SUMMARY

I am a hard working, focussed individual with a passion and a determination to succeed within the audio post production industry. My passions lie within audio production for Film and TV but the skills I have gained throughout my time in university and work experience are certainly applicable to a wider scope within the modern audio production industry.

The experience I have gained already has ensured I understand the importance of project time management along with communication within team environments to ensure that the end goal is met as efficiently and to the highest standard possible.

I also have over four years of customer service experience and general administration experience. I excel with new challenges and projects and I am a determined, creative worker who is proficient with problem solving. I thrive in team environments and work well under pressure. I consider myself to be a versatile and driven individual who works hard to contribute my absolute best to the working environment.
