towards the large mountain, in 1937, at the age 25, his dream of living just under "Skarvet" was achieved - he built his own cabin at Tvergastein.

In the 1930's Arne brought bolt climbing to Norway, in 1936-37 he climbed direct routes up Stetind in Nordland (1392 MSL). This improved climbing technique in Norway, and made climbing more safe with anchored ropes.

The first Norwegian fortification of Tirich Mir (7708 moh) in 1950 is known as our first modern climbing expedition. The expedition was lead by Arne Næss, with Per Kvernberg, Henry Berg, Tony Streather and Hans Christian Bugge. This was the fourth highest climb ever, (Annapurna 8091msl in Nepal was summitetd a few days before).

Churches in Hol

In Hol Municipality there are many beautiful churches that is worth a visit. Churches from different eras, in wood and stone and some richly decorated.

Dagali church from 1850 is given a special protection by the Directorate of Cultural Heritage. The same goes for Hol church from 1924 and Hovet church from 1910. The old white church in the center of Geilo was built in 1890 and is a popular church for weddings. Skurdalskyrkja from 1969 is built in stone and masonry and is adorned by one of the country's foremost artists Victor Sparre (1919-2008).

Several of the churches are open to visitors in the summer. Religious services in general every Sunday in one or two of the churches.

«Leggsta'n» is an old graveyard in Dagali. It was in use until 1850, when Dagali got their own church and graveyard. Worth a visit.

Experience the Stave Churches

The stave churches are considered to be among the ultimate representatives for European Middle Age architecture. There were probably over 1,000 stave churches in Norway; today, there are 28 that have been preserved, and 3 of these are located a days-trip away from Geilo.

Nore Stave Church

Highway FV40, the church was built as a cross church around 1167.

Torpo Stave Church

Highway RV7, the oldest building in Hallingdal, from around 1160.

Uvdal Stave Church

Highway FV40, findings indicate that the church was built at the end of the 1100's.

Cultural heritage along the Ustedalsfjorden Round

Geiløjordet

An idyllic yard with ancient buildings from the 1700-1800's. A gem in Geilo center for recreation, experiences and activities. During the summer, there is an outdoor café that serves sour cream porridge and other traditional local food and sweets.

In the barn, there are exhibits, and all the buildings are open for visitors. For the children, there is a nice play area; and they can visit the goat kids and chickens.

Fekjo kulturminnepark

In the Cultural heritage park there are beautiful sculptures and sound art installations that make sound when wind and weather touch the instruments. At Fekjo there is also a 1,100 year old graveyard which consists of 20 graves and several coal pits from the Viking era. Several arrow and spear tips have been found in the area.

Tuftebrui

The bridge was probably built in 1884/85. In 1985, a new bridge was built and was to be as similar to the old one as possible, both in construction and appearance.

Geilo – Children's Choices

Geilo is a skiing paradise for children and has specially adapted offers. Fine areas with figures and jumps, lifts and trails adapted for children, where children may easily be watched. Here they may play to their delight in a safe environment.

Vestlia

The Troll Club is a unique children's area. There are rope tows, slow-moving platter lifts and gentle slopes. The slopes have many fun, colourful elements to ski around, slide under or jump over. The Troll Club child care services are located here: a ski in/ski out Kindergarten. Once children gain more confidence on skis, they may move a few meters away to the Troll lift, a platter lift that is a bit faster and goes farther up to a longer, but just as gentle, children's slope.

Havsdalen

Havsdalen has a lovely children's area with a rope tow down in the lift area and near Havsdalkroa. Try the child-friendly platter lift, and the separate children's area.

Slaatta

At Slaatta you will find a large children's area with both a "magic carpet" lift and a plate lift. Fun items like terrain waves, mini skicross, figures, forest trails and self-timer. The staff is there to make you feel safe. Slaatta Parken with jumps and rails of different levels, especially adapted for children and beginners. Geilo Ski School organizes activities throughout the week and you can also rent sledges for the separate sledding hill. Slaatta Stugu is right next to the slope and is a popular cafe for families with children.

Kikut

The children's area with a separate sledding slope is safe and exciting for the smallest. The ski lift, a slow moving 'magic carpet', is safe, and fun and easy to use! The children's slope has its own beginners' area and characters to encourage children to play, swing and crouch to bend their knees. The platter lift goes somewhat higher up and provides a challenge to slightly older children.

