

The background of the cover is a classical landscape painting. It depicts a park with a river or canal on the right. A line of tall, slender trees runs along the left bank. In the foreground, a man in a red coat and hat stands on the left, leaning on a cane. A group of people, including a man in a blue coat and a woman in a red dress, are gathered near a stone statue on a pedestal in the center. The sky is a pale, hazy blue.
