

SLONK

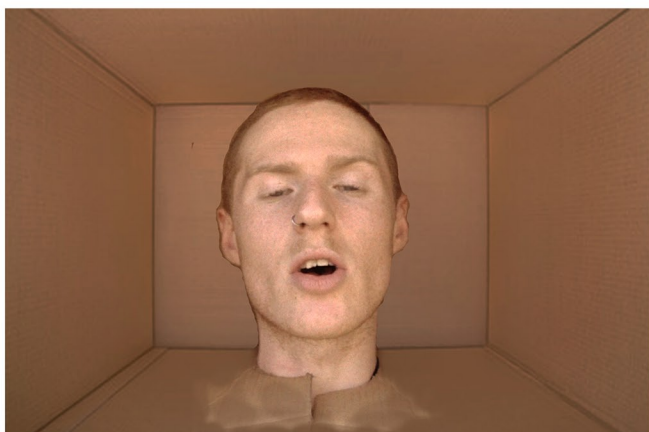

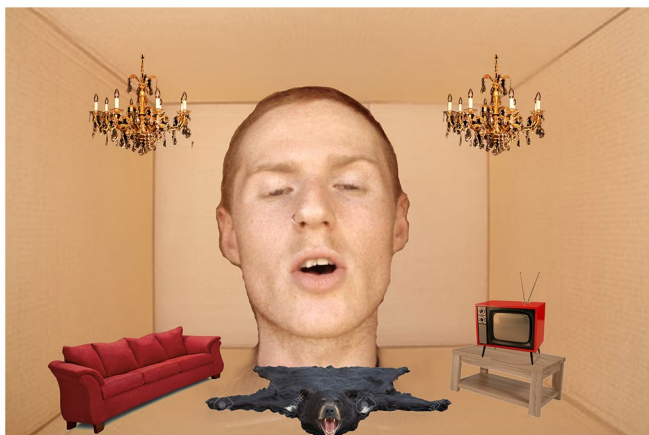

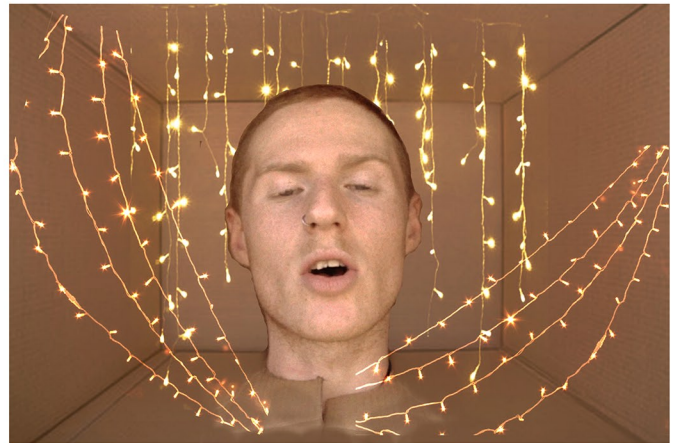

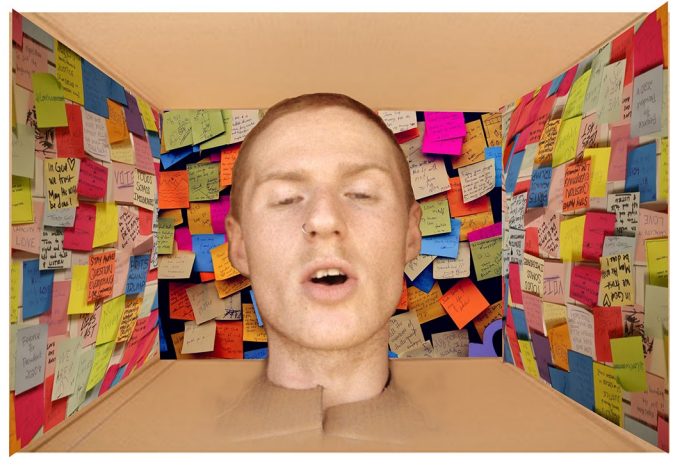

HOLIDAYS

Joe's head inside 3/4
different cardboard box
sets that fit over his head.

“Tell me what I'm supposed to do and think”

Literally stuck inside
routine.

Literally thinking
'outside the box'

Unable to escape
his 'head.'
Looking for a way
out.

“I spend the bulk of my
free time pining,
wishing and worrying”

POP-OUT BOOKS + COLLAGES

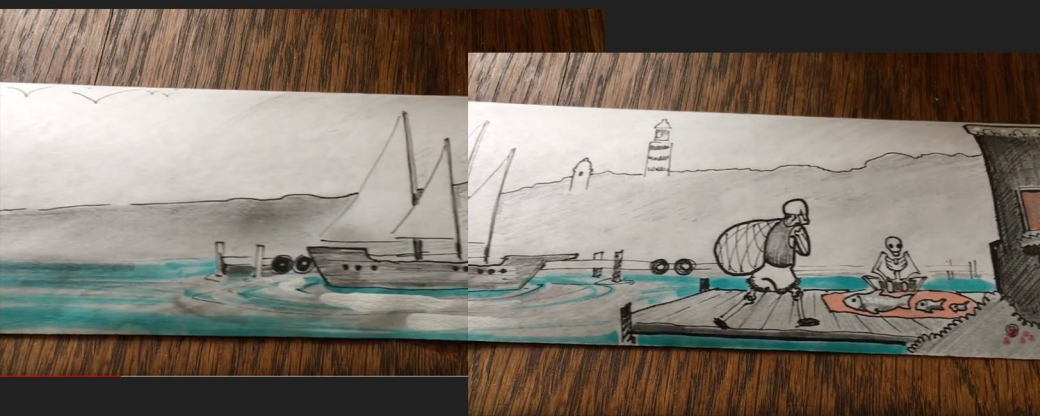

BOX IMAGERY

"home crowd"

"I have allegiances to characters I am now too old to be"

ROLLING LYRICS OR PHRASES ACROSS THE FRAME

cagework / slonk

S L O N K

HOLIDAYS

INSPIRED BY ALBUM ARTWORK

S L O N K

losing my mind on the outside of everything

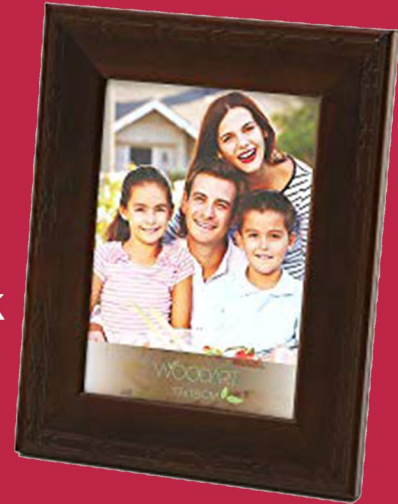

Utter Lou / Tin foil

following 3 different characters as they undergo searching for their own forms of escapism satirising the feeling of forgetting what your house looks like the photo on your office desk of you and your family but with some random person in it that isn't you

the awkward 'water cooler' conversation

"Reluctant small talk with a friend you were once much closer with; Reluctant small talk with a colleague you feel you know too much about"

i want one of them to sprint a white flag in slow motion across the millennium square fountain.

