Welcome to CodeNode – London's premier venue for tech events

Spacious, vibrant and with fantastic meetup, conference, training and collaboration spaces, CodeNode offers a range of flexible packages for your event from small groups up to 300 attendees.

And we're doing it in style

Featuring a 3,000 sq ft break-out and club area and bar, complemented by eight lecture rooms to accommodate both intimate gatherings and large conferences, Code Node will play host to thousands of tech events each year.

Just leave it to us

The Skills Matter team has been organising high calibre tech events for more than 10 years and we're proud of the reputation we've built in that time. Whether you are organising a meetup, hackathon, (un)conference, training course, product launch or meeting, every event we organise is tailor-made and priced to suit your individual requirements. No event is too small or too complicated, and we love a challenge!

To arrange a tour of CodeNode and see how it will work for you, please call the Space & Events Team on +44 (0) 207 183 9040.

CODENODE

We'll shout loud about your event

Skills Matter is a highly social and innovative tech publishing and events company, powered by a 60,000 strong developer community. We'll help you gain significant visibility for your event by providing the following services as standard when you hire any of our spaces:
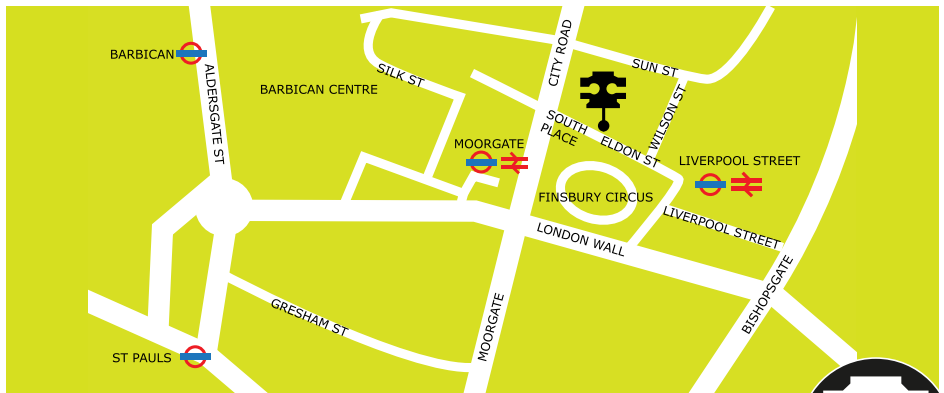

- Page set-up of your event online with social media outreach
- In-house display of A5-sized promotional literature within the designated areas at CodeNode (subject to quality approval.)

How can we help?

We'd love to find out how we can help make your event fantastic. Please get in touch today so that our experienced event team can start working with you to make it happen.
