

Mark Hunt

Filmmaker - Editor - Photographer

I am thrilled to share with you my passion for film and photography. Combining my creative eye with technical expertise, my goal is to capture captivating moments that tell compelling stories.

I pride myself on my ability to bring out the authentic and emotive aspects of every subject. Through careful composition, lighting and post-production techniques, I strive to create visual narratives that leave a lasting impression.

As an experienced professional in the industry, I know that the key to capturing stunning images lies in establishing a strong foundation built on trust, allowing creativity to flourish.

Photographing models requires more than technical expertise and an eye for composition. It demands a genuine connection and mutual respect between the photographer and the model.