All our children's lifts are manned by a lift driver who inspires and helps the kids to master the ski lift.

Children really enjoy themselves on alpine slopes! At Geilo, there are children areas with rope tows, platter lifts and amusing figures in the slopes.

Ski School

Give children a sense of mastery on the slopes! Let a skilled ski instructor encourage and instruct your children so that they can have even more fun on the slopes. Choose between lessons where children can meet other children of the same age or level, or book a private lesson for closer supervision.

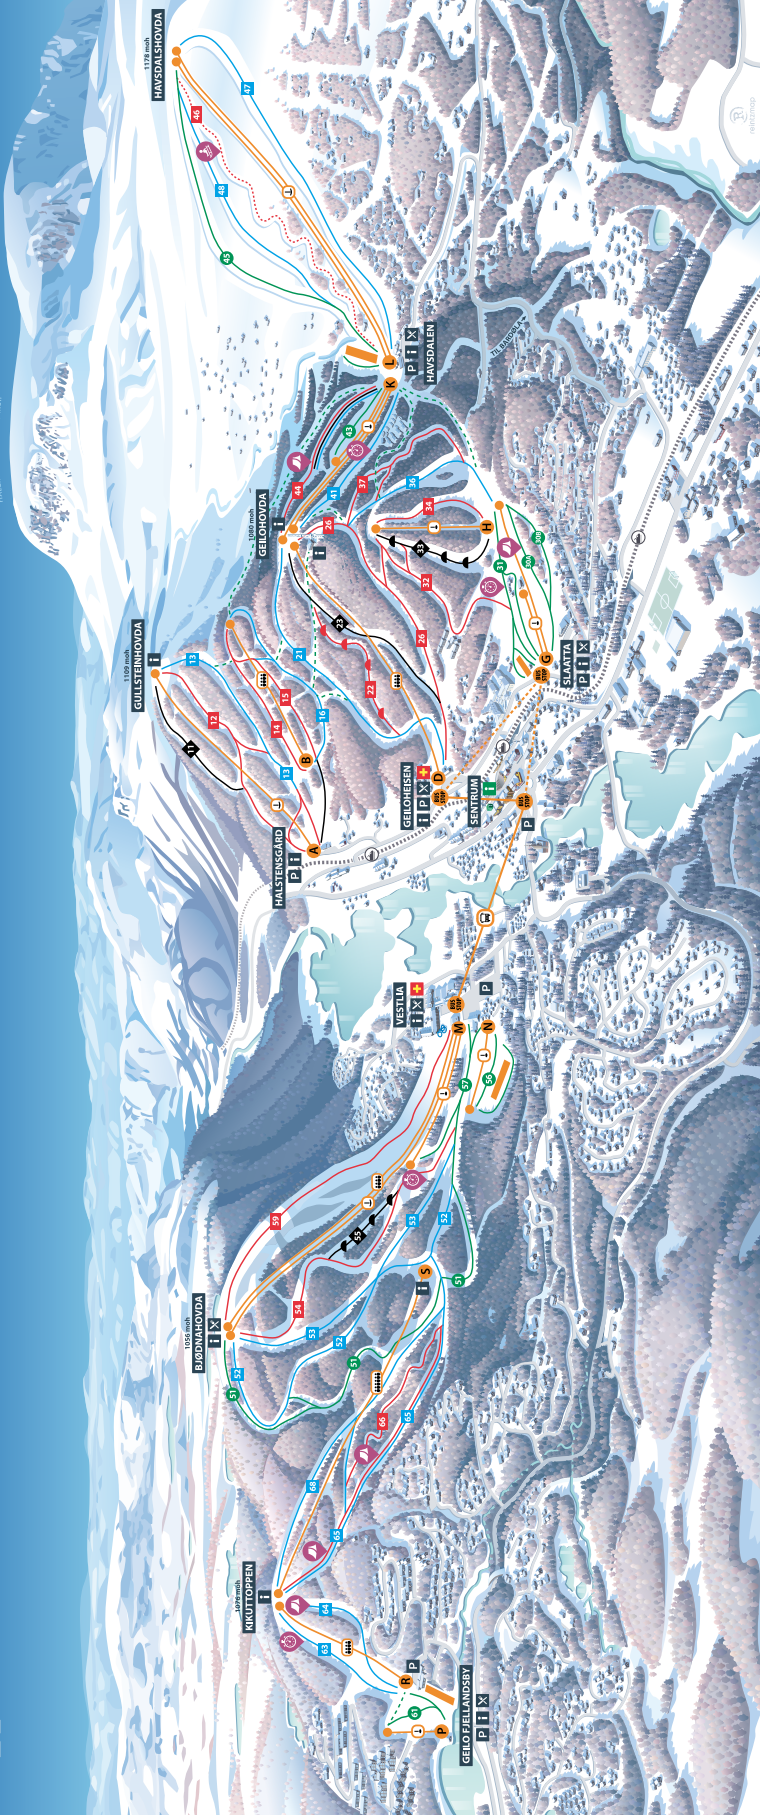

Child care services

If children wish a break from skiing, they may take a few hours to play at the Troll Club Kindergarten. A stay at the snug log cabin in Vestlia is popular for small children and provides an opportunity for mum and dad to enjoy a few hours together on skis.

Activities

– even more to consider

Fun activities for the smallest are arranged throughout the winter. Join us for the Children's Skiing Adventure, slalom skiing and sledging. At Geilo, children have their own après-ski with stick bread grilling and many other activities.

World Class Snow Kiting and Ski Sailing

Take a trip to the mountains and experience this fascinating sport, with high flights, high speed, and lots of fun.

Haugstøl, which is located only 25 minutes from Geilo, is considered one of the foremost places in the world to engage in snow kiting. Both the World Championships and the World Cup have been organized at Haugstøl. Kiting on snow is full action. More and more people like the experience of using wind power, also on skis; and kite-skiing is the action-sport which is growing the fastest in the world. The landscape and wind conditions at, especially, the Hardangervidda plateau and Havsdalen, make the Geilo area a paradise for everyone who wants to try it out.

