★ SUGAR LAND HISTORY

Sugar Land's vibrant history is peppered with influences from Native Americans, the Spaniards, Mexican immigrants and American pioneers. In 1823, Stephen F. Austin received a charter to settle 300 American families in Texas. The fertile land of Fort Bend County was included in Austin's charter and would eventually set the stage for Sugar Land's rich agricultural heritage.

Sugar became the primary industry and, in 1908, an old sugarcane refinery was purchased and renamed Imperial Sugar.

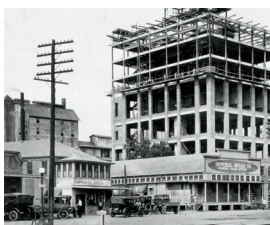

The Imperial Sugar Company would go on to develop the town, modernizing the refinery and building houses for its employees and their families. This economic foothold increased Sugar Land's population from fewer than 2,000 people in the early 1900s to nearly 85,000 today.

Since its incorporation as a city in 1959, Sugar Land's residents happily reside in master-planned communities with lush parks, recreational amenities, dynamic shopping and first-class medical facilities. What's more, the city has been recognized as one of America's Best Places to Live and continually ranked as one of America's safest cities.

Visit SLHeritage.org for more information regarding the history of Sugar Land.
