Personal statement

My passion for telling stories is only matched by my passion for hearing them. Having gone to culinary school in Europe during my teenage years, I have developed a desire to make with gusto, flare and integrity. My sheer will often empowers my creative ambitions. I am never one to let my team fall by the wayside, instead, aiming to give them a warm hand back up to the road ahead. I strive to make films that are reflective of the beauty of simplicity, honesty and heart. Though I will always use my organisation and communication talents for producing films of all shapes and sizes. Cheering the whole production on as I do so.