The extreme qualities of Finse, makes the perfect conditions for ski sailing. Steady winds and large surfaces to move on, makes the Finse water the optimal place for your first expedition with sail. Ski sailing is best known as a mode of transport for long trips, but it is also a nice family activity.

Cross Country Skiing

– Grand and Easily Accessible

Good quality characterizes the ski tracks at Geilo and Hol Municipality. The ski tracks are prepared by expert grooming-machine drivers every day.

You can follow the live ski-track updates over when the different ski tracks were last groomed at www.skisporet.no

Hallingskarvet lies majestically and guards over everywhere and everyone. Around the mountain are miles and miles of inviting ski tracks. Let the peacefulness and nature envelope you.

Several of the cross country tracks are tied to the Norwegian Tourist Association's (DNT) marked tracks on the Hardangervidda and Skarvheimen area. In addition, there is a 5-km lighted track at the Geilohallen sports arena. The tracks around the Ustedalsfjorden lake is made for families with children, with information boards about nature and culture in the area.

Geilo is known for its many cozy dining offers in the mountains. Others again demand a little longer trip. Common for all of them is that you can come in and warm yourselves while you enjoy something hot in a cup and real home-baked goods. Read more about our food-service cabins on page 102.

The ski trip doesn't have to be very long, as a short trip can be just as nice. The terrain under many of the short trips is slightly hilly and fun, without long and exhausting uphill tracks.

The ski-track map can be obtained at the tourist information office and at most of the accommodations providers. If you need to rent equipment, you can do this at one of the ski rentals. Here you can also receive help in waxing your skis so that the equipment doesn't hinder your trip out on the plains.

HALLINGDAL

Tag your cross country ski pictures:
#hallingspor.

Hallingdal can offer more than 2000 km of Cross Country Tracks!

