

A photograph of Barack and Michelle Obama sitting closely together in a train car. Barack is on the left, wearing a light blue shirt and a red patterned tie, with his eyes closed and a slight smile. Michelle is on the right, wearing a beige coat over a dark top, with her hand resting on his shoulder. They are both looking down at a newspaper or magazine on a table in the foreground. The background shows the interior of a train car with large windows and wooden paneling.
