

A high-contrast, black and white photograph of a person diving into water. The diver is in mid-air, with arms extended forward, just above a massive, turbulent splash of water. The water is captured in a way that shows individual droplets and air bubbles, creating a sense of intense movement and impact. The background is dark, making the white water splash stand out prominently.

Maylis de
Kerangal

Suhrkamp

Die
Lebenden
reparieren
Roman