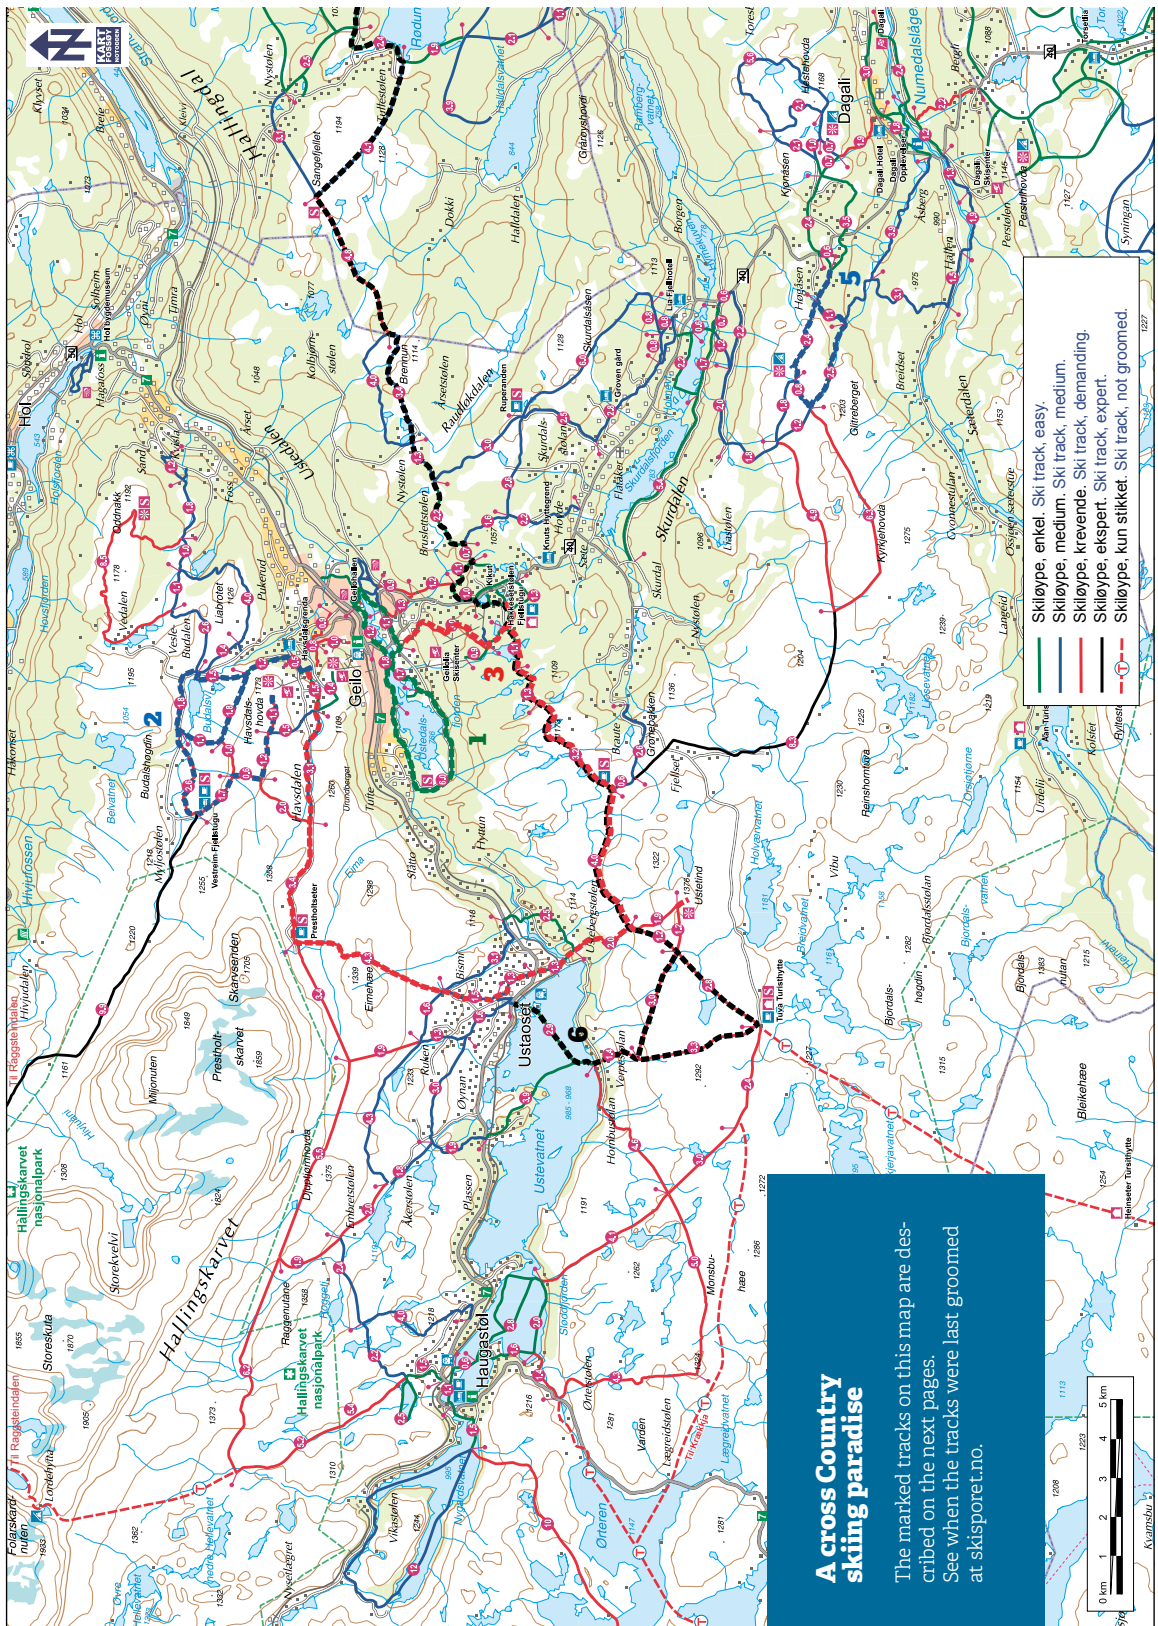

Hallingdal is one of Europe's best cross country regions; and Hol Municipality, and especially Geilo, wish to deliver world class cross country tracks. Around Geilo center, you will find tracks that go through wooded terrain and high mountains. At Geilo ski stadium there is a floodlit track. Geilo has several food service cabins in conjunction with the track network. The map shows all the ski tracks in Hallingdal, and highlighted longer skitraks; the Hallingdal track South from Ustaoset or Kikut to Norefjell and the Hallingdal track North from Myrland to Gol.

Welcome to the mountains!

Winter Joy for Everyone

For groups and company events, Geilo has several good event providers that deliver everything you need.

Contact us at post@geilo.no, and we will put you in touch.

Have you had enough of ski slopes, or are most happy without skis on your feet, as we Norwegians are reported to be born with? Geilo has lots of other fun and exciting things to offer. You just have to decide what you prefer.

Dive into one of Geilo's sledding hills, try fatbike cycling on snow, or drive your own dogsled over glistening white plains. If you like motor action, you can try snowmobiling or drive on an ice track with rally cars.

What about a kicksled or snowshoe trip? Both can be rented at the Tourist Information Office. Guided snowshoe trips can also be organized.

