

Communications Specialist, International & Trade

Tourism Vancouver has the best jobs in the city because we are powered by people and we are seeking a Communications Specialist, International & Trade to join our award-winning team.

The Communications Specialist, International & Trade, works as part of the Marketing team to promote Vancouver as a premiere leisure and business travel destination through strategic media relations and PR. The Specialist reports to the Manager, Communications, and works primarily with media and influencers from designated regions including pitching stories, sharing information and/or coordinating visits.

Vancouver is a place that connects people and inspires them to live with passion. If you live, breath and share Vancouver and have one to two years of experience in a similar role and are a dynamic, creative and enthusiastic leader, focused on building relationships and possess the commitment and drive to make a significant contribution to the Metro Vancouver tourism industry, we invite you to apply for exciting position.

Please submit your cover letter and resume to careers@tourismvancouver.com by:
Friday, September 14, 2018

Tourism Vancouver is committed to fostering an environment that is diverse and inclusive of people from all backgrounds, passions and interests.