I work as an trainee at Link-Up workshop since 2006 and I write all kinds of stuff including stories and ideas for television.

I am a singer and songwriter myself as well. I've recorded demo recordings with James Eddings and Graeme Rawson and recently released an album of my favourite cover songs and two originals that I have co-written with Eddings.

I live in Reading in Berkshire in the UK and I have been living there for two decades.

I've been singing songs since I was little and writing songs since I was 16.

I wrote and recorded two songs 'How Wonderful You Are' and 'Love Don't Change Your Mind' with my now deceased friend and collaborator James Eddings in Swindon in June 2006.

James was a good man and he played in Heatwave among others.

In addition to that we wrote 'How Wonderful You Are' and a few songs but we never got around to finishing them.

My heart broke when he died suddenly aged in his 50's five years ago. I was completely devastated by the loss.

Since then I've been working with Graeme Rawson in 2016 and recently I've been releasing an album of my favourite songs last year but my voice needs to be in the right shape.

It also contains two originals that I have co-written with my now deceased friend and collaborator James Eddings and they are 'How Wonderful You Are' and 'Love Don't Change Your Mind'.

I've been working with my singing teacher and she and I have a wonderful working relationship which it lasts to this day.

We have a new album project for 2023 and it goes like this:

We suggest a forthcoming long-awaited super deluxe star-studded eclectic music related studio album of brand new songs and it's expected to be performed by the all singing super group of selected mixed famous young boy/girl singing celebrities – actors who can sing, solo artists and group members – from the UK who were born in the 1980's and the 1990's in solos, duets, trios, quartets, quintets etc. would be nice.

It's for the charity.

We have enclosed the wish list of many stars who can sing so that you can look at it if you are interested.

It's in the works for a long time and now we are finally telling you it's nearly approaching.

This album will be called "Remember Us" with a closing title track.

It's expected to feature very special guest appearances by well-known and famous musicians etc.

This project's sessions with overdubs is expected to begin early next year and this will be done entirely in United Kingdom and United States.

Producers and Songwriters will be announced at the later date.

This album will be released on Friday 3rd November 2023 in time for Christmas on all physical and digital outlets worldwide in the shops and on streaming services like Apple Music, Spotify etc.

Each CD will run for much longer.

There will be one-time one-off one night only concert date with no opening support acts at all on soon yet to be announced venue anywhere in London in the UK.

But before that they are expected to release the first single on Friday 18th August 2023.

Five chosen singles from the album will be released completely on music shops.

The budget for an album and one-time one-off one night only concert with no opening support acts at all needs to be raised.

All proceeds of this album will go to Great Ormond Street Hospital Children's Charity, Comic Relief, BBC Children In Need and Simon John AIDS Foundation.