When the evening descends upon Geilo, there isn't anything nicer than going on a sleigh ride. Snuggle under warm pelts and enjoy the experience and the view. If you would like even more of horse activities, you can go horseback riding in the winter woods.

These are the experiences that can give you great joy by just sitting and reading a good book. Or perhaps charge your batteries with a spa experience that gives you energy for a hectic schedule.

Kicksled WC is arranged at Geilo every year. A fun competition for children and grown ups. Lots of play and a little serious.

Classes for costume and "trim". In addition there is a costume class for children.

Hol Ysteri (Hol Cheesery)

You can also find their products at Spar Geilo, Matkrok'n Geilo, at the farmers market in Oslo, Drammen, and Kongsberg.

The cheesery is located 3,5 kilometers away from Hagafoss. Take route 50 from Hagafoss and turn on to Ålmannvegen/ Nerolsgutu in the center of Hol.

Visit the cheesery and local food store in Hol. The burned, rustic planking, local foods, sheepskins and the big table makes a welcoming feel. The windows inside gives a view into the cheesery and the cheese storage room, where the delicious cheese slowly matures.

In the store there is a heavy larch table made out of a 130 year old tree from Ål Prestegård vicary. Here you can sit down and enjoy a cup of coffee and an oat biscuit with their tasty white or brown goat cheese.

