

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 16, 2023 8:00 AM - 5:30 PM

Location: UCLA CNSI Auditorium

Cost: FREE

Ages 12-17

The LadyLike Foundation is a faith-based non-profit 501c3 organization whose purpose is to educate, empower, and inspirey oung ladies living in underprivilegedc ommunities. Through cuttinge dge research programs,w orkshops,m entorships, community servicep rojects and visual/performing arts young women ages 12 Đ18a re challenged to reacht heirh ighestp otential and become thes uccessful well-rounded LADY they were created to be.

In the past, our Male/Female Panel has consisted of Jordin Sparks, Zendaya, Earvin Magic Johnson, Anthony Anderson, Dante Whitfield, Devon Franklin, Marcellus Wiley, Chris Spencer, Cedric the Entertainer, Jamie Foxx, Boris Kodjoe, Willie McGinist, Denzel Whitaker, Cookie Johnson, Tina Knowles Lawson, and Holly Robinson Peete. Marilyn Booker of Morgan Stanley facilitated the panel.

LADYLIKE DAY at UCLA is a program of classes that promote and educate inner city young ladies ages 12-18 in areas of

- STEM
- FINANCIAL LITERACY
- COLLEGE PREP
- LADYLIKE 101
- HEALTH AND WELLNESS
- FASHION, MAKE-UP, & HAIR CARE
- CELEBRITY PANEL

... and so much more!

Over 300 girls from all over Los Angeles, San Fernando Valley, and Orange County attend this Free event. It is important that teen girls attend this event because it gives them the tools and guidance not only to be successful in their current lives but also in their future endeavors. In addition, being on the campus of UCLA broadens the vision of these young girls by giving them something to admire and aspire to one day attend and become a part of.

PAST & PRESENT PARTNERS & SUPPORTERS

Aids Health Foundation, CPK, Beauty Blender, Mixed Chicks, UCLA School of Engineering, Xerox, Hallmark Channel, Chick-Fil-A.

UCLA Engineering

HENRY SAMUELI SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING AND APPLIED SCIENCE

