

The book cover features a vibrant red background. At the top, three black flowers are arranged horizontally, each with a white eye in its center. Below these, two black stone towers with crenellated tops stand on either side of a central white rectangular frame. The frame contains the title and author information. In the lower half, a black and white illustration of a woman's face is shown in profile, looking upwards. She wears a black crown and a large, black, ruffled collar. Her right hand is raised, holding a black skull. The entire composition is framed by thin, curved black lines.

»DIE GANZE WELT
IST EINE BÜHNE«

Shakespeare neu erzählt

INSEL-BÜCHEREI