Hol Cheesery is a family business run by Reidar and Kjersti Stenberg with family, they are 3rd and 4th generation cheese makers. In addition to making Prestholt goat cheese at Prestholt 1242 msl they built their cheesery in Hol. Here they make the excellent Leirgrøvd white goat cheese. While their brown goat cheese is made at their summer mountain farm Prestholt 1242 msl. since 1990. In addition they sell goat meat (kid meat), pekepølse, which is a kind of cured sausage or salami, and the exciting FjellGodt (Mountain Candy) chocolates. You will find their products in their store.

Prestholt brown goat cheese won gold in the National Championship of local made dairy products in 2015 and gold in the National Championship for Farm cheese in 2016. Cheesemaking requires patience, even though making the cheese does not take too long you will not know the result until it is 3 months stored, and then you can taste it, but it should be stored at least 6 months before it is ready for sale.

With Hol Cheesery and Prestholt goat cheese, the Stenberg family have taken an important part of the national cultural heritage and summer mountain farming, which earlier was an important part of the selv-sufficiency in Norway, and made it into a living. The family develops new products and are planning a kitchen in their store, which will give them the opportunity to produce other products for sale.

They are cooperating with other local food producers and in their store you can find products from Rueslåtten Cheesery; different types of cheese made out of cow milk. You can purchase meat from old norwegian Spel-sheep from Berghheim. A cooperation of cheese making with the summer mountain farms Hamarsbøen and Gurostølen that makes white cheese. You can also find other local food products from other places in Hallingdal, Numedal and more.

Code of Conduct for Being a Good Host

Based on our work to become a more sustainable destination, Visit Geilo has compiled 10 «sustainability commandments»/code of conduct that we hope will inspire both employees and members of our organization. As an employee and/or member of VISIT GEILO, we urge you to be:

V You shall do your utmost to be a good host for all visitors to our municipality. To be knowledgeable and well-informed is one of many duties for a host. It is permitted to communicate with a twinkle in your eye.

I Keep up to date with what is happening, so that you can inform those who inquire. It is a shared responsibility that everyone is fully knowledgeable at all times.

S Be proud of your surroundings, what you have created, or what you are a part of in everyday life. Show pride for what you are proud, and tell the world.

I Be an inspiration to those around you, and be inspired by all that the others do for the common good. Inspiration can come from the smallest thing, and result in it becoming really big.

T Be perceived as credible. Familiarity and knowledge is often perceived as credible. Be yourself, and take responsibility for those around you. It will help you to cultivate strength.

G Do more of the things that make you happy, and do even more of what you think can make others happy.

E Show enthusiasm, and practice to inspire and engage others around you. Everyday life is meaningful with commitment from and to other people.

I Talk with people and listen to what they have to say. Take seriously what people are wondering about, and include others in what you do. To feel included is both good and safe.

L Be loyal to those whom you need and to those who wish you well. Buy what you need at your local store. Make use of those who are loyal to the common good, and common challenges.

O Think outside of the box, as this often is right on target. Finding solutions to challenges is both fun and extremely useful for those who need a solution there and then.

Epostavisen

Epostavisen was already online in 1999, and has had an increasing number of readers, despite relatively small resources. The newspaper has always had links and source references to other news posts as a base for its operations. Self-produced articles come mainly from the areas around Hol Municipality. Links cover the whole of Hallingdal.

Hallingdølen

The Hallingdølen newspaper, established in Ål in 1936, is the largest dialect newspaper in Eastern Norway. In 2013, the newspaper was named the best local newspaper in Europe. Hallingdølen, today, is a modern and professional local newspaper, which is new-thinking regarding internet newspapers, video-journalism, and has several legs on which to stand. Hallingdølen is also responsible for Hal-lingbillett.no, and is a contributor to society by telling the small stories just as much as the big and difficult. The newspaper is for sale in most grocery stores in Geilo and Hallingdal. Enjoy yourself.

Radio Hallingdal

Radio Hallingdal was established in 1985 as Hol village radio and Halling radio, which merged in 1993. Radio Hallingdal is one of Norway's oldest local radio stations. The studio for Radio Hallingdal is located in Hol center, and the main broadcasts are on Friday evenings; but there are broadcasts every day, and not least is radio bingo every Wednesday evening at 20:00. Volunteer work has been a decisive and important foundation at Radio Hallingdal. This becomes visible via the Easter broadcasts, where over 60 people participate. We appreciate feedback about our programming, and appreciate tips regarding stories that the station can follow up.
