Grace walks through the house to the kitchen, getting a glass of water. She walks back through the living room.

MR COLEMAN
You must be Grace.

Grace jumps at the noise, She turns to see Mr Coleman sitting in an armchair, a cane resting against said chair. He has a bible open on in his hands.

GRACE
Sorry to interrupt, sir.

Grace looking at the bible.

Mr Coleman places the bible's ribbon on the page before closing it.

MR COLEMAN
It is no trouble, I couldn't find what I was looking for.

Beat

Did you have a good night?

GRACE
Yes, I've never danced that much before.

MR COLEMAN
Good, you should be dancing every night away. Having fun.

A solemn look takes over his face.

MR COLEMAN
Anyway, you should get some sleep.

GRACE
Goodnight, sir.

MR COLEMAN
You can call us Henry and Sarah.

Grace walks out of the room.
